Hunter College

Hunter College, the second oldest college in The City University of New York, is a coeducational, fully accredited college, with a large and diverse faculty in the liberal arts and sciences and in several professional schools. In most of its programs the College offers both undergraduate and graduate degrees.

Originally called Normal College, the school was founded in 1870 by Thomas Hunter to educate young women who wished to be teachers. Its growth to its present size and complexity was gradual. The institution took its present name in 1914. Evening classes were begun in 1917. Graduate studies were introduced in 1921 for both men and women, and in 1964 the entire College became coeducational.

Hunter's total enrollment is over 19,500. Of these about 8,000 are full-time undergraduates. An additional 7,000 part-time students are divided between degree and non-degree programs. Over 4,000 graduate students are studying in arts and sciences and teacher education programs and at the Schools of Social Work, Health Sciences, and Nursing.

The City University of New York, bringing together all the City's senior and community colleges, was formed in 1961. CUNY is governed by the Board of Trustees, which sets the general policies and rules the operation of the separate colleges. Within this common framework, each college selects its own faculty and constructs its own programs in accordance with its particular educational aims and its understanding of the way these can best be achieved with its own students.

Hunter College and the Aims of Education

A liberal education should help men and women to bring a rich and informed sense of the possibilities of humanity to their careers, to their public responsibilities, and to their personal lives. This goal is basic to Hunter's educational philosophy.

Hunter offers training in both the sciences and the humanities, and schooling in a number of professional fields. As they work toward their career goals, students are expected to reach a broader understanding of the place of their chosen fields of study and work in the wider realms of knowledge and of society. The Hunter College Senate has articulated this goal in a recent policy statement:

"While preparation for specific careers is actively encouraged in many programs," the Senate statement declares, "the fundamental aim of the college experience as a whole is to develop a student's rational, critical, and creative powers. Such development involves the abilities to conceptualize and analyze, to relate the concrete and particular to the abstract and general, and to think and write logically and coherently. It also includes a broadening and deepening of outlook: an awareness of one's own and other cultures as well as the enduring questions — and answers — concerning being, purpose, and value that have already confronted humanity. And it encourages the heightening of aesthetic sensibility and intellectual imagination. Finally, the educational experience at Hunter is intended to inspire a zest for continued learning as well as to bring the recognition that learning is pleasurable and knowledge is useful."
The Academic Program

The undergraduate programs lead to the degrees of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of fine arts, and bachelor of music. Each program of study provides students with skills to attain competence in a specialized field as well as a foundation of general knowledge. The fields of concentration may be chosen from the general areas of the fine arts, the humanities, the language arts, the sciences, the social sciences, and the applied arts and sciences. The Hunter—Bellevue School of Nursing and the School of Health Sciences, among the nation's largest schools educating health-related professionals, offer both undergraduate and graduate programs.

The Evening Session serves students pursuing an undergraduate degree primarily but not exclusively after 5 pm. Full-time or part-time, such students seek class hours that do not conflict with employment and family responsibilities. An associate dean ensures that student services and academic programs meet the needs of these students. Non-degree students in the evening session are those who, because they already have a degree or for other reasons, are taking courses but do not intend to pursue a degree program.

Graduate students may matriculate for any one of the master's degree programs in the arts and sciences, education, the School of Health Sciences, the School of Nursing, and the School of Social Work. In addition, the graduate program in teacher education includes courses leading to post-master's certificates in several different areas. Details of the graduate programs are available in the offices of the divisional and school deans of each area, as well as in the Wexler Library.

The International English Language Institute offers courses in English as a second language to foreign students from all over the world. Classes are held in the morning, afternoon, evening, and on Saturdays. Full-time and part-time programs are available on beginning through advanced levels. Students who successfully complete the Institute's most advanced level are not required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) for admission to undergraduate programs at Hunter. The IELI phone number is (212) 772-4290.

The Hunter College Elementary School (nursery, kindergarten, and grades 1–6) and The Hunter College High School (grades 7–12), both coeducational, serve as demonstration schools and research facilities for the teacher education program.

ACCREDITATION

Hunter is fully accredited by The Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York, The Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the National Council of Accreditation of Teacher Education, and the Council on Social Work Education. In addition, Hunter has been included in the lists of approved colleges by the American Chemical Society, the American Dietetics Association, the National League for Nursing, and the New York State Board of Certified Public Accountant Examiners.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association of Hunter College—composed of 70,000 women and men graduates of the College—has been in continuous existence since 1872. Membership is automatic upon graduation from any of the degree programs offered by the College.

The association serves as the link between the College and its graduates through activities such as the Fall Homecoming, the Spring Luncheon, career counseling conferences for students, and the Annual Meeting, and through At Hunter. It selects and honors members of the Hunter Hall of Fame from among distinguished graduates nominated by alumni. On its own and through its membership on the Committee for Public Higher Education, it stands in the forefront of the battle to obtain adequate funding for the College.

The Scholarship and Welfare Fund of the Alumni Association administers the Hunter Fund as well as funds for 4 different categories of financial awards to needy students of high academic standing. These awards are detailed on p. 16 under "College Programs." In 1989-1990, more than $500,000 was awarded from this fund, which was established and incorporated by a small group of alumnae in 1949. In addition, through The Hunter Fund, the Scholarship and Welfare Fund also enriches instructional resources not provided for in the public budget.
Admissions

Office of Admissions
Hunter College
695 Park Avenue
New York, NY 10021
(212) 772-4490

Students may apply for admission to the College for either degree status (matriculation) or non-degree status (non-matriculation). Application fees are non-refundable.

DEGREE STATUS (MATRICULATION)

A matriculated student is one who has met all requirements for admission and who has been formally admitted to a degree program. A matriculated student may register as either part-time (fewer than 12 credits) or full-time (12 or more credits) and may earn a bachelor's degree upon completion of all degree requirements.

NON-DEGREE STATUS (NON-MATRICULATION)

Students who are not interested in earning a degree but wish to enroll in courses relating to special interests, career advancement, preparation for graduate school, etc., may be admitted as non-degree students.

ADMISSION WITH DEGREE STATUS

Applications for degree status fall into one of 4 categories—Freshman, Transfer (Advanced Standing), Readmission, and Non-degree to Degree. Applications may be obtained in the Office of Admissions, Hunter College North Building, Room 203 or by calling 772-4490.

1. Freshman

   Applications for this status are processed by the University Application Processing Center (UAPC), PO. Box 136, Bay Station, Brooklyn, NY 11235-9006; (212) 947-4800. An application fee of $30.00, in the form of a check or money order payable to UAPC, is required of all applicants.

2. Transfer (Advanced Standing)

   Applications for this status are processed by the University Application Processing Center (UAPC), PO. Box 639, Bay Station, Brooklyn, NY 11235-9006; (212) 947-4800. An application fee of $30.00, in the form of a check or money order payable to UAPC, is required of all applicants.

3. Readmission

   Applications for this status are available in the Registrar's Office, Hunter College North Building, Room 217. A readmission fee of $10.00 in the form of a check or money order payable to Hunter College, is required of all degree applicants.

4. Non-degree to Degree

   Students wishing to have their status changed from non-degree to degree (with the exception of students who have completed secondary and/or post-secondary work in another country and students who want to apply to programs in the Schools of Health Sciences or Nursing) are processed directly by the Hunter College Admissions Office, 695 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10021; (212) 772-4490. A readmission fee of $10.00, in the form of a check or money order, payable to Hunter College, is required of all applicants.

Students applying to a program in the Schools of Health Science or Nursing as well as students educated abroad file a transfer (advanced standing) application.

I. Freshman Admission

Students who wish to apply to Hunter College must have graduated from high school with at least an 80% average or place in the top one-third of their class or have a total (verbal and math) score of at least 900 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Applicants who do not hold a high school diploma must have achieved a GED score of 270. SAT scores and rank in class are considered for currently enrolled high school seniors only.

Students whose City University freshman applications are completed on or before October 15 for spring admission or January 15 for fall admission will be considered for all programs offered. Applications completed after these dates will be processed on a space-available basis depending upon the program selected.

 Those interested in programs within the School of Nursing or the School of Health Sciences should refer to the sections devoted to these schools. These programs do not admit students as freshmen. Applicants for freshman admission should apply for the pre-nursing or pre-health sciences programs.

 Students who have enrolled in a college or university after graduating from high school must file a transfer application.

Special Admission Programs for Freshmen

Early Admission

Students with superior high school records may apply for admission to the College upon completion of the third year of high school. An interview with the Admissions Committee is required, as well as a high school average of at least 90%, minimum SAT scores of 600 verbal and 600 math, and 3 high school recommendations. Students are admitted only in the fall semester. Applications must be filed directly with Hunter's Admissions Office before April 1.

SEEK Program

(Seek for Education, Elevation, and Knowledge), a program of City University of New York, helps economically and educationally disadvantaged students who do not meet the standard admission criteria by providing them with intensive academic services. A stipend for educational expenses is awarded to those students who exhibit an extreme need as determined by the CUNY needs analysis. (See p. 14 for additional information.)

II. Transfer (Advanced Standing) and Non-degree to Degree Admission

Students applying for admission after having attended another regionally accredited college or university or Hunter (as a non-degree student) must meet the following minimum criteria (with the exception of the School of Nursing and the School of Health Sciences):

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of Credits Earned (i.e. credits completed at time of application)</th>
<th>Admission Requirement</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0 – 13.9</td>
<td>High School academic average of at least 80% or GED of 270 and a cumulative college grade point average of at least 2.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14 – 23.9</td>
<td>High School academic average of at least 80% and a cumulative college grade point of at least 2.0 or A cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5 regardless of high school academic average</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>24 or more credits</td>
<td>A cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Non-degree students who have attended Hunter College as well as those currently enrolled must have a minimum grade point average of 2.0 in their Hunter course work.

Deadline for Filing Transfer (Advanced Standing)

Transfer and Non-degree to Degree Applications

Students whose City University transfer applications are completed on or before November 1 for spring admission or March 15 for fall admission will be considered for all programs offered. Applications completed after these dates will be processed on a space-available basis depending upon the program selected. Students filing a Hunter College non-degree to degree application must do so on or before December 1 for spring admission or July 1 for fall admission.

Admission to Health Sciences and Nursing

All students who wish to be considered for admission to programs in the schools of Health Sciences and Nursing, including those previously enrolled at Hunter, must file a transfer application. Students currently enrolled at Hunter as degree students should consult the Admissions Office for the appropriate application.

School of Health Sciences

The requirements for consideration for admission to programs in the School of Health Sciences are as follows:

Community Health Education  Completion of 60 credits; minimum GPA of 2.5; one semester of biology with lab.

Medical Laboratory Sciences  Completion of 60 credits; minimum GPA of 2.5; one year of general chemistry with lab; one year of biology with lab.

Nutrition and Food Science  Completion of 60 credits; minimum GPA of 2.5; and of the following 3 prerequisites: one semester of general chemistry with lab, one semester of organic chemistry with lab, one semester of biology with lab.

Physical Therapy  Completion of 64 credits; minimum GPA of 2.8; 2 semesters of biology with lab; 2 semesters of physics with lab; 2 semesters of chemistry with lab; 2 semesters of psychology; one semester of college-level mathematics (no more than one semester of any of the above may be completed during the summer preceding entrance). Applicants must present documented evidence of exposure to the profession through 100 hours of either volunteer work or paid employment. A personal interview is required. Applicants should contact the program by calling (212) 481-4469 between November 1 and February 1 to schedule an interview and to receive a clinical experience form. The form must be completed and returned to the program by March 15. Students enter this program in the fall only.

Note: The physical therapy program is highly competitive. Approximately one out of every 8 applicants are admitted each year. The student's grade point average, completion of prerequisite courses, number and type of college credits earned, quality of clinical experience, and interview results are all carefully considered in making admission decisions. Neither a high grade point average nor any other single attribute guarantees admission.

School of Nursing

The nursing program has 2 pathways: the Generic Pathway, for students without an RN license, and the RN Pathway, for those who have completed a nursing program and have, or are about to receive, a license to practice professional nursing in New York State. Both pathways are upper-division programs (students are admitted only upon completion of 64 college credits). Freshmen or those with fewer than 64 credits may apply to pre-nursing and must re-apply to the School of Nursing after completing 64 credits and all admission requirements listed below.

Applicants to both pathways must have a minimum overall GPA of 2.5. However, the minimum GPA is variable and is determined by the academic strength of the applicant pool. All applicants, except those who hold a U.S.-accredited baccalaureate degree, are required to pass the Hunter College skills assessment tests in reading, writing, and mathematics before the beginning of their first semester.

Generic Pathway Program  Applicants must have completed 64 college credits (including credits in progress), including the following prerequisites: 2 semesters of human anatomy and physiology, and one semester each of microbiology, general chemistry with lab, organic chemistry with lab, expository writing, and psychology. A minimum grade of "C" must be attained in the aforementioned science courses. The Generic Pathway Program admits students in the fall semester only. Students must attend during the day on a full-time basis.

RN Pathway Program  Applicants must have completed 40 credits of liberal arts and sciences (including credits in progress) at an accredited college plus the equivalent of 24 credits in nursing. In order to validate knowledge of nursing, all students must take and pass the Regents College Examinations (RCE) in adult nursing, maternal and child nursing, and psychiatric/mental health nursing before the end of their first semester. (For more information about the RCEs, contact the State Education Department in Albany, NY; (518) 473-6857.) All applicants must be licensed to practice professional nursing in New York State before the beginning of their first semester. A one-semester extension is granted for recent graduates of associate degree programs. The RN Pathway Program admits students in both the fall and spring semesters. RN Pathway students may attend during the day or evening on a full- or part-time basis.

III. Degree Readmission

Undergraduate students who have not been in attendance for one or more semesters and did not receive a degree from the College must apply for readmission. However, there is no need to apply for readmission if you received an official withdrawal ("W" grade) for the semester prior to the one in which you would like to return. Students with a grade point average of 2.0 or higher who have no stops on their record are approved for readmission. The Office of Student Services or the Department of Academic Skills (for SEEK students) must review all records of students with GPAs below 2.0. Students are encouraged to file their applications for readmission at least 3 months in advance of the printed deadline. Deadlines for readmission are December 1 for spring, May 1 for summer and July 1 for fall admission. The current "Schedule of Classes" should be consulted for changes in readmission policy.

SEEK students who have not been in attendance for 4 or more semesters and/or have been in the program for 10 semesters will not be readmitted to SEEK. Students with more than 60 credits who do not wish to return to SEEK must receive a release from the director of the SEEK program.

International Degree Applicants

International applicants are expected to have a firm command of the English language before they apply. No provisional admission is offered whereby a student may come to the university and spend a semester or a year learning English.

Applicants whose native language is not English and who hold a temporary visa are required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and to achieve a score of at least 500 on the examination. The TOEFL is administered several times during the year. Information about TOEFL may be obtained by writing to: Test of English as a Foreign Language, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, NJ 08540, USA.

Applicants are responsible for the payment of all tuition fees at the time of registration. Because no financial assistance is available to international students, they must be in a position to finance the cost of their education and living expenses (estimated at $13,000 to $15,000 per year).

If the applicant plans to enter or remain in the US on a student visa (F-1), it will be necessary to complete a Certification of Finances form and provide documented proof of financial support confirming that he or she has the funds necessary to cover all College tuition and personal expenses. This form and documentation are required in order to obtain the I-20 AB Certificate of Eligibility.

Overseas applicants who are interested in attending Hunter College are advised not to come to the US on a B-2 Visitor's Visa. Unless prearranged through the American consul (and unless the visa is marked "prospective student"), the B-2 Visitor's Visa will not be changed to the F-1 student visa once the applicant enters the US.

The I-20 AB form (required by the US Immigration Office) is issued only to students who have been accepted as full-time matriculants.

Hunter College does not make housing arrangements for students; it is essential that students be prepared to make their own housing arrangements upon arrival.

ADMISSION WITH NON-DEGREE AND PERMIT STATUS

General Rules for Non-degree Admission

All students wishing to enroll at Hunter as non-degree students must file applications directly with the Hunter Admissions Office. Non-degree students may register for any course for which space is available at the time of registration, provided they have met the prerequisites, and have taken and passed applicable placement tests.

Non-degree students are required to demonstrate basic levels of competence in reading, writing and mathematics through proficiency testing prior to registration. These tests determine whether or not a student is prepared for courses in the college curriculum, and do not guarantee placement in specific courses. Students who do not comply with the testing requirements will find access to courses severely limited. (Baccalaureate degree holders from regionally accredited U.S. institutions and senior citizens are exempt from testing, provided proof is submitted along with their application.)

Credits earned as a non-degree student are generally transferable into a degree program at Hunter or other accredited colleges. Applications for all categories of non-degree students must be filed by May 15 for fall semester, November 1 for spring semester, and May 1 for summer term.

A non-degree admission fee of $30.00 will be charged at the student's first registration. Verification of at least a high school diploma must be submitted, along with the non-degree application. See the back of the non-degree application for further information.

High School Seniors

High school students may register as non-degree students while continuing their high school studies with the written approval of their high school principal.

Non-degree Readmission

Undergraduate students who have not been in attendance for one or more semesters must apply for readmission. However, there is no need to apply for readmission if you received an official withdrawal ("W" grade) for the semester prior to the one in which you would like to return. Students with a grade point average of 2.0 or higher who have no stops on their record are approved for readmission. The Office of Student Services must review all records of students with GPAs below 2.0. Students are encouraged to file their applications for readmission in advance of the printed deadline in order to allow enough time for processing. Deadlines for readmission are December 1 for spring, May 1 for summer and July 1 for fall admission. The readmission fee of $10.00 will be charged at registration.

Permit Students from CUNY Colleges

Students matriculated at another unit of CUNY must complete the CUNY Permit Application with the Registrar of their home college. They must then file the approved permit with the Hunter College Registrar's Office.

CREDIT FOR COLLEGE-LEVEL WORK

Credit Earned at Other Institutions (Transfer Credit)

Coursework taken at other institutions is evaluated after the student is matriculated at Hunter. The Evaluation Unit of the Admissions Office, which determines whether and how much credit is granted, mails evaluations directly to the student. (For students who have studied abroad see below.)

Credits Eligible for Transfer Generally, all college-level liberal arts courses taken at an accredited institution in which the student earned a grade of C or better (D or better for colleges within the City University) are accepted for credit up to the maximum allowed.

Note that although grades in courses taken at other institutions are considered in making admissions and transfer-credit decisions; they are not entered on the student's Hunter College record nor are they computed in the student's cumulative grade point average at Hunter. However, all credits and grades earned at Hunter College while in a non-degree status will be credited toward the degree and calculated in the cumulative grade point average.

Courses taken at institutions not accredited by one of the regional accrediting associations are not usually transferable; the student should consult the department concerned for further information.

Number of Credits Transferable The maximum total number of credits that may be transferred from all other accredited institutions to Hunter College is 95. There is a 75-credit limit on the number of credits that may be transferred from 2-year institutions.

All candidates for a degree at Hunter must take a minimum of 30 credits as a degree student at the College, including at least half the credits needed for the major and half required for the minor; in the case of an interdepartmental field, half of the total credits required must be taken at Hunter.

Student Reporting Requirements Students must list all institutions attended on the admissions application and submit official transcripts. Failure to do so will result in denial of transfer credit for courses taken at schools not listed and referral to the Admissions Review Committee for reconsideration of eligibility for admission status.

The student is responsible for submitting updated transcripts for coursework that was in progress at the time the student filed an application within one year of the date of admission to Hunter College. Updated official transcripts should be sent to the Evaluation Unit of the Admissions Office.

Courses Taken Abroad Coursework taken in other countries is evaluated for transfer-credit decisions after the student has been... admitted and has registered for the first semester at Hunter. The International Student Advisor in the Office of Student Services makes the evaluation. Applicants for transfer credit should submit catalogues or detailed descriptions of post-secondary-level courses taken to facilitate transfer decisions.

College Credit Earned While In High School

Students who have completed college-level courses at an accredited institution while still in high school must submit an official transcript from the college where the courses were taken. Students should have this transcript sent to the Hunter College Admissions Office, Evaluations Unit, North Building room 203.

Other Ways to Earn Credit Toward a Degree

For each of the following, the student must take the initiative in advance by obtaining written approval from the appropriate department at Hunter to ascertain that credit will be granted. Students unable to attend classes at Hunter might take advantage of some of these alternatives. Two words of caution: A maximum of 24 credits may be earned by examination. To earn a Hunter College degree, the distribution requirement must be met, and at least 30 credits of Hunter coursework, including half the major and half the minor, must be taken at Hunter.

Courses at Other Accredited Institutions

Students taking courses at other accredited institutions while still in attendance at Hunter may transfer course credits to Hunter provided they have obtained a permit from the Office of the Registrar. Note: Hunter students may not take courses on permit during their final semester prior to graduation.

Independent Learning by Achievement Contract (ILBAC)

This interdisciplinary program offers students who have earned at least 30 college credits with a minimum GPA of 3.2 an opportunity to design an individualized part of their curriculum. Students must select a faculty committee and design a written contract that outlines the proposed work, a plan for progress reports, a method for evaluating the work, and the number of credits to be earned. The project may entail an oral presentation, written paper, artistic performance, laboratory experiment, public lecture, or research. Students must plan the project and gain the approval of the semester prior to registration. Interested students may obtain further information from the Office of Student Services.

College Entrance Examination Board Advanced Placement Tests

Students who have had a college-level course in secondary school and who pass the Advanced Placement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board with grades of 5 or 4 (high honors or honors) are exempt from taking a corresponding course or equivalent requirement at Hunter. Those who are similarly prepared but whose score is 3 (creditable) may also be exempt from a corresponding course at Hunter, provided the appropriate Hunter department so recommends.

College-level Examination Program (CLEP)

Hunter College participates in the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). Up to 24 credits may be earned through outside examination. Names of CLEP subject examinations honored at Hunter and minimum scores needed for credit are available in the Office of Student Services.

Regents College Examination (RCE)

Students who have taken the Regents College Examinations (RCE) must set up an interview with an advisor from the department concerned if they wish credit. Awarding of credit is solely up to the individual department.

Departmental Examinations

Some departments give examinations in a course for which student and department advisor believe the student has adequate preparation. Passing these examinations may not always grant credit, but it does permit the student to go directly into more advanced study or excuse a student from a required course.

Independent-study Courses

Most Hunter departments have independent-study courses for their majors and especially qualified students. Enrollment in such courses always requires prior departmental approval. The student does not always have to be on campus while completing the work.

Graduation-in-Absentia

Students within 15 credits of graduation who have completed the distribution requirement and the major and minor requirements and have demonstrated minimum proficiency may apply for graduation-in-absentia if they must leave the City before completing their studies. They may attend an accredited college in the United States or abroad. The Graduate Audit Division of the Registrar's Office has further information. Students who must leave before these criteria are met should apply for transfer to another college.

Financial Aid

The Office of Financial Aid (North Building room 241) administers federal, state and city grant, loan, and work-study programs to assist students who need financial help to attend college. Applications for most programs, as well as information regarding specific application procedures, eligibility requirements, methods of selecting recipients and allocating awards, award schedules, and rights and responsibilities of recipients, may be obtained from the Financial Aid Office.

The following applications are available from the Financial Aid Office:

1. Pell Grant.
2. Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) for matriculated New York State residents attending full-time.

Note: All tuition charges and fees listed in College publications are subject to change without prior notice.
3. Aid for Part-Time Study (APTS).
4. CUNY application for Federal and State Student Aid (AFSSA), which is the application that must be completed in order to be considered for:
   a. College Work-Study
   b. Carl D. Perkins Loan
   c. Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant
   d. SEEK
   e. Guaranteed Student Loan (GSL)*
   f. Hunter Fund*
   g. Scholarship and Welfare Fund*
   h. Charlotte Newcombe Award.*
5. Mayor's Scholarship Program.

FEDERAL GRANT AND WORK PROGRAMS

Federal grant programs give undergraduate students an opportunity to receive "free money" while attending college. Federal work programs, instead, enable the student to "learn and earn" while attending college.

Pell Grants
The Pell Grant Program is an entitlement program that provides funds to undergraduates who are pursuing a first undergraduate degree and who need assistance as determined by federal need analysis. Scholastic accomplishment has no bearing on initial eligibility, although the student must make satisfactory progress to maintain eligibility. Recipients must be enrolled on at least a half-time basis.

Awards at CUNY currently range from $100 to $2,010. They cannot exceed 60% of the total cost of attendance as defined by the Pell Grant Program. The deadline for filing for the Pell Grant is May 1 of the following year (e.g., for the 1990-91 academic year, the filing deadline would be May 1, 1991).

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program (SEOG)
The SEOG is designed to assist needy students. It does not require repayment. To be eligible the student must be in financial need, enrolled as an undergraduate, and willing to accept self-help aid (College Work Study, Perkins Loan). Awards at Hunter range from $200 to $800 depending upon funding.

College Work Study Program (CWS)
Through this program, students earn part of their college costs and are given an opportunity to broaden their educational experience on and off campus by participating in many aspects of academic and community life. To encourage employers to use this program, the Federal Government pays up to 80% of the student's wages.

Federal Aid to Native Americans
To be eligible, the student must be at least one-fourth American Indian, Eskimo, or Aleut; be an enrolled member of a tribe, band, or group on record with the Bureau of Indian Affairs; be a matriculated degree student; and demonstrate financial need. Students must maintain a satisfactory academic record. For further information, contact the U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Federal Building Room 523, 100 South Clinton Street, Syracuse, NY 13202.

New G.I. Bill for Reservists
This bill provides for the pursuit of post-secondary education at institutions approved by the Veterans Administration (VA). Students receive $140 per month for full-time enrollment (12 or more credits per semester); $105 per month for three-quarters-time enrollment (8 credits per semester); and $70 per month for half-time enrollment (6 credits per semester). For information on eligibility and applications, contact the VA.

NEW YORK STATE AND CITY PROGRAMS

The state programs described here are designed to assist students with tuition costs. To be eligible you must be a state resident (i.e., you must have lived in New York State for 12 months prior to the first day of classes) and your family's net taxable income must be within the range set by the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation.

Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) and Supplemental Tuition Assistance Program (STAP)
To apply for TAP you must be a US citizen or permanent resident, a legal resident of New York State for at least a year, and a matriculated full-time student (carrying at least 12 credits or the equivalent).

The amount of a TAP award depends upon your family's size and net taxable income, which is defined as the combined income of the applicant, the applicant's parents, and the applicant's spouse, as reported in New York State income tax returns for the previous year. Undergraduate students who are financially dependent upon their parents or who are financially independent of their parents and are married or have tax dependents may be eligible for TAP if their parents' net taxable income is less than $34,251; undergraduates who are financially independent may be eligible if their net taxable income is less than $10,001. The maximum TAP award to an undergraduate at Hunter is the full cost of tuition.

The deadline for filing TAP applications is May 1 of the following year (e.g., for the academic year 1990-91, the deadline would be May 1, 1991).

Academic Qualifications for TAP New rules require students who receive their first TAP award during or after the fall 1981 semester to meet academic guidelines in order to keep their TAP awards. These academic guidelines are broken down into 2 areas: (1) program pursuit; (2) rate of progress.

Program Pursuit: This portion of the guidelines requires all students to complete a certain number of courses each semester. A grade of W (Withdrawal) or a grade of WU (Unofficial Withdrawal) is defined as a grade for a course which has not been completed.

Students receiving a first or second semester TAP award must complete at least 50% of a full-time load (6 equated credits) or the equivalent to receive a TAP award for the following semester. Students who fail to complete at least 6 equated credits or the equivalent may not receive their next TAP payment.

Students receiving a third or fourth semester TAP award must complete at least 75% of a full-time load (9 equated credits) or the equivalent to receive a TAP award for the following semester. Students who fail to complete at least 9 equated credits may not receive their next TAP payment.

From the fifth TAP payment on, students must complete a full-time load (12 equated credits) in order to receive their next TAP payment.

Rate of Progress: Students must follow both Rate of Progress and Program Pursuit rules in order to receive a TAP award for the next semester. "Rate of Progress" states that for each TAP award
Students must file a TAP application, a Pell Grant application, and a VVTA Supplement application with the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation each year. The applicant must also submit a copy of the DD214 or she received upon discharge from the service. Applications are available at the College Financial Aid Office.

Army Reserve National Guard-Army Continuing Education System (ARNG-ACES)
The New York State Army Reserve National Guard offers tuition assistance through 2 programs for full- and part-time students. All current and future members of the New York Army Reserve National Guard (ARNG) are eligible except for members serving on Active or Full-Time Duty and those on Active Guard Reserve status. ARNG members who also receive veterans benefits are not eligible. For full-time students, the program is limited to tuition costs, instructional fees in lieu of tuition, and laboratory or shop fees specifically required as a condition of enrollment in a course. Part-time students must be enrolled half-time (7 or fewer credits).

Commissioned officers must agree to remain in the ARNG for 4 years after the last course for which tuition assistance has been provided is completed. For more information on these programs, contact Tom Labuda, Civilian Education Office, at (518) 786-4973 or 4500.

State Aid to Native Americans
State Aid to Native Americans is an entitlement program. There is neither a qualifying examination nor a limited number of awards. The student must be a member of one of the several Native American tribes located on reservations within New York State; be a matriculated student; and demonstrate financial need. The awards are $1,100 per year for a maximum of 4 years of full-time study. Students registered for fewer than 12 credit hours per semester will be funded at approximately $46 per credit hour. Awards are not provided for study in remedial programs. For an application contact the Native American Education Unit, New York State Education Department, Albany, NY 12234.

Empire State Challenger Scholarships for Teachers
These awards are designed to attract students to elementary and secondary school teaching. Only students majoring in an approved field may apply; atHunter, the approved fields for which a BA may be earned are sciences, mathematics, and foreign languages. Recipients must agree to teach one academic year for every 2 years of awards received. The service obligation is met by teaching at least 3 periods of an approved subject per day in a public or private elementary or secondary school in New York State. Recipients must begin teaching within 16 months of completion of their professional program. Award recipients who fail to meet the teaching requirement are obliged to repay the grant; see details on the application.

Twenty-six undergraduate awards are made each year to legal residents of each of the 12 New York State judicial districts, based on a separate competition in each district. Winners receive up to $3,000 a year for tuition and fees for up to 4 years of full-time undergraduate study. Students who have already completed a portion of their undergraduate education may compete if they are enrolled no later than their junior year in an approved program leading to teacher certification. Awards are made on the basis of such factors as academic performance, the number of teaching vacancies within the fields allowed, and the time it will take before the recipient can begin the teaching obligation. Persons who are underrepresented in the various teaching fields are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants must have been legal residents of New York State for at least one year and must maintain legal residence in New York State.
Regents Award for Children of Deceased or Disabled Veterans

Regents awards to children of deceased or disabled veterans who were or are residents of New York State are awarded regardless of family income or tuition charge and are given in addition to other grants or awards to which the applicant may be entitled. The amount of the award is $450 a year. Information on eligibility and a special application may be obtained from a student's high school or from the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation, Tower Building, Empire State Plaza, Albany, NY 12235; (518) 474-5642. Students must also file a TAP application.

Regents Award to Children of Deceased Police Officers or Firefighters

Regents awards to children of deceased police officers or firefighters who were or are residents of New York State are awarded regardless of family income or tuition charge and are given in addition to other grants or awards to which the applicant may be entitled. The amount of the award is $450 a year. Information on eligibility and a special application may be obtained from the student's high school or from the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation, Tower Building, Empire State Plaza, Albany, NY 12235; (518) 474-5642. Students must also file a TAP application.

Regents Nursing Scholarship

Regents Nursing Scholarships are awarded competitively for full-time study in New York State in an undergraduate program in a college or in a hospital school approved for training registered professional nurses.

The basis of the award is the Scholastic Achievement Test or American College Testing Program score. A total of 500 awards are allocated annually by county.

The applicant must have been a legal resident of New York State for at least one year immediately preceding the effective data of the awards; be in attendance in a high school at the time of the examination; be either graduated from high school by the end of the school year in which the examination was taken or accepted as a full-time matriculated student by September of that year; and not previously have competed for a Regents Scholarship. The amount of the award is $250 per year. Further information and application forms may be obtained from a student's high school.

Recipients must reapply each year via a TAP application by October 31.

Mayor's Scholarship Program

This scholarship is administered by the New York Urban League, ASPIRA of New York, Inc., and the Admission Referral and Information Center (ARIC). Applications are available from the College Financial Aid Office or at 500 8th Avenue, Room 412, New York, NY 10018. Awards may be granted only to full-time matriculated students who live in designated community development areas in New York City and who are eligible for the maximum Pell Grant award. The Mayor's Scholarship will be considered part of the student's financial aid package and may not exceed the student's budgeted need.

LOAN PROGRAMS

Student loan programs offer an ideal way for students or parents to borrow money for tuition, room and board, books, transportation, and personal expenses. With college costs rising, a student loan can often make the difference in meeting a student's full educational costs.
Carl D. Perkins Loan (Formerly the National Direct Student Loan)

The Perkins Loan is a low-interest (5%) loan which is made through the college financial aid office. The student may borrow up to $3,000 per academic year. The award range at Hunter is from $300 to $1,700. If the loan was obtained before July 1, 1987, the student must begin repayment within 6 months of graduating, leaving school, or dropping below 6 credits. If the loan was obtained after July 1, 1987, the student need not start to repay it until 9 months after graduating or leaving the College. Students who received their loans before July 1, 1987 and repaid them in full before July 1, 1987, will be treated as first-time borrowers if they reapply. The maximum repayment period is 10 years. Application is made with the CSAF.

Guaranteed Student Loan (GSL) Stafford

The Stafford loan is a low-interest (8%) for first-time borrowers loan program. The student must also pay a 5% origination fee and, in New York State, an insurance fee of .25% of the amount borrowed for each year that the student will be in school, plus 6 months. Loan repayment begins 6 months after the student graduates, withdraws from school, or drops below 6 credits. For first-time borrowers after July 1, 1988, the interest will remain at 8% through the fourth year of repayment and increase to 10% beginning in the fifth year of repayment.

The applicant must be a US citizen or permanent resident, enrolled in or admitted as a matriculated degree student registered for at least half-time (6 credits or more per semester), not be in default on a prior GSL or NDSL loan, and not owe money on any federal aid program.

First and second year students may borrow up to $2,625; third and fourth year students may borrow up to $4,000. As of October 17, 1988, all students must file a CUNY AFSSA, which will generate an FC to determine eligibility.

The following new deferments are available for borrowers who take out loans for periods of enrollment beginning on or after July 1, 1987:
- up to 3 years for service in the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Corps.
- up to 3 years for service as a teacher in elementary or secondary schools in teacher shortage areas.
- an increase from one year to 2 years for unemployment.
- up to 6 months for parental leave.
- up to 12 months for mothers with preschool children entering or reentering the workforce making less than one dollar more than the minimum wage.

Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

PLUS enables either the natural or adoptive parents of dependent undergraduate students to borrow $4,000 per child for each academic year for a total of $20,000 to help cover the cost of post-secondary education. The student must be enrolled in or admitted to an accepted degree program. For any loans disbursed on or after July 1, 1987, the interest rate is variable, tied to the US Treasury Bill (e.g., the rate for July 1, 1987 to June 30, 1988 is 10.27%). There is also an insurance fee of 1% of the amount borrowed. The bank may reduce the loan check by the amount of the fee. Repayment of the loan must begin 60 days after the date funds are disbursed. Borrowers have 10 years to repay.

If the parent fails to repay the loan, the student will become ineligible for a Guaranteed Student Loan.

Applications may be obtained from participating New York State lenders.

Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS)

SLS has replaced the Auxiliary Loans to Assist Students (ALAS) Program. All graduate, professional, and independent undergraduate matriculated students are eligible. Annual limits are $4,000 per year to a total of $20,000. Students must file a GSL application obtained from a participating New York State lender. The interest rate is calculated as for the PLUS loan.

Consolidation Loan

A student may consolidate his or her loans (Perkins, GSL, and SLS) if the minimum debt is at least $5,000, the student is in the grace period or is repaying all loans, loans are not over 90 days delinquent, and no other application for a Consolidation Loan is pending. The interest rate is either 8% or the weighted coverage of the interest rates of all the loans, whichever is greater. The applicant may have up to 25 years to repay depending upon the amount of the Consolidation Loan. Applications are available from participating New York State lenders.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

Special Program funds are designed for students who need academic and financial support in order to complete college.

Search for Education, Elevation, and Knowledge (SEEK)

The SEEK Program provides financial aid and support services (concentrated counseling, remedial instruction, tutoring) to educationally and economically disadvantaged students attending a senior or technical college. Applicants must be residents of New York State; have received a New York State high school diploma or equivalency; be ineligible for admission under normal standards, but demonstrate potential for completing a college program; and meet family income guidelines as defined by the State.

Students apply for entry to the SEEK program through CUNY Admissions. Students must file a CUNY (AFSSA) to have their eligibility checked.

TITLE IV FINANCIAL AID RULES

The City University of New York has developed new regulations, to conform to United States Department of Education regulations, which require all students to make satisfactory academic progress to continue receiving their Title IV financial aid. The types of financial aid covered under these regulations are:

1. Pell Grants.
2. Guaranteed Student Loans (GSL).
3. College Work-Study (CWS).
4. Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG).
5. Perkins Loan.

The following regulations began in the spring 1984 semester. Please read them carefully.

Full-Time Equivalent Year

One full-time equivalent year is equal to a student enrolled for 12 real credits for 2 semesters.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Example 1</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fall</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spring</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The calculation of the full-time equivalent year is based on the real credits a student takes each semester. In example 1, the student would receive 2 full-time Pell awards and use up one full-time equivalent year.

Remediation and the Full-Time Equivalent Year

Students who are required to take remedial or developmental courses are not hurt under the full-time equivalent year concept. This is because only the real credits count toward the full-time equivalent year calculations. Look at Example 2 below.

Example 2

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Real Credits</th>
<th>Real Crs &amp; Excess Remedial Crs.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fall</td>
<td>9 crs</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spring</td>
<td>9 crs</td>
<td>15 hrs</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>18 crs</td>
<td>30 hrs</td>
</tr>
</table>

The student will receive 2 full-time payments based on the full-time combination of credits and hours. However, since the student is taking less than 12 real credits each semester, the student does not use up a full-time equivalent year. To figure how much of a full-time equivalent year is used, each semester is treated separately below.

<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Real Credits</th>
<th>Real Crs &amp; Excess Remedial Crs.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

<td>9 crs</td>
<td>0.375 FTEY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>18 crs</td>
<td>0.750 FTEY</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This student would use less than one full-time equivalent year during the first year and would not be subject to Title IV satisfactory progress standards for the first 2 years of college.

Part-Time Study and the Full-Time Equivalent Year

Part-time students have their use of the full-time equivalent years figured out in a way similar to remedial students. Table 1 below gives the conversion for part-time semesters into full-time equivalent years.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

</tbody>
</table>

Example 3 below describes how the full-time equivalent year would be calculated for a half-time student.

<table>

<td>6 crs</td>
<td>0.2500 FTEY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>12 crs</td>
<td>0.5000 FTEY</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The student in the above example would receive 2 half-time Pell awards and use up one-half of a full-time equivalent year.

Part-Time Study/Remediation and the Full-Time Equivalent Year

Part-time students who require remediation are not penalized by the full-time equivalent year. Example 4 below gives a possible program for a part-time student requiring remediation.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>Real Credits</th>
<th>Real Crs &amp; Excess Remedial Crs.</th>

<td>6 hrs 0.1250 FTEY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>6 crs</td>
<td>12 hrs 0.2500 FTEY</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The student involved in the above example would receive 2 half-time Pell Awards. The student, however, would only use one-quarter of a full-time equivalent year.

Length of Eligibility

Students are eligible for a total of 7 full-time equivalent years of Pell and other Title IV financial assistance. The number of awards a student receives is based on the number of semesters it takes to enroll for 7 full-time equivalent years of credits.*

Title IV Satisfactory Progress and Conditional Provisional Eligibility Status

Satisfactory progress for Title IV financial assistance means that students must pass a certain number of real credits for each full-time equivalent year of Title IV aid received (see Table II below).

Table II

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Eligibility Status</th>
<th>Satisfactory Progress</th>
<th>Conditional/ Provisional</th>

<td>126</td>
</tr>
</table>

Eligibility for each academic year will be checked at the end of each spring semester. Students will be eligible/ ineligible for an entire academic year. Students may keep their Title IV financial assistance by meeting either satisfactory progress or conditional/provisional progress standards. Examples 5 and 6 below indicate 2 cases of how the standards will be used.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

<td>15 crs</td>
<td>0.5000 FTEY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>51 crs</td>
<td>0.8750 FTEY</td>
</tr>

The student's eligibility will be checked after 4 semesters at the College or at the end of the second spring semester. Since the student used less than 2 full-time equivalent years of Title IV financial assistance, the student only needs to have earned 18 real credits to be making satisfactory progress. Even if the student has less than 18 real credits earned, the student will be eligible for the next year of Title IV financial assistance under the conditional/provisional status.

* Not counting remedial hours.

After 6 semesters this student would have used up 3 full-time equivalent years of Title IV financial assistance. In order to qualify under satisfactory progress, a student needs to have earned 54 real credits (75%). In order to qualify under conditional/provisional status, a student needs to have earned 42 real credits (58.3%).

Important Facts About Eligibility

1. Full-time equivalent years are calculated on a semester-by-semester basis. For example: A student who takes 6 credits in the fall semester and 18 credits in the spring semester for a total of 24 credits does not use up a full-time equivalent year. Rather, the student uses one-quarter of a full-time equivalent year in the fall and one-half of a full-time equivalent year in the spring. Even though the student took 24 real credits, the student has only used up three-quarters of a full-time equivalent year.

2. Full-time students gain an edge by registering for more than 12 credits each semester. If a student registers for more than 12 credits during a semester, it still counts as only one-half of a full-time equivalent year.

3. Students requiring remediation gain an edge by taking all their remediation during the first semester and limiting their enrollment to 12 or 15 hours (see example 1).

4. Eligibility is determined at the end of each spring semester for the following fall and spring semesters. Students are eligible/ineligible for an entire academic year.

5. Students may regain eligibility by earning the credits they are missing to attain at least conditional/provisional status.

6. The Title IV regulations have nothing to do with the Tuition Assistance Program regulations.

Appeals

Students who fail to meet these conditions of good standing and satisfactory progress and thus are deemed ineligible to participate in Title IV awards programs will have the right of appeal through the usual academic appeals procedure of the College. The appeals procedure may make exceptions as circumstances warrant; documentation regarding the granting of appeals must be maintained by the appropriate College office.

COLLEGE PROGRAMS

Scholarship and Welfare Fund Grant (S&W)

To be eligible, a student must have filed a CUNY AFSSA and exhibit a financial need based on this application. Applicants are recommended to the Scholarship and Welfare Fund of the Alumni Association of Hunter College, Inc., by the Office of the Vice-President for Student Affairs and the Financial Aid Office, and grants are given on the basis of need and academic promise. A separate S&W application is required. It is obtained from the Financial Aid Office. Grants range from $400 to $1,000 annually. Students must maintain a 2.8 GPA to be eligible for this grant.

Hunter College Scholarship Program (S&W)

The Hunter College Scholarship Program offers a variety of awards to high school seniors who have maintained a high level of academic achievement during high school and have demonstrated a potential for superior scholarship. These awards are independent of any financial assistance a student may receive from other sources and are made possible through alumni donations to the Scholarship and Welfare Fund of our Alumni Association. Applicants must be US citizens or permanent residents to be eligible. Awards are made to students who are admitted in the fall semester only.

Students must enroll for 12 or more credits per semester to maintain eligibility for these awards. The student's scholastic achievement will be reviewed each year in order to determine continued eligibility. Interested students may apply for the program through the Admissions Office or through their College advisor.

Scholars Award The Scholars Award is for $1,500 a year granted for a maximum of 4 years. To be considered, a student must have achieved a 90% or better on combined SAT score of 1200. This competitive award is based on interview, essay, and recommendations. A select number of Scholar Award recipients are also eligible for a dormitory award.

Merit Award The Merit Award is for $800 a year granted for a maximum of 4 years. To be considered, a student must have achieved an 85% or better on combined SAT score of 1000.

Graduating Senior Scholarships (S&W)

Graduating Hunter College seniors are eligible to apply to the Scholarship and Welfare Fund for special awards to assist them in meeting the cost of continuing their education on the graduate level.

The Hunter Fund

The Hunter Fund was established to help middle-income families meet the cost of education. The fund is administered through the Scholarship and Welfare Fund. Students must file a CUNY AFSSA and maintain a 2.5 GPA.

The Charlotte Newcombe Award

This award is made possible by a private foundation and is designed to assist the mature woman student, who is at least halfway through the completion of her degree, in pursuing higher education. Awards vary according to academic promise and financial need. Applications are available in the Office of Student Services. Student must file a CUNY AFSSA.

Scholarships, Prizes, and Awards

Over the years, generous alumni and friends of the College have created endowments and other funds to support scholarships, prizes, and awards for meritorious and needy students of the College. Most of these are administered by the Scholarship and Welfare Fund of the Alumni Association of Hunter College, a not-for-profit group established for this purpose in 1949.

Belle Zeller Scholarship Program

This program was created by the Professional Staff Congress—CUNY in 1980 to honor Belle Zeller, its first president, for her contribution to scholarship, to higher education, and to faculty unionism. This CUNY-wide annual competition is open to all full-time registered students who have completed 16 credits with an overall GPA of 3.75 at a CUNY college. (Graduating seniors are not eligible.) Three letters of recommendation attesting to academic performance and service to the College and/or community are required. Renewable up to 3 years, scholarships of $1000 are awarded entirely on the basis of merit. Applications are available in the Office of Student Services in late October—early December.

Emergency Loan Policy

The emergency loan program was established to assist students with an immediate problem concerning essential needs, such as carfare and lunch, occurring during the school day. The program makes provision for emergency loans only as a substitute for financial aid checks not available on distribution dates because of College error. Emergency loans cannot be given unless the student has a viable method of repayment, such as stipends or expected loans, excluding NYSHESC (New York State Higher Education Services Corporation) processed through the Student Financial Aid Payroll System. All loans must be repaid within 2 months from the date of issuance. All students receiving loans must sign a Power of Attorney. Emergency loans cannot be given for the following purposes:

1. Transportation other than to and from school and/or work and home. Long-distance traveling expenses will not be considered for any situation.
2. Cars and related expenses, gifts, vacations.
3. Payment of accumulated bills, e.g., charge accounts, medical, utilities, rent, etc.
4. Security fees and real estate fees for apartments.
5. Payment of fees and/or tuition.
6. Graduate school application and test fees.

Counselors in the Financial Aid Office will help students with such expenses look for viable alternatives. Additional information is available in the Financial Aid Office.

This program is funded, in part, by a bequest from Sara Feldmesser, Class of 1918.

Program of Study
(For a complete listing of all departmental and interdepartmental degree programs, see page 41.)

The Bachelor of Arts (BA) encompasses the study of science, humanities and the arts, and the social sciences. It prepares students for positions in profit, non-profit, and government organizations, or for graduate programs. Liberal arts programs seek to provide a broad knowledge of the principles and themes involved in the study of the sciences, social sciences, humanities and arts. At Hunter there is a choice of 36 major fields and 10 interdepartmental fields leading to the BA degree.

The Bachelor of Science (BS) provides training for a particular career and is therefore considered a professional degree. Hunter offers BS degrees in 10 fields.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) is a program concentrating in art for highly qualified students. This program is described in detail in the section devoted to the Art Department.
The Bachelor of Music (BMus) is a program designed for students who intend to perform professionally or to teach the performance of music. This program is described in detail in the section devoted to the Music Department.

The Bachelor of Arts/Master of Arts (BA/MA) programs are designed for highly qualified students in particular areas of study and enable full-time students to complete both the BA and MA degrees in 4 years.

The Bachelor of Arts/Master of Science (BA/MS) in Sociology and Social Research requires 5 years of full-time study. Interested students should see the department advisor at the earliest possible date.

The CUNY (City University of New York) Baccalaureate degree is a university-wide program. This degree, awarded by CUNY rather than by a specific undergraduate CUNY college, may be a BS or BA degree and is intended for students who have well-formulated individual academic and career goals. Students who are accepted work out their programs with a faculty committee of their choice which is willing to support the student's plan of study. Students pursue their studies at one or more colleges in CUNY, according to their interests. Students must complete at least 15 but not more than 90 credits to be considered for admission to this program. Further information can be obtained from the CUNY/BA advisor in the Office of Student Services.

COMPONENTS OF HUNTER BACHELOR'S DEGREES

The program of study for an undergraduate degree at Hunter consists of 3 parts totaling 125 credits for the BA and BFA and 125-131 credits for the BS:

1. A distribution requirement of liberal arts courses (approximately 41-55 credits for a BA, 44-55 credits for a BS).

2. A concentration of in-depth study: 2 chosen subjects, the major and the minor, for the BA or one subject of specialization or professional study for the BS (approximately 36 credits for the BA and 60 for the BS). See page 25.

3. Electives or options: courses freely chosen by the student, provided the prerequisites are met, to complete the total for the degree being sought (125 credits for BA and 125-131 for BS). See page 25.

Other requirements are:

Minimum proficiency in reading, written English, and mathematics (See page 25): a minimum GPA of 2.0 in the major and in all courses.

1. THE DISTRIBUTION REQUIREMENT

In addition to English composition, the distribution requirement for the BA and BFA degrees includes required courses in science, mathematics, foreign language, literature, humanities, social science, and physical education. The BS degree typically has a large requirement in science/mathematics and either no requirement or an optional requirement in foreign language.

Only one course, English expository writing (ENGL 120), must be passed by every student. An equivalent may be presented. See "Category II English Composition" on the chart on p. 23 for complete details.

Through meeting the distribution requirement, many students eventually find their majors. Those who have an idea of their choice of a major should read the department's statement to see whether any particular subjects in the distribution requirement are suggested as advantageous for that major.

Students should generally complete the distribution requirement before going on to their major and minor. The following students, however, should begin their major/minor courses and distribution requirement concurrently: (1) majors in departments that have sequential courses—especially mathematics, science, and foreign language, (2) minors in early childhood/elementary education, and (3) candidates for the BFA and BS degree programs.

Choice of a Foreign Language. All students in the BA or BFA degree programs are required to meet a level of proficiency in a foreign language. The BS degree in accounting has a minimal requirement. All other BS degrees have a choice of either foreign language or additional credits in literature.

Students who change from a BS to the BA program must meet the foreign language requirement for the BA degree. Some students in BS programs elect to take foreign language as part of their liberal arts requirement and are thus prepared for either degree.

Those who plan graduate study at the doctoral level should inquire about foreign language requirements and prepare for these in their undergraduate study.

DISTRIBUTION REQUIREMENT

Regulations

1. Courses used to satisfy the requirements for a major cannot be used to satisfy the distribution requirement. Foreign language majors should refer to the major departments for specific distribution requirements. Correlative requirements for the major may be credited to the distribution requirement.

2. No more than 2 courses per department or program may be applied to satisfy the distribution requirement. Exceptions to this are ENGL 120, which is required of all students, and the foreign language requirement.

3. A course may be applied to satisfy the requirements in only 1 category of the distribution requirement.

4. Students who have demonstrated mastery of lower-level course material, to the satisfaction of the chair of the department involved or his/her designee, will be permitted to apply more advanced courses to fulfill the distribution requirement.

Note: A minimum of 1 course including laboratory with an ANTHP, BIOL, CHEM, PGEOG, GEOL, PHYS, or SCI prefix is required. Category I may not be fulfilled exclusively by courses in mathematical and/or computer sciences.

CATEGOR Y II

English Composition (3 credits)

ENGL 120 OR EQUIVALENT: All students required to take ENGL 120 (or its equivalent) must do so no later than the 2nd semester of attendance at Hunter, or no later than the 2nd semester after completing the required remedial course(s) in writing, or—in the case of part-time students—after accumulating no more than 24 credits at Hunter. Transfer students required to take remedial courses must also do so no later than the 2nd semester of attendance at Hunter, or after accumulating no more than 24 credits at Hunter.

CATEGOR Y III

Humanities: Foreign Language (0-12 credits)

The foreign language requirement may be fulfilled in any of the following languages:

Chinese (CHIN) Greek (GRK) Latin (LAT)
French (FREN) Hebrew (HEBR) Polish (POL)
German (GERMN) Italian (ITAL) Portuguese (PORT)
Russian (RUSS) Spanish (SPAN) Swahili (SWA)
Ukrainian (UKR) Yoruba (YOR)

In each language a required course sequence (12 credits is offered: Elementary I and II (2 three-credit courses or 1 six-credit intensive course) and Intermediate I and II (2 three-credit courses or 1 six-credit intensive course). The 4 three-credit courses are usually numbered 101–102 and 201–202. The 2 intensive six-credit courses are usually numbered 103 and 203.* The first semester of a four-course sequence will not be credited without completion of the second semester.

0 credits Students who can demonstrate a competency equivalent to 4 years of high school language through a required proficiency examination will have satisfied the language requirement. Students who have studied one foreign language for 4 years in high school should file an appeal with the Coordinator of Academic Appeals (Room 1116E), with an official high school transcript attached.

3 credits Students who continue a foreign language studied for 3 years in high school should take 3 credits in that language, i.e., the 4th course in the required foreign language sequence.

6 credits Students who continue a foreign language studied for 2 years in high school should take 6 credits in the language, i.e., the 3rd and 4th courses in the required foreign language sequence.

9 credits Students who continue a foreign language studied for 1 year in high school should take 9 credits in that language, i.e., the 2nd, 3rd and 4th courses in the required foreign language sequence.

12 credits Students who begin a new foreign language should take 12 credits in that foreign language, i.e., all 4 courses in the required foreign language sequence.

2. CONCENTRATION OF IN-DEPTH STUDY (MAJOR AND MINOR)

A major is a concentration of courses in a particular subject area. A minor is a secondary concentration usually related to the student's educational goals. Very few students have any idea of a choice of major or minor when they enter college. As the appropriate time arrives to declare a major (45-60 completed credits), students may seek assistance from counselors and advisors. Talking with faculty in the areas of study being considered may also help. Students are advised to attend the fall Departmental Major Day conferences and spring Major Day Fair. The choice of major and minor is a difficult decision, but it is not irrevocable—students can change their minds.

Departmental Majors—BA degree. These are majors concentrated within one department. The major typically consists of 24 credits. A minor in a related subject is chosen at the same time and usually consists of 12 credits. Both the major and the minor must consist of liberal arts courses.

To earn a Hunter degree, students must complete at least half of their major and minor courses at Hunter College.

In order to be graduated, a student must have at least a 2.0 GPA in the courses designated for the major.

Some departments permit a limited number of credits used for the distribution requirement to be counted toward a minor. Although this does not lessen the number of credits required for the degree, it frees those credits to be used in an elective area.

It is possible to have a double major in the BA degree. The student must complete all of the distribution requirement, satisfy the sequence of study for both majors, fulfill a minor approved by both departments, and file a major/minor form for each approved major. The double major and the minor must consist of liberal arts courses. The Registrar will record a double major on the student's transcript, but the notation of the second major will not appear on the student's transcript until the time of graduation. Upon filing for graduation, two certificates in support of the degree should be filed with the Registrar—one from each major department.

Departmental majors leading to the BA are:

- Anthropology
- Art
- Biology
- Black & Puerto Rican Studies
- Chemistry
- Chinese
- Classical Studies
- Communications
- Computer Science
- Dance
- Economics

Interdepartmental Fields—BA Degree. The following programs leading to the BA degree involve courses in more than one department. For details and names of advisors, see the listing in the departmental section of this catalogue.

- Archaeology
- Comparative Literature
- English Language Arts
- Energy Policy Studies
- Human Movement Studies
- Jewish Social Studies
- Latin American and Caribbean Studies
- Religion
- Urban Studies
- Women's Studies

In addition to the interdepartmental fields of study, the College also offers individual interdepartmental courses in the humanities, social sciences, sciences and mathematics, and health sciences (see page 108).

3. ELECTIVE (OR OPTIONAL) CREDITS

These are credits needed to complete the degree beyond those taken to fulfill the distribution requirement and the major and minor. Students may choose as electives any courses for which they have the necessary prerequisites. They may take more courses in their major or minor, study another foreign language they will need for graduate work, or explore new horizons. The choice is the student's. No course may be repeated unless it is so stated in the course description in the catalogue.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Minimum Proficiency Every newly matriculated and non-degree student must take proficiency examinations in reading, written English, and mathematics before registering. This includes freshmen as well as students with advanced standing (those who have credit for previous college work, whether at Hunter, a community college, or another 4-year college). If required scores are not attained, students must include in their program appropriate remedial/developmental courses in successive semesters until proficiency is demonstrated. Students holding a baccalaureate degree from a college or university accredited by a regional accrediting association and senior citizens with non-degree status do not have to take the proficiency examinations.

The Hunter College proficiency examinations in the skills areas include and in some cases add to the CUNY Freshman Skills Assessment Tests (FSAT) in mathematics, reading, and writing. All students who entered Hunter or any other college as freshmen in or subsequent to fall 1978 are subject to these FSAT requirements. By Board of Trustees ruling, students cannot proceed beyond 60 credits before all of the CUNY Skills Assessment Tests have been passed.

All remedial/developmental course work takes precedence over all other course work; therefore:

a. Remedial/developmental course work should begin as soon as the student enters Hunter College, and

b. All remedial/developmental course work should be completed within the first 36 courses or equated credits attempted at Hunter College.

A student who fails to meet these requirements will be placed on probation and is subject to dismissal.

Students who need to take a remedial/developmental course should make every effort to register at the scheduled time in order to ensure a place in the course.

All students graduating after February 1, 1985, may earn up to a maximum of 10 credits for remedial/developmental courses toward graduation, with no more than 3 credits in any one sequence (math—which also includes physical science courses—reading, written English), except for English as a second language, where the maximum number of credits can be 4.

Effective January 1988, failure to complete developmental course work may prohibit registration into the majority of distribution requirement and/or major courses.

Under no circumstances will a student be graduated without having demonstrated proficiency in mathematics, reading, and written English.
COURSE ACCESS CODES

Students attempting to register for a course without having passed a required remedial/developmental prerequisite will have their registration blocked. The course access code system is designed to help students with course planning and selection and to prevent delays at registration.

The following tables explain the codes and indicate which restrictions apply to courses in individual departments. For answers to further questions about specific departmental requirements, consult an advisor in that department. Consult the Schedule of Classes each semester for updated information on course access codes.

Important: Note that in each case (reading, writing—ESL, writing, and arithmetic and topics in algebra/problem solving in the sciences) the course listed above the arrow is a prerequisite for the course listed below the arrow. For example, to take DX ENGL 002 you must have completed DR ENGL 001; to take DP PHYSC 001 you must have completed DM MATH 001. Thus, if the course access code for a course is DP, you must have passed both DM MATH 001 and DP PHYSC 001 (if you are a non-SEEK student) or DM ACSDK 010, 011 and DP ACSDK 012 (if you are a SEEK student) to fulfill that access code requirement.

Program Planning

Declaring the Major/Minor When the choice is made, the student should obtain a major/minor form from the Office of the Registrar and see the major department advisor. The major department is responsible for approving the content and arrangement of both the major and the minor, except in the case of the early childhood/elementary education collateral major, which requires approval of the Education Division. The student should be familiar with department requirements and give thought to the optional major and minor courses before meeting with the major advisor.

To change a major, a student should get a change of major form from the Registrar's Office and confer with an advisor in the new major.

Fields of Specialization or Professional Studies — BA, BS, BFA, and BMus Degrees These programs, each requiring approximately 60 credits in the area of specialization, lead to the BA, BS, BFA, or BMus degree. The following programs are available. For details and names of advisors, see the listing in the departmental section of this catalogue.

- Accounting
- Community Health Education
- Environmental Health Science
- Fine Arts (BFA degree—Art)
- Health Education
- Medical Laboratory Sciences

BA/MA Degrees These programs enable highly qualified students to earn the bachelor and master's degrees in a shorter period of time than required for taking the degrees separately. The following departments offer these programs.

- Anthropology
- Biological Sciences
- Economics
- English
- History
- Mathematics and Statistics
- Music (BS and BMus)
- Nursing
- Nutrition and Food Science
- Physical Education
- Physical Therapy

BA/MS Degrees The Department of Sociology offers a BA/MS degree program, sociology and social research. See the department listing in this catalogue for further description.

The Department of Biological Sciences offers a BAVMS degree program in biological sciences/environmental and occupational health sciences. See the department listing for further information.

Pre-professional Programs Hunter College provides certain special programs to prepare students to qualify for careers in law, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, optometry, and engineering. Students are encouraged to maintain a close relationship with the Pre-professional Advising Office to insure adequate preparation for admission to the appropriate professional school.

Professional Option Students preparing for a career in medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine may elect the professional option which enables them to earn the Hunter College BA degree by taking the last year of study at an accredited professional school. Students choosing this option must complete all the distribution requirements and all major and minor requirements at Hunter College prior to entering professional school. Before beginning professional studies, a formal application for a professional option must be submitted to and approved by the premedical advisor and registrar. Further details are available from the pre-medical advisor.

Pre-engineering The pre-engineering program is organized for students who plan to transfer to an engineering school of another college after 2 years at Hunter. Students planning to go into engineering should consult the pre-engineering advisor during Preadmission Conference Days and also at least once each semester. The courses for pre-engineering outlined in the Physics Department section of this catalogue satisfy requirements for the first 2 years of the City College engineering degree. Students planning to go to an engineering school other than City College should see the pre-engineering advisor to work out a program suitable to their needs.

Pre-health Professions (Pre-medical) Students preparing for a career in medicine or other health professions (osteopathy, dentistry, optometry, podiatry, veterinary medicine) may elect any major or minor and should consult the premedical advisor during the Preadmission Conference Days about the choice of science in the first term's program. It is imperative that students maintain a close relationship with the Premedical Advising Office from the time they become interested in such a career so that they are adequately prepared for admission to a professional school.

Pre-law There is no prescribed course of study or major for students planning to enter the legal profession. Legal educators agree that students planning to study law should take courses that best develop ability in comprehension and clear expression, critical understanding of human values and social institutions, and creative and independent thinking. A well-balanced liberal arts education is the best preparation for a successful legal career. Students who are considering such a career should consult with the pre-law advisor so that they can be adequately prepared for admission to law schools.

Preparation for Social Work A major in one of the social or behavioral sciences is preferred for students planning to enter the field of social work. Specific entrance requirements vary for the different graduate schools of social work. Most schools recommend a minimum of 24 credits in the social sciences. A major in sociology or psychology is desirable for those interested in casework or group-work; a major in sociology, political science, economics, or urban affairs is desirable for those interested in community organization. In addition, field placement courses that provide internships in social work agencies are highly recommended. Students planning to go to a graduate school of social work are encouraged to consult in their junior year with the Department of Sociology.

Teacher Education The teacher education program, which combines academic and field experiences, prepares students for careers in elementary and secondary schools. All teacher education programs meet certification and licensing requirements for New York State and New York City. For details, see the Education section of this catalogue.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Public Service Scholar The Public Service Scholar program has been established to encourage Hunter's best students to pursue public service careers. The program runs for a full academic year and combines internship experiences at high levels of government with intensive seminars on issues of concern to public administrators and to New York City. The program is open to any Hunter College student, regardless of major, who has a minimum 3.0 GPA and who is within 45 credits of graduation at the beginning of the fall semester. Selection is competitive. Application is made each spring. Students accepted as Public Service Scholars receive academic credit and a substantial yearly stipend. Because women and minorities have been traditionally underrepresented in public policy-making positions, special efforts are taken to encourage them to apply for the program. Interested students should contact the Department of Urban Affairs and Planning.

Inservice Learning Internships This program permits qualified undergraduates to work for academic credit in off-campus positions of responsibility in their major field of interest. Departments now granting credit for internships include anthropology, art, classics, Chinese, communications, dance, energy policy studies, English, geology and geography, German, history, music, philosophy, theatre and film, and women's studies. Interns have performed curatorial and administrative work in museums; research and production work on TV news shows and newspapers; design work in commercial graphics; booking, managing, and technical work in theatres; and many other learning opportunities.

This program is offered every semester, including the summer session. Students receive from 3 to 15 credits a semester. Approximately 8–10 hours per week are required for 3 credits, 16–20 hours for 8 credits, or full-time involvement for 12–15 credits. The number of credits offered is determined by the department concerned, in accordance with the amount of time required in the specific internship. Grades, usually given on a credit/no credit basis by the department, are based on the written evaluation by the supervisor of the inservice student at the host institution and the student's analysis and evaluation paper. Students interested in the program should make inquiries in the Inservice Learning Program Office, West Building room 1432.

INTERCAMBIO: CUNY/University of Puerto Rico Academic Exchange Program The Program has four components: undergraduate student exchanges; graduate training; visiting professors; joint seminars and research. CUNY undergraduates may study for a single semester or the academic year at the Rio Piedras campus of the UPR for full credit from their home institution. A summer program in language and Puerto Rican history, culture and society is usually offered. INTERCAMBIO provides special activities and continuous support from UPR and CUNY Program staff. Contact INTERCAMBIO, Centro de Estudios Puertorriqueños, Box 548, Hunter College, 696 Park Ave., New York NY 10021.

Internship Program in New York City Government This university-wide program bridges the gap between academic study and the practical world of City government. For details, see the description in the Political Science Department section of this catalogue.

Minority Access to Research Careers Program (MARC) The National Institutes of Health's Division of General Medicine provides a special training program for competitively selected minority students to pursue research careers in science and psychology.
Students who will go on for the PhD degree rather than to medical school are preferred. Students in the MARC program are all undergraduates and they receive a stipend of $6,504 per year. MARC students receive a full scholarship.

Minority Biomedical Research Support Program (MBRS) The National Institutes of Health’s Division of General Medicine provides an opportunity for qualified minority students at Hunter College to participate in an experimental research project under the supervision of the science or psychology faculty. Part-time research is conducted by the student for a salary range as follows: PhD students receive $5,500/year, MA candidates are reimbursed at an annual rate of $7,500 and undergraduates receive $6,000. Graduate students receive a full scholarship and undergraduates are reimbursed for 75 percent of their tuition and fees. The program is intended to encourage and increase the participation of underrepresented minorities in biomedical research careers and in medicine.

For both the MARC and MBRS programs, Hunter College faculty members, representing the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, Physics and Psychology, provide research direction in a wide variety of projects that reflect their special expertise. Students interested in these programs should contact the MBRS/MARC Office, North Building room 314.

The National Student Exchange Program (NSE) is a consortium of approximately 100 public colleges and universities throughout the U.S. which enables students at member campuses to spend 1-2 semesters at any participating college while paying tuition and fees at the home college or at the host college’s in-state tuition rate. On-campus housing is usually available. Many study abroad opportunities can also be obtained through this program. Sophomores, juniors and seniors in any major can apply for exchange. Generally, a GPA of at least 2.8 is required. Applications may be submitted from September through mid-February for exchanges taking place during the following fall and spring. Further information may be obtained in room 1432 West, by calling (212) 772-5004, or by writing to the Inservice/NSE Office, Hunter College, 695 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10021.

New York/Paris Exchange Program This program offers full-time CUNY students (undergraduates and graduates) in all disciplines the opportunity to study at one of the Universities of Paris for one or two semesters. Students are placed at the various participating universities based on their proficiency in French, their area of specialization, and their class standing. Credits earned for courses taken in Paris are applicable towards the CUNY degree. For more information and applications, contact Professor Julia Przybos, Romance Languages Department.

Honors Curriculum The Thomas Hunter Honors Program provides exceptional students with an individualized course of study, suited to their needs and interests, leading to the BA degree. Open to freshmen and sophomores of high intellectual or artistic ability, it permits them to replace the usual requirements of the College with a special curriculum under the supervision of the Council on Honors. It also offers its participants the chance to study with faculty members who have shown an interest in working with outstanding students. For details, see Honors Curriculum section in this catalogue.

Study Abroad Program Opportunities exist for study abroad in summer and academic year programs. A leaflet, "Study Abroad," and additional information are available in the Office of Student Services, East Building room 1119.

The Hunter-Mannes Consortium Undergraduate music majors at Hunter are permitted to take elective courses in music at the Mannes College of Music (150 West 85th Street) under a consortium arrangement created to enrich the course offerings of both institutions. Students wishing to participate in this program should consult a Music Department advisor for details and approval.

Marymount-Manhattan College, 221 East 71st Street, Manhattan Hunter undergraduates may take courses at Marymount-Manhattan College through an exchange program that allows them to experience the atmosphere of a small private college. Interested students should get a bulletin of course descriptions from Marymount and a permit form from the Hunter Registrar’s Office, and then obtain permission from the equivalent subject department at Hunter to substitute the Marymount course for one at Hunter.

YIVO Institute, 1048 Fifth Avenue, Manhattan For information about this exchange program with the Max Weinrich Center for Advanced Jewish Studies of the YIVO Institute of Jewish Research, consult the description in the Jewish Social Studies section of this catalogue or the chair of that program.

Academic Policies and Regulations

Students are expected to be familiar with the various requirements and procedures as given in this catalogue and to follow them.

At Hunter, the only source of academic rules and regulations is the Hunter College Senate and its committees, composed of faculty, students, and administrators, whose authority comes from the Board of Trustees. Any exceptions to these rules may be granted only by designated individuals. The Senate constantly studies possible areas of change. New rulings are always published in the Senate News Bulletin. Those affecting large numbers of students are published in the student newspapers and are also available in appropriate offices. For example, information on course changes is available in departmental offices; general and distribution requirement regulations can be obtained in the Office of Student Services.

Regulations are subject to interpretation according to the specific nature of any individual case. Students are encouraged and expected to make inquiries regarding a possible variance if they believe their circumstances warrant it. In order to avoid misunderstanding, students should not accept statements contrary to what is stated here without getting the exception in writing on a proper form from someone who has the authority to make an exception:

1. The only authority in the area pertaining to the distribution requirement and College regulations in general is the appeals coordinator in the Office of Student Services.
2. The only authority in matters pertaining to the major/minor is the chair of the major department or his/her designated representative.
3. The procedure for grade appeals is outlined on page 32.

Students should be especially careful of informally given advice.

Every student is obliged to determine that all requirements for the degree have been met before the date of graduation. No changes may be made to the student record card after the graduation date. Any "STOPS" not cleared by the graduation date will result in the withholding of diploma and transcripts. INC grades received in the final semester must be completed by the graduation date. If not, an application to graduate for the following semester must be filed with the Graduation Audit Unit of the Registrar’s Office.

Students who are uncertain about the interpretation of any matter may learn under whose authority the matter rests by inquiring in the Office of Student Services.
This catalogue covers the general academic requirements consonant with earning a degree at Hunter when this catalogue went to press in summer 1990. Students are responsible for knowing all current regulations.

GRADING SYSTEMS

Students may elect to be graded in courses according to either of two systems: (1) the traditional system of letter grades (A, B, C, D, and F) or (2) the non-letter grades of Credit/No Credit, where Credit is the equivalent of A, B, or C, and No Credit is the equivalent of D or F. Course requirements are the same no matter which system a student chooses, but there are certain restrictions about how and when the student may choose the Credit/No Credit system:

a) No more than half of the total credits for the degree may be taken on a Credit/No Credit basis.

b) Credit/No Credit grades are not allowed for students on probation. If given in error by instructors, they will be converted to letter grades by the Registrar's Office. (Credit grades will be changed to C; No Credit grades will be changed to F.)

c) When a student chooses the Credit/No Credit option and earns a D as the final grade, the student may choose to receive either the D or a grade of No Credit.

d) Freshmen may request a Credit/No Credit grade in only one course for each 15 credits completed at Hunter until 30 credits have been completed (with the exception of the mandatory Credit/No Credit grades required for certain remedial courses).

e) With approval of the Senate, departments may prohibit the use of Credit/No Credit grades in major courses, especially in those areas in which outside certification is required. Credit/No Credit grades are not permitted in education, nursing, pre-engineering, premedical, health sciences, nutrition & food science, and prelaw. All students should check with their departmental advisors for specific policies.

The Credit/No Credit system may be elected by students up to the time of the final examination. Requests must be made on a form obtained from the Registrar's Office. When departmental policies allow, request forms must be accepted by the instructor. Students requesting grading according to this system must satisfy whatever attendance requirement has been set by the instructor, complete all of the assignments, and take the final examination; otherwise, the grades of WU and INC shall apply. It should be noted that the grade of No Credit shall be used only to replace the academic grades of D and F. It shall not be used to replace the grades of WU or INC. A No Credit grade may not override the FIN grade.

Other colleges, graduate schools, professional schools, services, and employers may look with disfavor upon the use of the Credit/No Credit grading option and may even convert Credit to C and No Credit to F for their purposes. If you have questions regarding the Credit/No Credit options, please check with the Office of Student Services.

Retention Standards The Board of Trustees has mandated uniform student retention standards for all the colleges that are part of the City University system. Under these standards, decisions about whether or not students may continue in a CUNY college are made on the basis of the grade point average (GPA). In order to make these decisions, course grades are assigned quality points (which count toward the GPA), as shown in the following table:

<table>

Retention on the Basis of Grade Point Average General scholarship is indicated by a college GPA (also referred to as the "cumulative index" or "index"). Each student is expected to know how to figure the GPA and is expected to compute it each semester. Students admitted with advanced standing or transfer credits cannot use previous grades earned at other colleges in the computation of the GPA, but the number of their transfer credits will be added to the total Hunter College credits to determine retention. This means that students must have achieved a given GPA by the time they have completed a certain number of credits or else they will be placed on probation, and if insufficient improvement is made within a specified period, they will be subject to dismissal for poor scholarship. The standards guiding these decisions are as follows:

<thead>

Dismissal from the College and the City University Students who fail to achieve the required academic standards will be placed on academic probation. Students who fail to achieve the required academic standards while on probation will be dismissed from Hunter College and the University system.

Students may appeal an academic dismissal and should discuss the preparation of such an appeal with a counselor or advisor in the Office of Student Services. The Senate Committee on Student Standing reviews all appeals and makes the final determinations. Students are notified by mail of the disposition of their appeal.

Tuition and fees will be refunded to a student who is dismissed for failure to meet the required academic standards after having registered.
Students who withdraw from the College when their GPA is below the required academic standards will be automatically dismissed from the University. Students who have been dismissed or who have withdrawn when their GPA is below required academic standards may not be readmitted until they have been separated from the University system for at least one fall or spring semester. Students who wish to apply for readmission after separation of one or more semesters must file an application in the Office of the Registrar. Applications must be filed at least 3 months prior to the beginning of the semester in which the student plans to reenter. Until such time as they are eligible to apply for readmission, students who are separated from the University may not enroll for credit-bearing courses in any unit of the University in any status.

Incomplete Work in Course When a student for valid reason does not complete the work assigned in a course (including the final exam, papers, etc.), and in the view of the instructor still has a reasonable chance to pass the course, the student shall be given the grade IN (incomplete). The student must explain the reason to the instructor or, in the absence of the instructor, to the department chair, and arrange a schedule for making up the missing coursework. These steps must be taken as soon as possible and no later than the end of the second week of the following semester. The student shall then be given the opportunity to complete the course without penalty beyond previously established penalties for lateness.

The length of time permitted for completing missing coursework remains at the discretion of the instructor and shall be indicated in writing to the student, but shall not extend beyond the end of the semester following the one in which the course was taken. Unless the student submits the work by the date specified by the instructor, the grade will automatically become FIN on the student’s permanent record. (Under certain circumstances, where the student must repeat class sessions or laboratories in a course not given during the following semester, the FIN grade may later be corrected to the appropriate letter grade.)

Instructors and departments may choose to have make-up final examinations administered by the College. Such examinations will be given before Monday of the 7th week of the following semester. It is the responsibility of the student who must take an absentee examination to determine from the instructor or department whether it will be administered by the College, and to file the appropriate form and pay any required fee by the deadline specified by the College.

Repeating Courses with Grades of D, F, WU, or No Credit

1. Students shall not be permitted to repeat courses, other than those designated as repeatable in the course description of the College catalogue, in which they have previously received a grade of A, B, C, or CR. If a student elects to repeat a course in which a grade of D has been received, and this course is part of a sequence, the student should repeat the course before the next course in the series is taken.

2. Letter grades for both the original and repeated courses shall be counted in the GPA. However, students shall not receive credit towards their degree for a repeated course unless the course is designated as repeatable in the course description of the College catalogue.

3. A student who has received a grade of D, F, or NC twice (or any combination thereof) in the same course may only re-register for that course with the permission of the department offering the course.

4. These rules do not apply to remedial/developmental course work.
OTHER ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Absence of Instructor If a class finds that the instructor is still absent after 10 minutes of the period has elapsed, a representative should be sent to the appropriate department office for instructions. The class should remain until the representative returns.

Academic Calendar and Sessions The fall semester starts approximately September 1, the spring semester starts approximately February 1 and a summer program of 6 weeks begins in June. Consult the Schedule of Classes for specific starting dates.

Courses are offered from early morning to late evening each semester and in the summer. Students are expected to attend both the fall and spring semesters; students who do not must apply for readmission.

Attendance in the summer program is optional. Students who receive financial aid under the New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) should realize that these awards are available for no more than a total of 8 semesters (10 for SEEK). TAP assistance for a summer session will count as one-half a semester; the other half may be used only in a subsequent summer session.

Academic Honesty - Plagiarism Any deliberate borrowing of the ideas, terms, statements, or knowledge of others without clear and specific acknowledgment of the source is plagiarism. It is, in fact, intellectual theft. Serious students, scholars, and teachers agree that they cannot tolerate plagiarism.

It is, of course, plagiarism to borrow the ideas, terms, statements, or knowledge of others if the source is clearly and specifically acknowledged. Any conscientious student will, from time to time, consult critical material and may wish to include some of the insights, terms, or statements encountered. When this happens, the source must be given full credit.

Plagiarism will result in disciplinary proceedings. A more detailed explanation of plagiarism and the accepted procedures for acknowledging sources is available from the Department of English or the Office of the Hunter College Senate.

Academic Honesty - Purchase of Written Assignments and "Cheating" Sale of term papers, student essays, reports, and other written assignments for use in credit courses is a misdemeanor under section 213-b of the Education Law. This law is interpreted to include material advertised to be used for "research purposes." The use of material (whether or not purchased) prepared by another and submitted by students as their own will result in disciplinary proceedings. Similarly, copying or otherwise obtaining another's answers to questions on examinations or assignments (commonly called "cheating") will result in disciplinary proceedings.

Appeals - Rules and Regulations Appeals for administrative exceptions to academic rules and regulations—including such matters as exceptions to approved program loads (except credits), variations of the distribution requirement, extension of time to take absentee exams, and other academic situations involved with coursework—are heard in the Office of Student Services.

The Review Commission on the Distribution Requirement of the Hunter College Senate considers specific proposals by individual students to substitute a prescribed course of study in order more nearly to meet their own special academic career requirements. The Commission does not consider appeals customarily reviewed by the Office of Student Services or appeals from students who are near graduation and have not completed the distribution requirement. Any student who wishes to formulate an individual distribution requirement should apply for an application form to the office of the Hunter College Senate.

Appeals - Grades When a student considers a final course grade unsatisfactory, the student should first confer with the instructor regarding the accuracy of the grade received. This conference should be held within the first 3 weeks of the semester following receipt of the grade. At this time, errors may be corrected. If the grade is not an error, the student and instructor must together review all class material pertinent to the grade. If the student is not satisfied, or if the instructor does not confer with the student within the first 3 weeks of the semester, the student should promptly contact the department chair by submitting a written appeal, consisting of a statement giving the factual reasons and basis for the complaint. The student has the right to request in writing that the chair appoint a student as a member to the department/school Grade Appeals Committee. This appeal at the department/school level must be submitted within the first 5 weeks of the semester following receipt of the grade, in accordance with the "College-wide Grade Appeals Procedure" adopted by the Senate, fall 1988. Copies of this procedure may be obtained in the Senate Office, the Office of Student Services, or departmental offices.

Students appealing the grade to the School of Nursing, School of Health Sciences, and School of Social Work should direct the appeal to the Dean of the School, who shall carry out the responsibilities of the department chair.

Auditing Students are required to file an application in the Registrar's Office, at the time of registration, to obtain permission to audit a course. Auditors must register in the normal manner and pay required tuition and fees. No credit or grade will be given for audited classes. Auditor status cannot be changed to credit status after the closing date for late registration. Likewise, credit status cannot be changed to auditor status after late registration.

Class Attendance All students (even those for whom attendance is optional) must report to classes during the first week of classes. Students will lose their place in some science laboratory classes if they do not attend the first class meeting. (See the "Notes" for biology and chemistry in the Schedule of Classes.)

Except for students who have earned fewer than 15 credits, the limitations on class cuts were removed in 1969. This does not preclude the keeping of attendance records by instructors, nor can absence from class be offered as an excuse for not fulfilling all requirements for passing a course. In cases where class participation is necessary to evaluate progress, students must attend class regularly. Attendance as a course requirement is always the prerogative of the instructor. Students who have earned fewer than 15 credits of college-level work are limited in the number of cuts they may take in a course without loss of credit:

College Calendar: Schedule of Final Examinations A final examination is required in each course at the College during the examination period scheduled by the Registrar, except in those courses in which the department has ruled that no examination is given. Since the final examination week is part of the semester hour requirement as mandated by the State Education Department, the period scheduled for final examinations should either be used for the final examination in the course or as an Instructional period.

Students in an examination room may not have in their possession or within their reach any books or papers except those permitted by the instructor for use in the examination. Notes normally carried in pockets or handbags should be placed completely out of reach. Students taking a drawing examination should bring their own implements. Students are not to possess an examination book at any time except during the examination period. Students should carefully fill out all information asked for on the front cover of every examination book used. If scratch paper is needed, students should use the back pages of the examination book; no other paper of any kind is to be used. All matter that is not intended to be read and marked by the examiner should be crossed out (but not torn out) before the examination book is handed in. No pages are to be torn from examination books.

The student is responsible for making sure that the instructor receives the examination book. Students may leave the examination room as soon as they finish. Quiet should be maintained in passing through the halls.

Students obliged to withdraw from an examination because of illness will be counted as absent from the examination and are permitted to take an absentee examination, as explained in the section on Incomplete Work in Course.

For information on absence from final examination for other reasons, see section on Incomplete Work in Course.

Suspension of Classes Announcements concerning emergency suspension of classes will be made on the following radio stations:

- WINS 1010 AM
- WNYC 830 AM and 93.9 FM
- WADO 1280 AM (Spanish speaking)
- WOR 710 AM
- WNEW 1130 AM and 102.7 FM
- WCBS 880 AM and 101.1 FM

The NYC telephone information number, 999-1234, will also carry the announcement. Do not call College offices or broadcasting stations for information.

Withdrawal from Part of Program The Board of Trustees has ruled that students have until the end of the 3rd week of classes (or during the summer session the end of the first week of classes) to drop a course without penalty. This period coincides with the refund period. The course will not appear on the student's record.

A student may withdraw officially, with a grade of W, between the end of the 3rd week of classes and the first day of the 10th week of classes. (During the summer session a student may withdraw officially between the 2nd week of classes and the first day of the 5th week of classes.) To do so, a student should obtain a withdrawal form from the Registrar's Office. After the deadline, official withdrawals will be recommended by the Office of Student Services only when it is clear that the student has good and sufficient reason for withdrawing.

When a student ceases to participate in a course but has not withdrawn officially, the student shall be deemed to have withdrawn unofficially. Evidence of unofficial withdrawal shall include all of the following: failure to attend class for at least 4 weeks consecutively (or during the summer session 2 weeks consecutively) through the end of the semester (the last day of classes), failure to attend the final exam, and failure over this period to meet any other course requirements (e.g., to submit paper assignments and take examinations). The unofficial withdrawal (UW) by university regulations is equivalent to a grade of F.

Students who receive financial aid must be cleared by the Office of Financial Aid before they may process any withdrawal from classes. After being cleared by the Financial Aid Office, a student should make an appointment with an advisor or counselor in the Office of Student Services before proceeding with the withdrawal process. The problem often has other solutions.

Withdrawal from College Students who become ill, or who experience personal difficulties or a lack of interest that prevents their concentrating on college work, are encouraged to withdraw completely from college. Failure under such conditions can only make an eventual return to college more difficult. Deadlines for such withdrawals are the same as for withdrawals from part of the program (see above).

Such students should make an appointment to see a counselor in the Office of Student Services. Students must return books to the library and all college equipment to the department to which it belongs. Students who are unable to return to Hunter to withdraw in person should write or have someone else write to the Office of Student Services. The letter should contain (1) the name under which the student is registered at Hunter, (2) the social security number, (3) the return address and telephone number, (4) the reason for withdrawal with appropriate documentation (medical, psychological, or employee) and the last date of attendance, and (5) a copy of the Bursar's receipt.

Students who just stop attending without following the above procedures are considered to have withdrawn unofficially and will receive WUs, which are equivalent to an F in computing the GPA.

Students whose GPA at the time of withdrawal is below the minimum required for continued matriculation shall be considered as having been dropped for poor scholarship.

Students who have withdrawn from the College, officially or unofficially, must apply for readmission in the Registrar's Office at least 3 months prior to the semester in which they wish to re-enter.

Academic Honors

Deans' List The academic deans issue a list of students with excellent academic records. The rules for inclusion in the Deans' List are available in the Office of Student Services. Students should note, however, that they cannot be considered for the Deans' List for a semester during which they have received an INC grade.

Graduation with General College Honors A student who has completed 60 credits of traditional letter grades at Hunter College may be considered for graduation honors. Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.800 or higher will be graduated Summa Cum Laude. Students with a GPA from 3.600 to 3.799 will be graduated Magna Cum Laude. Students with a GPA from 3.250 to 3.599 will be graduated Cum Laude.

Graduation with Department Honors On recommendation of any department or interdepartmental field, students with at least 24 credits in the department or field may be graduated "With Honors" in that department or field, provided they graduate in the term for which they file for honors. Of these credits, 21 (or in exceptional cases 18) must be taken at Hunter. Students who participate in the Study Abroad Program or the Exchange Program within the United States may be considered for departmental honors even if they have earned fewer than 18 credits at Hunter in courses approved for the major.

Students are eligible for departmental honors if their GPA in the major or field is not less than 3.5 and if their cumulative GPA is not less than 2.7 at the time of graduation. The student must also elect at least 2 credits (but no more than 6 credits) in honors courses offered in that department or field and present to the department's Committee on Honors a piece of independent work. Honors courses include seminar, laboratory, reading, and tutorial courses and independent study projects established for the instruction of honors students.
Honor Societies Two kinds of honor societies are recognized at Hunter College: academic and professional. In general the requirements for nomination are: for academic societies, a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and a departmental GPA prescribed by the department concerned, although in no case less than 3.0; for professional societies, a cumulative GPA of 2.8 and a departmental GPA and professional qualifications that meet departmental requirements. All honor societies except Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi are subject to the rules and regulations established by a committee of the Hunter College Senate.

Students may qualify for the following honor societies:

Phi Beta Kappa is a national honor society. Students do not apply for membership; they are elected on the basis of academic excellence. Eligibility is calculated on the basis of liberal arts courses under Phi Beta Kappa rules, which differ from those used in awarding other honors at Hunter College.

The Society of the Sigma Xi has as its purpose the encouragement of original investigation in pure and applied science. The Society now has about 190,000 living members, organized in chapters at colleges and universities across the United States. These men and women have been elected to membership by their respective chapters because of their engagement in and commitment to the promotion of scientific research. The Hunter chapter was installed in May 1969.

Special Courses

CUNY BA/BS

The CUNY Baccalaureate Program is described on page 22.

CUNBA 000 CUNY Baccalaureate students who are registering for nonclassroom credits (independent study or fieldwork) or who are taking courses at other units of the City University should register for CUNBA 000 for the appropriate number of credits.

Independent Learning by Achievement Contract

ILBAC 300, 400 Interdisciplinary program that offers students an additional opportunity to demonstrate academic competence. The student signs a contract that outlines work to be done, time it will take, method of evaluating work, credits to be earned, and grade designation. The contract is presented for approval to an evaluation committee, chosen by the student, consisting of an evaluative chairperson and 2 faculty members representing more than one discipline. Work presentation may vary: oral presentation; written paper, novel, or short stories; artistic performance; laboratory experiment; public lecture; or designing or carrying out a research project. Relevant life experience may be incorporated. For further information, contact the Office of Student Services.

Orientation Seminar

ORSEM 001 Orientation Seminar 1 hr, 0 cr. This course provides an ongoing opportunity for students to acquire knowledge and skills necessary for success in college. It covers the distribution requirement, grading, available services, choosing a major, choosing a career, test-taking, note-taking skills, and study skills. Through group discussions students learn to be active participants in the process of learning. Required for all first-year students.

Miscellaneous Regulations

Additional information on student rights and regulations may be found on pages 160-167.

Students should be aware of the following regulations:

- Students may not have personal or business mail or telegrams addressed to them at the College.
- The College cannot deliver messages to students except in cases of grave emergency.
- If a student has a visitor, a visitor's pass from the Office of Student Services is required.
- Students are required to present proper identification (Hunter ID Card) upon the request of any College official.
- The College does not provide a check-cashing service.
- No student or outsider may use any part of the College buildings (including bulletin boards) for soliciting or selling any merchandise without written permission from the Dean of Students.
- No student may be a self-appointed representative of the College.
- No pets or animals (except seeing-eye dogs) may be brought into College buildings.
- The use, possession, and/or distribution of hallucinogenetic drugs, barbiturates, amphetamines, narcotics, and other dangerous drugs is prohibited by law and therefore by College regulations.
- Only wine and beer may be served at student sponsored functions. A representative of the sponsoring group must be present at the bar to assure compliance with the minimum drinking age.

College Name The official name of the College, which must be used in correspondence and on application forms for employment, admission to graduate school, and transfer to other institutions, is "Hunter College of The City University of New York." Merely referring to "The City University of New York" or "CUNY" will result in the correspondence or application being sent to the Board of Trustees, thereby causing delay in processing.

Change of Name and Address Students should report to the Registrar's Office all changes of name and address to receive forms for change of name or address. Allow at least one term for the change to be processed, and for 3 months after filing continue to use your former name and address for registration and other official College purposes. Change of address should also be filed with the student's local US Post Office.

Financial Obligations The Board of Trustees has ruled that students delinquent in their financial accounts (e.g., breakage fees, tuition, loans, library fines) may not be issued grades, transcripts, or degrees.

Access to College Files Board of Trustees guidelines and the Federal Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974 permit the following information concerning current and former students to be made available to those parties who have a legitimate interest in the information: name, attendance dates, most recent address, maajor field of study, degrees received, and date.

By filing a letter with the Office of the Registrar, a student or former student may request that any or all of the above information not be released without the student’s prior written consent. This letter may be completed, withdrawn, or modified at any time.

Students may have access to their College records by completing a request form available in the Office of the Registrar. The office informs students when and where records may be inspected.
Students are charged a fee for the duplication of a requested record.

The parent(s) of a student who is younger than 18, and who is a dependent within the definition of Section 152 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, have right of access to those student records to which the student has right of access. When a student has waived access right to a particular document or record, the parent(s) have no access right. Dependency status may be demonstrated by submitting a copy of the last filed federal income tax form or other appropriate documents. Parent(s) of a student 18 years of age or older have no right of access, regardless of their child’s dependent status, without the consent of the student.

The FERPA states that parents and eligible students have the right to request that a school correct records believed to be inaccurate or misleading. If the school refuses to change the records, the parent or eligible student then has the right to a formal hearing. After the hearing, if the school still refuses the correction, the parent or eligible student has the right to place a statement in the records commenting on the contested information in the records.

Further information may be obtained from the Dean of Students.

Health Regulations

Health Standards The following are the general health standards for admission, readmission, and continuing attendance at Hunter College:

   individual or group at Hunter College.
2. The health condition shall not be such that it may be aggravated or intensified by the demands of attendance at the College.
3. Any limitations of activity necessitated by a health problem shall be such that program adjustments will still enable the student to conform to the College’s academic requirements.
4. A student’s health status shall be such that the student may be expected to continue his/her College work, taking a reasonable number of hours on a continuing basis.

to present a complete record of two live immunizations against measles, and single immunization against mumps and rubella.
Students born on or after January 1, 1957 must submit a complete immunization record signed by a health practitioner.

Medical Records and Examinations  Matriculated students (including transfer students) are required to submit a medical report by a recognized physician upon application for admission and at other times if required. If a student’s medical report or other factors indicate a health problem, the College may require from the student’s physician a report from a medical specialist in the area of the student’s disability.

Student Physical Activity Cards Permission for physical education and similar activities is obtained in the Medical Office at Hunter College. As noted above, the prerequisite for issuance of approved cards is a completed medical report on file. These cards are valid for 2 years; then they must be renewed.

College Government

Hunter College has several governing assemblies, most of which provide for student participation.

The Hunter College Senate
East Building room 1018

The Hunter College Senate was established in 1971 as the legislative body of the College with authority for determining College policy in matters related to:
1. Curriculum
2. Academic requirements and standards
3. Instruction and the evaluation of teaching
4. College development.

Representatives of the faculty, student body, and administration constitute the voting membership of the Senate. Faculty senators are elected by the individual departments and serve for a term of 2 years. The elected officers of the Senate include the Chairperson, Vice-Chairperson, and Secretary of the Senate, and the Chairperson of the Evening Session Council—who are the members of the Senate Administrative Committee. Twelve standing committees and a varying number of ad hoc committees accomplish much of the work of the Senate. Membership on committees is open to all faculty and students and is elected by the full Senate from recommendations of the Nominating Committee and by nominations from the Senate floor.

Regular meetings of the Senate are planned for 2 hours and are held once a month. Additional monthly meetings are called as needed.

Election of faculty and student membership to the Senate occurs during the spring semester.

Faculty members and students are encouraged to become involved in the meetings of the Hunter College Senate and its committees. Further information may be obtained by visiting the Senate Office.

The Evening Session Council of the Hunter College Senate
East Building room 1018

Composed of one faculty member and one student from each department, the Council makes recommendations to the President and the Hunter College Senate on matters of concern to the evening session.

Faculty Personnel and Budget Committee (FP&B)

Composed of the President, the Provost, and the chairs of departments, FP&B is concerned with appointment, reappointment, promotion, and other faculty personnel matters. College deans and other senior administrators sit on the FP&B as nonvoting members.

Departmental Committees

Each department has by-laws approved by the Senate. These by-laws provide for a number of committees, most of which are open to student members. Further information is available in the appropriate departmental office.

---

The Faculty Delegate Assembly
East Building room 1415

The Faculty Delegate Assembly is the official faculty organization of the College. Composed of 2 faculty members elected from each department, as well as the 10 representatives of the College to the University Faculty Senate, it works closely with the President, the Provost, and the Hunter College Senate to maintain the academic standing of the College and to implement the suggestions of the faculty.
to study in other countries. It advises on special programs, including preprofessional preparation, the CUNY Baccalaureate, and the BA/MA and BA/MS degrees.

Athletics, Recreation, and Intramurals

Hunter College is proud of its athletic tradition. We compete in 24 men's and women's sports on the NCAA Division III level. Athletes benefit from a fine academic environment, highly qualified coaches, and superior facilities for practice and competition.

The recreational and intramural sports programs are designed to promote student, faculty, staff, and alumni participation. The programs provide relaxation, physical fitness, competition, and enjoyment. Over 20 different individual and group activities are offered.

Career Development Services

East Building room 812

The Office of Career Development helps Hunter College students to compete in the job market through a variety of career development and placement services. These include:

- Campus Recruiting Representatives from corporations, banks, brokerage houses, accounting firms, insurance companies, retail stores, computer and software companies, non-profit organizations, and government agencies recruit on- and off-campus in the fall and spring by interviewing students for a variety of professional positions.

- Career Counseling Career counselors help students clarify their career goals, interests, and strengths, and assist them with their job search, including resume preparation, interviewing skills (video sessions offered), and researching the job market.

- Employer Visits Employers and successful professionals come to Hunter to discuss career opportunities in their respective areas. Panelists explore current trends in various fields, offer suggestions for preparing for the competitive job market, and describe their own careers. From these experiences, students learn about specific companies, their products and services, hiring trends, and career opportunities.

- Job Listings Businesses, industries, government agencies, schools, hospitals, and non-profit organizations provide lists on a daily basis of entry-level and advanced part-time and full-time positions. These jobs are listed in the office.

- Internships Fall, spring, and summer internships are available to students from businesses, government agencies, and non-profit organizations. These field work experiences, which are volunteer, for academic credit, or for a stipend, give students valuable exposure to a particular career or field.

- Career Resource Library A wide variety of general career information is available to students: reference books, current publications in business, directories, recruiting literature, company annual reports, and employment guide books about career planning and job search strategies.

For more information, call the office at 772-4850.

Students who are considering withdrawing from school altogether are encouraged to see a counselor before reaching a decision.

Counselors offer a variety of workshops in such areas as study skills, test anxiety, test-taking skills, assertiveness training, and choosing a major and minor. Students may attend as many of these workshops as they wish. Information about the dates and content of the workshops to be offered each semester is available in this office.

This office, under the direction of an associate dean, helps evening and part-time students to locate the Hunter offices which can give them information on admissions and registration procedures, counseling and academic advising, financial aid, departmental majors and interdisciplinary programs, and experiential programs. Evening session students who have special problems concerning any College program, procedure, or facility should consult the associate dean.

Special Services
East Building room 817

The Special Services Program is a federally funded program designed to help students maintain good academic standing, stay in college, and graduate. It offers free tutoring, counseling, and other student support services to low-income, first-generation, and physically challenged Hunter students.

Tutoring
East Building room 802

Free tutoring is available in many entry-level courses. Students should not wait until they are hopelessly behind in their course work but rather come early in the semester if they experience difficulty in any subject. Tutors arrange both individual and group sessions. Tutoring may consist of a few brushup meetings or a series of intensive workshops, depending upon the nature of the students' problems.

Veterans Counseling Service

Ellen Morse Tishman Women's Center
East Building room 801

The Center provides a common meeting ground for students of diverse ethnicities, ages, concerns, and interests. It offers short-term counseling, support groups, and referral services. Programs of workshops, films, and discussion groups are regularly scheduled.

ACADEMIC COMPUTING SERVICES
North Building room 1001

For those students who require the use of computers to complete their coursework, the Academic Computing Services maintain and operate a Remote Job Entry Site and a computer laboratory which interface with the CUNY University Computer Center over a high-speed data channel. The CUNY system includes 2 IBM 3081 computers and an IBM 3033 computer. The ACS laboratory is equipped with 2 high-speed printers, CRT terminals which are multiplexed to the mainframe, and several IBM PCs. The facilities are available to faculty and students for instructional and research computing.

The laboratory also serves as a data archive; current holdings include major nationwide voting studies and cross-national surveys. ACS is the repository for data from the Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research.

Consulting on instructional and research projects is provided free of charge, and a documentation, manual, and software library is maintained.

ASSEMBLY AND MEETING HOURS

Several periods are set aside each week during which no classes are scheduled. These periods, called "Deans' Hours," are reserved for official College assemblies, guidance meetings, and other academic and administrative purposes, and for student organization meetings.

BANKING SERVICES

A banking service is available to all registered student organizations. Consult the Business Manager for information on this and other options concerning the handling of organization funds.

Bursar's Office
North Building room 238

This office collects all tuition and fees and issues the "Bursar's receipt" (the student copy of the Fee Card). This office also distributes all payroll and financial-aid checks. The Bursar's receipt is the only valid proof of registration in courses.

The Bursar's Office will issue a duplicate Bursar's receipt to replace a lost one for a fee of $1.00. The office also accepts cash and issues receipts for payments to other Hunter offices which do not have the facilities to accept cash. For example, readmission application and transcript fees are paid here.

COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

The bookstore stocks required, supplementary, and recommended textbooks (new and used), regulation school supplies, special course requirements, and other academic and nonacademic items. The bookstore also purchases used student textbooks.

DEPARTMENTAL ADVISING

Each department has advisors to help students with such matters as course content, when a course is expected to be given, how a course is conducted (lecture, discussion), and the textbook(s) to be used. Students may want to discuss majoring in a subject before they make their official decision or to inquire about graduate schools. Majors should see the department advisors frequently to discuss their interests.

CAMPUS SAFETY & SECURITY

Building Hours

In order to improve security services, the following schedule and procedures have been adopted for the Hunter College complex of buildings:

Fall and Spring Semesters
Monday through Thursday 7:00 AM–10:00 PM
Friday 7:00 AM–6:00 PM

Summer Session and between Sessions
Monday through Friday 7:00 AM–10:00 PM

Entry into the buildings at times and days other than those scheduled above is governed by the following security procedures:

1. Everyone must show proper identification to the security officers on duty. A sign-in and sign-out log will be maintained by the security officers.

2. Advance written notice, approved by a department head or a faculty member, should be submitted to the Security Office. The note should include the name(s) of the student(s) or, if a class, the number of students entering the building, the room and floor to be visited, and the approximate duration of the visit. If for any reason a written notice is not possible, a phone call to the Security Office with the same information is acceptable, provided it is followed up by a letter of confirmation.

Information and Complaints

Requests for information and complaints concerning security services should be made to Desmond B. Eaton, Director, Campus Safety & Security, West Building room 1115.

Security and Emergencies

A security unit functions in each building in which Hunter holds classes. The phone number is posted prominently at each building. The security unit should be notified first in case of health or security emergencies. Persons other than those authorized should not call an ambulance unless they are prepared to pay for it.

Emergency Medical Services
North Building room 419

The Hunter College Medical Office provides emergency care and infirmary facilities for persons whose condition may require rest for a short period of time. The staff includes certified emergency medical technicians who are specifically trained in emergency first aid.
Degree, Certificate, and Diploma Programs

Students should be aware that enrolling in programs other than the ones listed below may jeopardize their eligibility for certain student-aid awards.

Course Designations

Numbering System Each course in the curriculum is defined by an alphabetical prefix and a 3-digit number. The 3-digit number indicates the level of study: 100- and 200-level courses are lower division, 300- and 400-level courses are upper division; 500-, 600-, and 700-level courses are graduate courses.

000-level course designation Remedial courses; placement determined by College-wide testing of entering students.

100-level course designation Courses with no prerequisites, survey courses, or courses defining basic concepts and presenting the terminology of a discipline.

200-level course designation Courses of intermediate college-level difficulty, courses with 100-level course(s) as prerequisite(s), or survey courses devoted to particular areas or fields within a discipline.

300-level course designation Courses of advanced college-level difficulty taken by majors and upper-division students; these are often considered to be courses in the major, offered for students clearly interested in and qualified in the subject.

400-level course designation Advanced upper-division courses and/or seminars, tutorials, and honor courses for majors and upper-division students.
COURSE DESIGNATIONS

Alphabetical Prefixes  The following prefixes are used, preceding the 3-digit number, to designate the field of study. They are listed here alphabetically, with the field and department or program to which they pertain. Specific departments and programs appear alphabetically in the table of contents, the index, and the HEGIS Code section.

Anthropology

Chair  Susan Lees
Professors  Bates, Bendix, Conant, C. Ember, Friedlander, Gropper, Johnson, Lees, McLendon, Oates, Pasternak, Szalay
Associate Professors  DeWind, Lennihan, McGovern
Assistant Professors  Bromage, Parry
Advisors  (day) William Parry (evening) Rena Gropper
BA/MA Program  Daniel Bates

Anthropology is the scientific study of past and present peoples. Among the social sciences, anthropology is distinguished by its comparative approach to peoples and cultures. As a major in a liberal arts curriculum, it provides students with basic and advanced training in all 4 branches of the discipline: cultural anthropology (ethnology), archaeology, physical anthropology, and anthropological linguistics. Major and minor programs are designed to prepare students for post-graduate activities, which include graduate studies and research, teaching, social work, and work in museums, government, and industry, both domestic and overseas. Many use anthropology as a pre-law or pre-medical degree. Hunter College also offers a master of arts degree in anthropology; a doctoral degree in anthropology is offered by The City University of New York, of which Hunter is a senior member.

The MARC Program  The Departments of Psychology, Anthropology, and Sociology jointly offer a program called MARC (Minor-ty Access to Research Careers). This interdisciplinary research training program for talented minority juniors and seniors is funded by the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration of the National Institute of Mental Health. Participants receive a monthly stipend, tuition and fee remission; they take a special curriculum and get individualized research training in a variety of areas under the supervision of a faculty mentor. The program has several levels of participation, and all minority students—especially freshmen and sophomores—intending to pursue a research-related career in the participating disciplines are urged to register with the program. Additional details and descriptive literature are available from the MARC program advisor.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Code DR applies to ANTHC 100; codes DX, DY, and DM apply to ANTHC 101 and 126; codes DW, DX, and DM apply to ANTHC 151; and codes DM, DP, DX, and DY apply to all other anthropology courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement One physical anthropology course, chosen from ANTHP 101 and 102, can be used toward the science distribution requirement, and ANTHC 101, 126, and 151 can be applied toward the social science distribution requirement. Up to 6 credits (or 2 courses of a science) of the minor may also be offered toward the distribution requirement.

Major The anthropology major is designed to give students an overview of the discipline, as well as training in all 4 fields of the subject (archaeology, cultural anthropology and ethnology, anthropological linguistics, and physical anthropology). The anthropology major consists of 25 credits as follows:

Minors The minor consists of 12 credits. Sociology, history, education, languages, biology, geology, psychology, art, art history, and classics are often selected as minor concentrations, but they are not the only suitable choices. The minor for the anthropology major should be selected after consultation with the undergraduate advisor or the department chair.

It is also possible for the major to minor in one of the 4 fields of anthropology by combining relevant courses from other departments:

Anthropological Linguistics relevant courses in anthropological linguistics (in the Department of Anthropology), and in classics, communications, English, German, Hebrew, philosophy, Romance languages, Russian, and theatre & film.

Archaeology relevant courses in prehistoric archaeology (in the Department of Anthropology), and in art, chemistry, classics, geology & geography, history, mathematics, and physics.

Cultural Anthropology or Ethnology relevant courses in cultural anthropology (in the Department of Anthropology), and in art, classics, education, economics, English, geology & geography, Latin American and Caribbean studies, mathematics, music, philosophy, political science, psychology, sociology, and foreign languages.

Physical Anthropology relevant courses in physical anthropology (in the Department of Anthropology) and in biological sciences, chemistry, geology & geography, mathematics, and physics.

Honors Work Honors work is possible in each of the major branches of anthropology. The emphasis is on independent student research under the supervision of a faculty member. In order to graduate with departmental honors in anthropology, a student must receive at least 3 credits of ANTHC 400; have a GPA in the major of not less than 3.5 and a GPA of not less than 2.8 at the time of graduation; and complete a departmental honors form available from the departmental undergraduate advisor.

ANTH 400 Honors Project (available to students in each of the 4 fields of anthropology) Open to qualified juniors and seniors every semester. Research under supervision of a faculty member. From 2 to 3 credits per semester, depending on the nature of the student's work. May be taken for 1, 2, or 3 semesters for a maximum of 6 credits. To apply, students must (1) present a research plan prepared in conjunction with a faculty member, (2) have this plan approved by the undergraduate advisor and the department chair, (3) obtain approval prior to pre-registration.

Interdepartmental Fields Students who want to do work in anthropology as part of an interdepartmental field, such as energy policy studies, Latin American and Caribbean studies, urban affairs, or women's studies, should refer to descriptions under the department or field of their interest.

Four-year BA/MA Program in Anthropology For a limited number of outstanding students, the department offers a 4-year BA/MA program in anthropology. The program is designed for freshmen, but in certain circumstances sophomores can be considered. Interested and qualified students should consult the program's advisor or the department chair at the earliest possible date.

The Department of Art offers a wide variety of courses for majors and non-majors. In studio art, 2 academic degree programs are offered: the BA and the BFA. In art history, we offer a BA degree.

Art history is the study of works of art and architectural monuments in their cultural environment. Students learn first to develop their powers of critical visual analysis. Then, by concentrated study of certain significant periods in the history of Western and non-Western art, they learn to relate the forms of art to contemporary historical, political, economic, religious, social, and cultural phenomena.

The department's broad range of studio courses begins with Introduction to Visual Studies and Beginning Drawing, which are prerequisites for all advanced studio courses except ARTCR 203, 204, and 261. In the beginning classes, the student learns the basic principles in various media; the advanced courses emphasize individual exploration.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DR and DY apply to ART H 111; codes DX and DW apply to all 300- and 400-level ARTCR courses and all 200-, 300-, and 400-level ART H courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  ART H 111, Introduction to the History of Art, is the only course applicable to the distribution requirement (Category V, Group 1).

STUDIO ART

The 24-credit Major  The standard major is available to the student interested in a liberal arts education. It consists of 8 courses in the major subject, normally one 3-credit course per semester, and includes ARTCR 101 and 221 followed by an additional 16 credits selected from 200- and 300-level courses.

Minor  The department recommends that the minor associated with the 24-credit studio major consist of 12 credits in art history.

The 42-credit Major (BA)  An intensive major is available for the student who prefers a greater concentration in studio art and particularly for the student who plans to do graduate study in art. It consists of 11 courses in the major, including ARTCR 101 and 221, plus a concentration of 9 credits in one study area (e.g., painting, sculpture, drawing, graphics, applied design, ceramics, photography). Nine credits of study in art history are required, including at least one course beyond the 100 level.

Students should consult with a department advisor for guidance in the selection of 200-level courses. The plan for the area of concentration should be submitted to an advisor for tentative approval at the beginning of the junior year and for final approval in the lower senior term.
A maximum of 35 credits in studio art may be applied toward the BA degree. There is no minor associated with the 42-credit major.

The 60-credit Major (BFA) This degree is open to students who wish to extend their work in studio art beyond the 42-credit major, and particularly students who wish to terminate their formal education at the college level. Students follow the regular distribution requirement for the BA degree, except that no course in art can fulfill Category V (humanities and the arts).

A total of 60 credits in art must be earned toward the BFA degree. Some of these credits may, with approval, be earned in other departments. The basic required courses are the same as for the 42-credit major: ARTCR 101 and 221, plus 9 credits in art history, including at least one course beyond the 100 level. Six additional credits are to be selected from 200- and 300-level art history courses. The senior year of this curriculum includes professional application in the chosen field of concentration: either 10 credits Professional Experience in Art (ARTCR 459 and 460), or 9 to 15 credits Inservice Program (ARTCR 498), earned in outside institutions.

Departmental approval of the 60-credit concentration is required. During the upper sophomore or lower junior term, the candidate will submit an essay and study plan to the department committee on the BFA for tentative approval. Each candidate will be interviewed by the committee and final approval will be determined before the beginning of the student's senior year. Application forms may be obtained from the department office.

Preparation for Teaching In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Art provides opportunities for students to prepare for a career in teaching at the elementary and secondary levels.

The courses EDUC 360 and 352 are designed to prepare students to meet both New York City and New York State requirements. Twenty elective credits in education are required: EDFDN 261, 262, 272, 262 and EDUC 352, 355, 360, 460.

Further information about the teacher education program, including complete course descriptions, can be found in the Education section of this catalogue.

Students qualifying for a license to teach art on grade levels K through 12 in New York State and/or New York City must take 18 credits as follows: ARTCR 101, 203, 204, 221, 236, 251, and 9 credits in art history as follows: ART H 121, 122, and either ART H 249 or 250. (ART H 111 may be substituted for 121 and 122, in which case an additional 3-credit art history course must be taken to fulfill the 9-credit requirement.) The remaining 15 credits are to be chosen from ARTCR 208, 225, 257, 271, 309, 322, and either 336 or 352.

Note: All art materials are to be supplied by the student. The College is not responsible for work left in the studios beyond the date assigned for removal. The department reserves the right to retain students’ work for purposes of exhibition and for illustrative material for classroom use. This work may be returned at graduation upon application to the instructor.

ART HISTORY

The Department of Art offers introductory, intermediate, and advanced courses in art history. It offers a choice of either a 24-credit standard major or a 42-credit intensive major. A 12-credit minor in art history is also available; it is planned in consultation with the student’s major advisor and an art history advisor.

The 24-credit Major (BA) in art history is available to students interested in a liberal arts education in the humanities. A broad range of courses from different fields, rather than specialization in one area, is recommended. Students who have completed 9 credits in art history are eligible to take the required advanced Research Seminar (ART H 368), to be programmed in consultation with an art history advisor. A minor of 12 credits is required, and it may be taken in a related field such as classics, anthropology, history, etc. Majors must consult with an art history advisor during an early semester concerning their choice of a minor.

Majors planning graduate study in art history should discuss graduate language requirements with an art history advisor during an early semester.

The 42-credit Intensive Major in art history is recommended for students desiring concentrated advanced work in art history. It requires 36 cr of course work in art history and 6 cr in studio art. It does not include a minor; however, with permission of the art history advisor, up to 6 credits of work in related areas—studio art, literature, or history, for example—may be substituted for art history courses within the required 36 credits.

As in the case of the 24-credit major, the sequence begins with one of the introductory courses, is followed by 5 elective courses in art history, and includes the advanced Research Seminar, ART H 368.

The Department of Biological Sciences at Hunter College stresses excellence in both teaching and research. There are fully equipped laboratories that operate with major federal grant support, and students are strongly encouraged to get involved in laboratory research. Recent awards have led to the creation of The Institute for Biomolecular Structure and Function at Hunter College. The Institute consists of faculty from both Biological Sciences and Chemistry working in the areas of biomolecular structure and function. The Institute has provided a state-of-the-art DNA and protein synthesis and sequencing facility housed within the department and is providing funds for the construction of new departmental research facilities and the upgrading of current facilities.

The core curriculum in biological sciences prepares students for admission to both graduate and medical schools and for careers in the biological sciences including teaching, and the growing industry of biotechnology. The curriculum emphasizes cell biology, molecular biology and genetics as the foundation for future careers in fields related to biological science.
Majoring in Biological Science  The Department of Biological Sciences offers two major programs: Major I is for students who intend to prepare for graduate study, medicine, dentistry, secondary school teaching, biotechnology and industry. Major II is for students preparing to teach in elementary schools. Students planning to pursue Major I are strongly encouraged to declare their major as soon as possible so that they can begin taking the many pre- and corequisites for the major. As soon as a student decides to major in the Department of Biological Sciences at Hunter, he or she is assigned a permanent faculty advisor. This advisor will assist in creating a curriculum that will prepare the student for the career in biology that most interests the student. Students are required to meet with their advisor at least once each semester throughout their undergraduate career to discuss their program and their progress.

MAJOR I

This plan consists of 27.5 credits, including a 17.5-credit core of required courses and 10 credits of electives. The CR/NCR grade will not be accepted for courses taken to fulfill the major or the minor.

Prerequisites or corequisites for Major I  CHEM 102, 103, 104, 105, 222, 223, 224, 225, PHYS 110, 120 (or 111, 112); MATH 150, 155.

Core (17.5 cr)  BIOL 200, 202, 300, 302 (BIOL 100, 102 are required but not credited toward Major I).

Electives (10 cr)  Students may select the remainder of their credits toward Major I from advanced courses in the biological sciences according to the scheme below. However, students must take at least one special topics course (BIOL 470 and 471). Various topics will be offered each semester.

1. 300-level electives: Students must take at least one 300-level course offering listed in the catalog in addition to BIOL 300 and 302.

2. Advanced (400-level) electives: Advanced courses at the 400 level or graduate courses (permission and major advisor required) may be taken in addition to or possibly to substitute for one of the courses listed in (1). Students with strong interdisciplinary interests may select advanced course offerings in other departments after approval by their advisor.

3. Honors in biology: For honors in biology, eligible students must take BIOL 480-483 and present their results in a format to be determined by their mentor (2 cr minimum).

Minor for Major I  12 cr from one of the following fields is recommended: chemistry, physics, public health, mathematics, anthropology, and psychology. Other minors may be obtained with the permission of your advisor. Other minors must consist of at least 2 courses beyond the basic requirements. (Note: The required chemistry courses, CHEM 102–105 and 222–225, fulfill the requirements for a chemistry minor.)

Minor  The biology minor must include at least 2 courses beyond the distribution requirement.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR UNDERGRADUATES IN BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

Undergraduate Research  Students who wish to undertake a research project under the supervision of a faculty member should consult the faculty member with whom they wish to work and register for BIOL 480-483. This course is required for students who want to qualify for departmental honors at graduation. Faculty permission is required. Research opportunities for undergraduates at Hunter are available in a variety of relevant areas including cancer biology, developmental biology, neurosciences, AIDS and other contemporary areas of cell and molecular biology. Students also may participate in field projects at the Marine Biological Laboratory in Woods Hole, Mass. In some cases students may arrange to do research at one of the several neighboring biomedical institutions.

Honors Work  Students who want to qualify for departmental honors must complete at least one semester of BIOL 480-483, complete a written report during the senior year resulting from work done in BIOL 480-483, and have an overall GPA of 2.8 and a departmental GPA of 3.5.

BA/MA Program in Biopharmacology  A special biological sciences BA/MA combined degree program in biopharmacology is open to a limited number of undergraduate majors. It offers students the opportunity to complete both the bachelor's and master's degree requirements in 5 years, taking the final 2 years of lab and course work in the Department of Pharmacology at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Interested students should contact the Department of Biological Sciences as early as possible regarding eligibility and curriculum requirements.

BA/MS Program in Biological Sciences/Environmental and Occupational Health Sciences  This is an accelerated program leading to a BA in biology and an MS in environmental and occupational health sciences in 5 years. Biology majors admitted to the program start graduate work in their senior year. Interested students should contact a departmental adviser early in their undergraduate studies for more information. This program provides biology majors with a career option in public health.

CAREER PLANNING

Graduate Study  Biology majors are encouraged to register for graduate courses in their senior year. Laboratory research under faculty supervision (see undergraduate research above) is extremely valuable for gaining admission to graduate schools. Students planning to apply to graduate school should consult with their advisor as early in their college career as possible.

Professional Schools  Students who plan to apply to schools of medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine should consult with their advisor and see the pre-professional advisor in the North Building, room 313.

Preparation for Teaching  In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Biological Sciences offers opportunities for students to prepare for a teaching career in the secondary schools. Students who want to teach biology and general science at the secondary level should select Major I. BIOL 460 is strongly recommended as an elective. BIOL 460 provides qualified majors with a unique opportunity to do laboratory teaching.

Preparation for Industry and Biotechnology  Students interested in careers in the rapidly growing field of biotechnology should consult with their advisor as early as possible. Students should also take graduate courses during their senior year and consider obtaining a master's degree as well.

The Department of Black and Puerto Rican Studies was established on the initiative of students and faculty in 1968. The curriculum provides for creative and multidisciplinary study of the past, present, and future of Africans and peoples of African descent throughout the world, and Puerto Ricans in Puerto Rico and the United States. Emphasis is placed on their historical and cultural achievements and on their resistance to systematic racism, colonial exploitation, enslavement, and oppression. The faculty's educational backgrounds encompass such disciplines as anthropology, economics, education, history, law, literature, linguistics, political science, public administration, and sociology.

The department prepares students for careers in government, education, and community organizations; for entrance to professional schools such as law, social work, and urban planning; and for graduate study and research in the social sciences and humanities. Graduates of the department have followed careers in journalism, counseling, teaching. Some work in museums; others have entered politics; still others have careers in private industry or in human services, as self-employed professionals.

Students majoring in nursing or the health sciences, psychology, political science, communications, sociology, history, and many other subject areas often choose to minor in Black and Puerto Rican Studies, particularly when their career interests include activities with peoples other than European in origin. Similarly, students preparing to teach, and therefore minor in education, often choose to major in Black and Puerto Rican Studies as a specialty subject in the elementary and secondary school curriculum.
Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Code DR applies to BLPR 241 and 242; codes DX and DW apply to the following courses in Black and Puerto Rican Studies: BLPR 143, 235-237, 245-247, all 300- and 400-level courses. Codes DX, DW, and DM apply to BLPR 181. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  No courses offered toward fulfillment of the major may also be offered toward the distribution requirement. The department suggests that students who are considering graduate study of this subject select French or Spanish, Swahili or Yoruba to meet the foreign language distribution requirement (Category III).

Program of Study

Students may concentrate their program of study in the social science or humanities offerings of the department or in a combination thereof. This concentration may be pursued in the African sequence or Puerto Rican sequence or in a combination of both.

Major  The major consists of 30 credits, not including department courses taken to fulfill the distribution requirement. Courses to be taken are as follows:

1. 6 credits from among the courses BLPR 201.50-201.51, 202.50-202.51, 241, 242, 101.
2. 3 credits from BLPR 281.1, 281.2.
3. 21 credits, of which at least 12 must be taken in 300- and 400-level courses. At least 3 credits must be taken in Puerto Rican studies if the student's concentration is in Africana studies and vice versa.

Minor  The minor should be chosen in consultation with the student's department advisor. A student may choose 12 credits from the humanities or social sciences, or 6 credits each from the humanities and social sciences.

Preparation for Teaching  In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Black and Puerto Rican Studies provides opportunities for students to prepare for careers in teaching at the secondary and elementary level. Students who want to qualify for licensing in New York City or certification in New York State should consult the Education section of this catalogue. Additional information can be obtained from the department's Teacher Education Program coordinator. Students who want to use the education sequence for a minor should file notice of their intention on the Registrar's Choice of Major-Minor Concentration form not later than the upper sophomore semester.

The Department of Chemistry offers courses to prepare the science major for professional work and further study in chemistry and other fields of pure and applied science. Courses for the non-science major are designed to present those essentials of chemical fact and theory which will contribute to the student's understanding of present-day scientific knowledge.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX, DM, and DP apply to all CHEM courses. In addition, code DW applies to all 200-, 300-, and 400-level CHEM courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  No more than 9 credits of chemistry may also be offered toward the distribution requirement. We suggest, but do not require, that students who are thinking of continuing the study of chemistry on the doctoral level elect German, French, or Russian to meet the foreign language portion of the distribution requirement. We also recommend that students learn a programming language.

No chemistry course can satisfy the distribution requirement unless credit has been earned in both lecture and corresponding lab.

Major  There are 2 chemistry majors: Major I, a 40-credit concentration, is designed to prepare the student with intensive training for professional research and graduate study. Major II, a 26-credit concentration, when combined with a 12-credit approved allied minor, will prepare the student for a career in medicine, dentistry, industry, or teaching.

Students considering a chemistry major should consult the departmental advisor during their first semester to plan the proper sequence of courses, and they are urged to consult with the advisor at least once each succeeding semester. General Chem lectures I and II or A, B, & C and General Chem Labs 1 & 2 are prerequisites for admission to both Major I and Major II.

Chemistry Major I  The requirements for this major consist of 40 credits in chemistry. There is no allied minor. This major is recommended for students preparing for admission to graduate school or for careers in chemical research. It will also be useful to students seeking a position in the chemical or allied industries, as it is accredited by the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemical Society.

The 40-credit major consists of CHEM 222 with 223, 224 with 225, 352, 354 or 356 with 255, 257, 349, and 366. In addition, 2 additional lecture courses must be chosen from among the following: CHEM 226, 234 or 236, 137, 377, and 345. Also acceptable for completion of Major I are PHYS 330, PHILO 382 or 370. Students should be aware, however, that if either of the philosophy courses is used to complete the Major I requirements, the major will not be eligible for accreditation by the American Chemical Society. One year of physics, PHYS 111 and 121, and 4 semesters of mathematics, MATH 150, 155, 250, and 254, are also required for this major; CHEM 249, MATH 150 and 155, and PHYS 121 are prerequisites for CHEM 352 and should be completed by the end of the sophomore year. College Russian or German sufficient to meet Hunter's distribution requirement in foreign languages is required.

Major I is required of all students who wish to be considered for certification by the American Chemical Society upon graduation. It is recommended for all students intending to enter the profession of chemistry through either graduate study or employment in industry or government.

Students who can attend only in the evenings should consult the department advisor regarding the feasibility of completing chemistry Major I.

Chemistry Major II  The requirement for this major consists of 26 credits in chemistry with 12 credits of an approved minor. The 26 credits are earned from the following courses: CHEM 222 with 223, 224 with 225, 249, 352, 354 or 356 with 255, and 257. One year of physics, PHYS 111 and 121, and 3 semesters of mathematics, MATH 150, 155, and 250, are also required for Major II. Majors must satisfy the College foreign language requirement and may select the language of their choice. Major II is recommended for those preparing for admission to medical and dental schools, certification as secondary school teachers of chemistry, and positions in the chemical industry.

Minors for Major II  Any combination of the required physics and math courses, totaling 12 credits, may be used as a minor. If students prefer to elect a different minor, they must consult with the department advisor or chair.

Honors Work  Opportunity for individual research experience provided by honors course, CHEM 491—Introduction to Research.

Electives  Advanced lecture courses in special areas of chemistry, and lab courses providing training in inorganic and organic chemistry and in research techniques, are offered as electives for Major I and are open to students enrolled in Major II who have fulfilled the course prerequisites.

Graduate Study  Qualified chemistry majors may be admitted to 700-level courses in the graduate program. Permission of the department is required.

Preparation for Teaching  In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Chemistry provides opportunities for students to prepare for careers in teaching at the secondary level in the areas of chemistry and general science. Students who wish to qualify for the New York City teaching license and/or New York State certification for teaching in secondary schools should consult the Education section of this catalogue.

EDUC 362, a course in methods of teaching chemistry in secondary schools, is provided as an option for accepted seniors.

In addition to a course in methods of teaching chemistry or general science, students preparing to teach in secondary schools must take 21 credits in education. Details of these requirements and all descriptions of education courses, including the courses in methods, will be found in the Education section of this catalogue.

The ancient cultures of Greece and Rome have shaped much of our own civilization: our government, education, and even our ways of thinking. The themes and ideas of classical mythology and literature deeply influenced the development of the art, music, and literature of Western Europe; classical studies thus can provide the keys to understanding both other cultures and our own.

The classics division of the Department of Classical and Oriental Studies offers a full range of studies in the worlds of ancient Greece, Rome, and the Mediterranean, from a single course in classical myth or Egyptian archaeology to majors in Greek, Latin, classical archaeology, or classical studies. Students who want to know about the classical world without learning its languages can choose from courses in civilization, literature, myth and religion, and archaeology. In addition, the division participates in Hunter’s interdepartmental programs in religion, comparative literature, archaeology, and women’s studies.

Careers in research, government, and education use skills developed in classical studies, and a major in classics provides an excellent foundation for many professional programs, such as law. In addition, specialized careers — college and high school teaching, museum work, library cataloging — are open to professional classicists and archaeologists.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. For courses in the classics division, the following codes apply: codes DR and DL for CLA 110; codes DX and DY for CLA 101-210 and 220-227; codes DX and DY for CLA 322-327; codes DX and DW for CLA 250-305, 329, and 330; and codes DX, DW, and DM for CLA 328. For an explanation of the codes see pages 28-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  Greek or Latin may be taken to fulfill the foreign language requirement (Category III). The literature requirement (Category IV, Part 2) may be fulfilled by a literature course in the original language or in English translation. One of the following courses may be taken to fulfill the humanities and the arts component (Category V, Group 3): CLA 101, 110, 201, 203, 220, 225, 226, 227.

Majors  Students who want to major in classics have 5 choices:

1. Greek 24 credits of Greek above 101–102, and a corequisite of LAT 101–102 or equivalent.
2. Latin 24 credits of Latin above 101–102, and a corequisite of GRK 101–102 or equivalent.
3. Greek and Latin 18-20 credits each of Greek and Latin (may include 101–102).

4. Classical Studies 12–14 credits of either Greek or Latin, including 101–102, and 12 credits of classics courses given in English (CLA prefix).

5. Classical Archaeology 24 credits from the interdepartmental course pool, including CLA 220, 221, and 222, with a corequisite of 12–14 credits of Greek or Latin. Offered within the interdepartmental archaeology major.

Minors 12 credits in Greek, Latin, classical studies, or classical archaeology. Courses used for the distribution requirement may also be used for the major or minor where applicable. Each course is credited separately, with the exception of GRK 101–102 and LAT 101–102.

Honors, Tutorials, Preparation for Secondary School Teaching Consult the division head for these special programs.

Associate Professors  Bathrick, Gibbons, Mader, Newman, Roman, Ross
Assistant Professors  Ramsey, Gold
Lecturers  Ayravainen, Fleishman, Shore

Students majoring in the Department of Communications may fulfill their requirements in either the media studies or the human communication sequence. Students majoring in one sequence may not minor in the other sequence. Students majoring in either sequence, however, are encouraged to take courses in the other sequence for elective credits.

Courses in human communication provide theoretical perspectives and practical applications in such areas as small group analysis, psychological and intercultural processes of communication, organizational communication, nonverbal messages, conflict resolution, and public communication and debate.

The media studies program examines the interplay among media organizations and other institutions of social power. Media control and responsibility, media history and criticism, mass culture, media aesthetics, media technology, broadcasting (commercial and public), cable and the new technologies, international communication, telecommunications policy, journalism skills, radio production, and TV production skills constitute the areas of study within the media studies curriculum.

In addition to their classroom activities, students are given the opportunity to earn elective credits and experience the real world of the communications field through Hunter College's Inservice Learning Program. The institutions participating in this program include newspapers, television networks and stations, record companies, public relations and advertising companies, municipal government agencies, and alternative media.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX and DW apply to all COMM and MEDIA courses except for COMM 101 and 110. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  COMM 160 or MEDIA 180 are the only courses in communications that fulfill the distribution requirement (humanities and the arts, Category V, Group 2).

Major Sequence in Human Communication

Students concentrating in the human communication sequence have 2 options from which to choose in fulfilling major requirements. COMM 160 Introduction to Human Communication is the prerequisite for all human communication courses unless otherwise stated. It does not count toward the major, but can be counted toward the distribution requirement or elective credits.

In addition to COMM 160, students must take 8 other human communication courses for a total of 24 credits.

Option A

- COMM 160 Introduction to Human Communication
- Two 200-level courses
- Six 300-level courses

Option B

- COMM 160 Introduction to Human Communication
- Three 200-level courses
- Five 300-level courses

Majors in the human communication sequence are encouraged to take COMM 101 Voice and Articulation and COMM 110 Effective Listening as elective credits.

The human communication sequence also periodically includes special topics courses (COMM 299, 399) and a seminar (COMM 499). In some cases these courses may be counted towards the 24-credit major. Students should check with the departmental advisors to determine whether these courses count toward the major or as elective credits.

Students may also receive elective credits by doing an independent study (COMM 401) or honors project (COMM 402), or for work performed at an approved host institution through the Inservice Learning Program (COMM 498). Information about requirements and application procedures for the above may be obtained from the departmental advisors.

Major Sequence in Media Studies

The program in media studies is committed to providing students with an historical, analytical, and interpretive appreciation of the role of the media in contemporary societies; advanced courses with this conceptual and/or research orientation are offered at the 300 level. In addition, the media studies curriculum is designed to foster strong expository media skills; these skills courses in media practice and production are offered at the 200 level.

Students majoring in the media studies sequence must take MEDIA 180 Introduction to Media Studies, which is the prerequisite for all other media studies courses. It does not count toward the major, but can be counted toward the distribution requirement or elective credits.

In addition to Media 160, students must take 8 other media studies courses for a total of 24 credits.

At least 5 of these courses (15 credits) must be taken in the analytical segment of the curriculum. This segment includes all the 300-level courses (see discussion below about special topics Media 299 and 399 courses). Students should consult a departmental advisor to plan choice and sequence of courses.

A maximum of 3 courses (9 credits) from the media practice and production segments of the curriculum (200-level courses in print journalism, radio production, and television production) may be applied to the 24-credit major. These courses are recommended but not required for the completion of the major. Additional practice and production courses count as elective credits.

The media studies sequence also periodically includes special topics courses (MEDIA 299 and 399) and a seminar (MEDIA 499). In some cases, these courses may be counted towards the 24-credit major. Students should check with a departmental advisor to determine whether these courses count towards the major or as elective credits.

Students may also receive elective credits by doing an independent study (MEDIA 401) or honors project (MEDIA 402), or for work performed at an approved institution through the Inservice Learning Program (MEDIA 498). Information about requirements and applications procedures for the above may be obtained from the departmental advisors.

Minor All communications majors must compete a 12-credit minor in another department. The 12 credits must include two 3-credit courses at any level; one 3-credit course at the 200 level or higher; and one 3-credit course at the 300 level. The department does not accept split minors. Students should consult with a departmental advisor in the choice of a minor. 3 credits of the minor may also be used to fulfill a distribution requirement.

Double Majors Students may choose to complete a major in the Department of Communications and a second major in another department. This does not exclude the need for a minor in a third department. The minor can be approved by either of the two major departments.

Electives All courses in the department may be taken toward a minor or as electives by students with majors in other departments, provided that the necessary prerequisites have been met. In certain circumstances these prerequisites can be waived with permission of the instructor.

Comparative Literature

Program Office West Building room 1201, phone 772-5163

Chair Gerald Pincus

Committee Pincus (English), Alexander (Russian), James (German), Nimetz (Spanish)

The interdepartmental major-minor in comparative literature is designed for students who are interested in a broad view of literature, in the interrelationships among literatures, and in a more flexible course of study than that offered by the individual literature departments. The study of comparative literature entails not simply a comparing of related works in different languages or the tracing of influences among writers from different countries. It also considers literary movements and genres as well as techniques and recurring themes in world literature.

Students who major in comparative literature are especially well qualified for careers, such as teaching or translating, that make use of their language training. They are also well prepared for those professions, such as law and medicine, that recognize the importance of a broad humanistic education.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX and DW apply to all comparative literature courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement Any course in comparative literature may be used to fulfill Part 2 of the literature distribution requirement (Category IV). No more than 8 credits in the major-minor in comparative literature may also be offered toward the distribution requirement.

Students who are considering the study of comparative literature on the doctoral level should try to gain proficiency in no fewer than 2 foreign languages with rich literary traditions—e.g., French, Italian, German, Spanish, or Russian.

Major-Minor Requirements Because the study of at least 2 literatures in different languages is essential, students must elect a combined major-minor in comparative literature. A good knowledge of one major foreign language, modern or classical (i.e. the ability to take 300-level courses), is therefore a prerequisite. A reading knowledge of a third language is helpful.

All majors take a core course in methodology, but the remaining classes in a student's program are arranged with the advisor in an effort to work out a balance between 2 different literatures, 2 different literary periods, and 2 different genres. In addition to comparative literature courses in prose fiction, drama, myth and folklore, literary movements, and literature and the arts, majors may also elect appropriate classes from such disciplines as history, philosophy, art, and anthropology.

Upon becoming a major, students will consult with the chair, choose one member of the comparative literature committee as their advisor and plan a coherent, individualized program. All majors are required to review their programs with the advisor once a semester.

The major-minor consists of 36 credits distributed as follows:

A. Concentration in at least 2 periods, one of them before 1830, and in 2 genres (e.g. the novel and drama).

B. At least 6 cr and no more than 9 cr in COMPL- prefixed courses. COMPL 301 is required of all majors.

C. 21-24 cr in literature courses at the 300-level, distributed so that at least 9 cr are in one or more foreign languages studied in the original language, and 12 cr, constituting a major, in a single literature. A meaningful balance between at least 2 literatures must be achieved.

D. 6 cr chosen from among the following: CLA 210, 250, 251, 253; ENGL 381, 382; HEBR 281; CHIN 111; BLPR 201, 201.51, 200; HIST 310, 331; ANTHC 303; PHILO 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 215, 228, 234, 314, 316, 318; HUM 380, 381.

COURSE LISTINGS

The offerings of the comparative literature program are determined by the needs of students in the program and the faculty available. For specific information, consult the advisor.

Note: Before reading the course descriptions that follow, please refer to the paragraph on course access codes (e.g., DX, DW) in this section.

COMPL 301 Seminar: Approaches to Comparative Literature 3 hrs, 3 cr. Study of selected major works to demonstrate scope and various approaches of comparative literature. Focus on conscious imitations, treatment of similar themes, use of well-defined genres and conventions as well as of concepts from history of ideas. Emphasis on close reading of texts and development of critical vocabulary. Required of all majors in comparative literature.

COMPL 320, 321 Comparative Studies in Prose Fiction 3 hrs, 3 cr each. May be taken more than once when content varies.

COMPL 330, 331 Comparative Studies in Drama 3 hrs, 3 cr each. May be taken more than once when content varies.

COMPL 340 Perspectives on Literature and the Arts 3 hrs, 3 cr. May be taken more than once when topic varies.

COMPL 350, 351 Comparative Studies in Literary Movements 3 hrs, 3 cr each. May be taken more than once when topic varies.

In laboratory courses, students can use a broad spectrum of programming languages and machine architectures and are expected to construct creative solutions to challenging problems in a variety of contexts. In addition, students are educated in the mathematics of computer science—the theoretical foundations that support current technology and will guide its future development. Graduate courses in the department are open to advanced undergraduate majors.

The department's faculty engage in research, write monographs and textbooks, publish regularly in highly respected journals, and obtain grants from government and private sources. Adjunct faculty are highly competent professionals in a variety of specialized technical fields. The department takes an active interest in students' goals and provides extensive advising and guidance.

- performing and choreography human movement studies teaching of dance teaching of dance therapy
- dance therapy

The undergraduate advisor suggests the appropriate sequence of electives for the career specialization the student chooses.

Minor Students minoring in dance are required to take DAN 111, 112, 211, and 6 additional credits from the core courses or the suggested electives. All minors should consult the undergraduate advisor before selecting their sequence of courses.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DR, DL, DY, and DM apply to ECO 100; codes DR, DL, DY, DM, and DP apply to all other courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  No courses offered toward fulfillment of the major may also be offered toward the distribution requirement. Unless a student splits a minor between 2 departments, 6 credits of the minor may be offered toward the distribution requirement.

Majors  The Department of Economics offers 2 majors: The BA in Economics, requiring a minimum of 24 credits, and the BS in Accounting, requiring a minimum of 27 credits of accounting and an additional 36 credits of professional studies. Details are outlined below.

Grade Options  Students may choose the system under which they are to be graded. The department strongly urges economics majors who plan to go on to graduate or professional school to choose letter grades. Students enrolled in the BS (accounting) curriculum must have letter grades in the 27 credits of prescribed accounting courses.

Prerequisites  Courses must be completed with at least a grade of C or CR to satisfy prerequisite requirements. Students who have not satisfactorily completed prerequisites are not admitted to higher level courses in economics.

Preparation for Teaching  In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Economics provides opportunities to earn, in conjunction with study in other disciplines of the Social Sciences Division, a certificate of qualification from the New York State Education Department to teach social studies on the secondary level. Interested students should consult the Education section of this catalogue.

Interdepartmental Fields  Students may take courses in economics as part of an interdepartmental field in Latin American and Caribbean Studies, energy policy studies, women's studies, and Jewish social studies. Listings in each area discuss recommended courses.

Urban Studies  Students who have selected the major-minor concentration in urban studies may select work in economics to complete the 12-credit related social science component. Students in this program should consult the undergraduate advisor in the Department of Urban Affairs before making course selections.

Internships  The Department of Economics does not grant credit for participation in internships as such. Participants in programs approved by the College may, however, obtain credit for independent study in areas of economics to which an internship is related. An independent study of this kind must be supervised by a faculty member in the appropriate area. It is the student's responsibility to contact the faculty member and make arrangements.

Accelerated BA/MA Program in Economics  The Department of Economics offers promising students the opportunity to complete both the BA and MA degrees within 125-131 credits, 30 of which must be at the graduate level. The program is open to talented and highly motivated students who maintain a GPA of 3.0 in economics as well as in the cumulative index. All students in the BA/MA program must complete ECO 220, 221, 300, 301, and 321, or their equivalents. An undergraduate major in economics is normally re-required. Thomas Hunter honors students may be admitted without declaring an undergraduate economics major, provided that the above courses are completed. To apply, send a letter of application and undergraduate transcript to the Department of Economics BA/MA advisor.

Departmental Honors Students with a 3.5 GPA in economics and an overall 2.8 GPA at the beginning of the upper senior semester may apply for departmental honors at that time. Registration in ECO 499 and submission of an honors paper are required. Honors papers are written under the supervision of a senior faculty member and defended before a faculty committee. GPA levels must be maintained for the award of departmental honors.

BA Degree in Economics

Major To declare a major in economics, students must have completed at least ECO 200 and 201 with a C or better in each course.
They should bring their grade record to the department advisor when they declare the major. Students majoring in economics must take:

A. ECO 200 and 201. These courses must be completed prior to declaring a BA major in economics. Although required, they cannot be credited to the major; but may be applied toward the social sciences category of the distribution requirement.
Students may begin the study of economics with either ECO 200 or 201, but they are advised to take ECO 100 before 200 or 201 if they have not had recent exposure to economics in high school. If taken, ECO 100 cannot be substituted for either ECO 200 or 201 or credited toward the major.

B. ECO 220, 221, 321, and 300 or 301. These courses, along with ECO 200 and 201 (as described above), are the core of the economics major. Students are urged to complete the core courses as soon as possible before proceeding to higher level courses in economics.

The department may waive the requirement of any of the above or other courses upon satisfactory proof of course equivalency or a Department of Economics examination that establishes competence. Courses waived through substitution or examination do not provide course credit nor do they count toward the major.

C. Elective courses. Any remaining credits needed to complete the 24-credit major shall be satisfied by any other courses offered by the department. Students are advised to consult with department advisors regarding choice of electives.

Minor Economics majors may choose a minor from any other department of the College. The department particularly recom-dands MATH 150 and MATH 155 as electives. The department also allows a split minor (i.e., 6 credits each from 2 related departments).

The department recommends minors in mathematics and computer science, either separately or in combination. See the paragraph on the distribution requirement in this section to learn how courses in the minor may be credited toward the College distribution requirement.

BS (Accounting) Degree

The degree of bachelor of science (accounting) offered at Hunter College fulfills educational requirements for the CPA examination in New York State.

All students contemplating a career in accounting should request an interview with the director of the accounting program or a department advisor during the lower semester term. To assure completion of the BS (accounting) degree within 4 years, a full-time student should begin the accounting major sequence in the upper freshman term, if possible, and no later than the lower sophomore term by registering for ECO 271. To be approved as a major in the accounting program, a student must have completed either ECO 200 or ECO 201 and ECO 271.

Distribution Requirement (65 cr) Students working for a BS (accounting) degree must complete the Hunter-wide distribution requirement shown on pages 22-24, except that:

A. In Category I, in addition to 6-10 cr in science (which may not be fulfilled with computer science courses), they must choose 2 courses from among ECO 220, MATH 111, 150, or 155.

B. In Category III, the foreign language requirement is different:

1. Students who present 3 or more years of one foreign language* are excused from taking additional foreign language courses;

2. Students who present 2 years of one foreign language* must take 2 additional courses of advanced-level work in the same language or, if they do not want to go on with that language in college, they must take 4 courses in another foreign language at the college level;

3. Students who present less than 2 years of one foreign language* must take 4 courses in that or any other foreign language at the college level.

C. In Category IV, 6 cr from subdivision 1 only.

D. In Category VI, 3 of the 12 required credits must be in ECO 201. (ECO 200, which must be taken as part of the professional studies requirement, does not help to fulfill the Category VI distribution requirement for accounting majors.)

Professional Studies (63 cr)

Accounting (27 cr) ECO 271, 272, 371, 372, 373, 374, 471, 472, 475. An overall C average must be maintained in these 27 cr.

Business Law (6 cr) ECO 280, 380.

Statistics (6 cr) ECO 221 and 321 or an additional business-core elective in lieu of 321.

Finance (6 cr) ECO 210, 365, 366.

Business Core

required (6 cr) ECO 200 and one course in computer science electives (12 cr) ECO 280, 390, 301, 310, 315, 340, 341, 355, 360, 361, 382, 386, 387, 473, 474, 475, 480 and one additional course in computer science if desired. (With departmental permission, other courses may be used as business-core electives.)

Electives Any remaining credits needed to complete the 128 credits required for the BS (accounting) degree must be in liberal arts electives.

Teacher education programs at Hunter College are committed to the preparation of teachers for urban elementary and secondary schools who can deal effectively with the wide range of diverse learning needs found among the City's students. This goal is evidenced in classroom activities, laboratory experiences, and field placements that reflect the cultural and ethnic richness and diversity found in the schools of New York City.
All students who take education as a collateral major, as a minor, or as a series of electives at Hunter must major in a liberal arts subject. In other words, students who take any program in education do so in addition to fulfilling both the distribution requirement and the requirements for a liberal arts major.

A student who completes an undergraduate sequence in elementary or secondary education approved by the New York State Education Department fulfills the academic requirements for New York State Provisional Certification and is eligible to take the New York City license examination in the area studied. (See sections below on New York State certification and New York City licensing for more information.)

The Division of Programs in Education also offers non-certifying minors in education and in counseling. These are described below.

The Office of Educational Services

This office provides support services to students enrolled in classes offered by the 4 teacher education departments of the Division of Programs in Education. The primary areas of services provided include: coordination of admission, advisement, and registration; student teaching and field placement; teacher certification; teacher placement; and various student services—permits, transfer of credit, evaluation of foreign credentials, waivers, leaves of absence, etc.

Advisement in the Office of Educational Services is by appointment only except in emergency situations. The office maintains regular office hours throughout the academic year (September 1—May 31), staying open on select evenings to provide advice to working students and evening session students. Hours may vary during registration periods, during the summer months, and when classes are not in session. Office hours are posted outside room 1000W.

The Office of Student Teaching

Students in certifying programs in education are required to do student teaching under supervision. The coordinator of student teaching places eligible students in one of several schools established by the faculty as "clinical centers"—schools in which the diversity of background and range of educational needs of the students is typical for New York City schools.

All students must secure Division permission for student teaching. Application conferences for student teaching are held in November (for the following spring semester) and in April (for the following fall semester). Announcements of these conferences are posted outside room 1000W.

New York State Certification

The undergraduate sequences in education described below (unless otherwise indicated) have been approved by the New York State Education Department to lead to Provisional Certification for teaching in New York State. To earn this certificate the student must successfully complete the approved program of study, obtain the BA or BS degree, and pass the required National Teacher’s Examination. The Office of Educational Services processes the certification applications of students who complete all of these requirements.

The certificate permits the holder to teach for 5 years, during which time earning an approved master’s degree and completing at least 2 years of full-time teaching in the certificate title will lead to permanent certification. Citizenship is required for permanent state certification.

New York State certification is reciprocally accepted by many other states upon application. Students with questions about certification should make an appointment for advisement in the Office of Educational Services.

New York City Licensing

Students who complete approved sequences of study will be eligible to take the New York City Board of Education’s license examination. Since these examinations are not given regularly, the Board of Education offers a Temporary Per Diem Certification (TPDC) upon application. The TPDC allows the teacher to teach as soon as a position is available, while awaiting the regular license examination in the title of choice. License examination schedules are posted in the Office of Educational Services.

Office of Teacher Placement

This office provides professional teacher placement services for:

1. Undergraduates at Hunter College who are enrolled in student teaching while working toward New York State Provisional Certification.

2. Students with degrees from Hunter College who have completed at least 12 education credits at Hunter and the College’s course in student teaching (or at least one year of full-time teaching).

It is common practice for school administrators to request teacher placement files during interviews for teaching positions. Therefore, students are urged to establish their files during the semester in which they student teach and to maintain and update the files during the job search period. This service helps students seeking jobs locally, nationally, and internationally.

Registration

Because of the intricacies of certifying programs, students are required to see advisors prior to or during registration in order to secure signed and stamped approval for courses in education. The Division of Programs in Education allows early registration during April for fall and during November for spring. The Division also requires students to meet with a member of the advising staff prior to registration. Students are urged to read the Schedule of Classes, particularly the education note in the section titled "Notes," or to consult the bulletin boards outside room 1000W to determine the best times to see the appropriate advisors or program coordinators. Students are also required to bring student copies of transcripts to allow for informed advisement.

Transfer Students

Transfer students who have begun studies at another college must see an education advisor before entering any sequence in education. Courses taken at the college previously attended must be evaluated and a program of education studies developed. All transfer students seeking advisor approval must show... transcripts and catalogue course descriptions of all college coursework taken before entering Hunter.

Non-Degree Students  Non-degree students may be allowed to take courses in secondary education only on a limited basis if course enrollments permit and if they meet program requirements. Non-degree students must secure advisement and course approval during registration. Such students may be graduates of a 4-year college or students matriculated for a 4-year degree at another college; the latter must have written permission from that college to take education courses at Hunter.

Non-degree students may arrange an advisement appointment during the semester with the Office of Educational Services or may see advisors during the registration period according to the schedule of advising in the Schedule of Classes. Non-degree students must present a current student transcript of all prior college work to the advisor from whom they seek permission to register. The Division of Programs in Education reserves the right to determine which courses are granted approval; this determination will be based on entry and prerequisite requirements and on divisional policies and practices in addition to professional judgment.

Hunter College Campus Schools

The Campus Schools are located at Park Avenue and 94th Street in Manhattan. They serve as a laboratory for observation, demonstration, research, curriculum design, and other projects involving their students, all of whom score in the range of the gifted on intelligence and achievement tests. Students are admitted to the Schools on the basis of competitive testing. Efforts are on-going to identify gifted disadvantaged children who meet the Schools' rigorous standards for admission to nursery, kindergarten, and grade 7 (the 3 levels at which students are admitted).

Hunter College Elementary School Children are admitted to the Hunter College Elementary School nursery school during the calendar year in which they reach 4 years of age, and to the kindergarten during the calendar year in which they reach age 5. Only Manhattan residents are eligible to apply.

Hunter College High School The Hunter College High School is a 5-year junior-senior high school. The academic program stresses both acceleration and enrichment and provides students with a classical education. Research focuses on the development of curriculum, teaching strategies, and other educational processes that maintain and advance a "state of the art" approach to the education of intellectually gifted students.

THE COLLATERAL MAJOR IN EARLY CHILDHOOD AND ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Coordinator Kimberly Kinsler, West Building room 1000, phone 772-4623

The program of study for the B.A. degree at Hunter College consists of 125 credits. All students must major in a liberal arts subject. Students may pursue a program in early childhood and elementary education as a collateral major. The 125 credits required for the B.A. degree are distributed as follows for students pursuing teacher preparation sequences in early childhood and elementary education:

| Distribution requirement of liberal arts courses | 41-55 credits |
| Major area of study | minimum of 24 credits |
| Collateral major in education | 34 credits |
| Electives | 0-26 credits |

Coursework in Liberal Arts

Teachers in elementary schools are required to teach all subject areas in the curriculum and thus need a broad liberal arts background in addition to specialized knowledge of teaching. Therefore, students will be required to complete six credits in each of the following areas: English, mathematics, science, social studies,* and foreign language. This can be done almost entirely within the college distribution requirement.

All students pursuing the program in early childhood and elementary education must take two specific courses in mathematics, namely MATH 103 Mathematics for Elementary Education, and MATH 191 Mathematics in Human History. One course in Black and Puerto Rican Studies, from the courses listed within the distribution requirement, is likewise required for students in the early childhood and elementary education program.

The courses listed below have been identified as being particularly relevant for students planning to enter the early childhood and elementary education program. Students are strongly advised to take these courses in fulfilling distribution requirements outside their major subject area, and in fulfilling the requirements for six credits in each of the subject areas of English, mathematics, science, social studies,* and foreign language.

The QUEST (Quality Urban Elementary School Teachers) Program at Hunter College fulfills academic requirements for New York State provisional certification in early childhood and elementary education, nursery through sixth grade. QUEST courses, which are taught in the public schools, are available only during day session hours. QUEST is an integrated, holistic program. In order to maintain its integrity, no more than six credits of coursework completed at other institutions may be used toward this collateral major. Only coursework equivalent to the first six credits within the QUEST program will be accepted for this purpose.

* The State Education Department defines social studies to include history, economics, sociology, cultural anthropology, political science, and geography.

Organization of the QUEST Program

Introductory Semester (6 credits) QST B 200, QST B 201

This term consists of a 4-credit course and a 2-credit practicum. Students must register for both courses together. Students will meet two mornings a week in a public school. On each of these two mornings, students will spend two hours in a didactic class and two hours observing and assisting in classrooms.

Bridge Semester(s)

This is the period between the introductory semester and the Intensive Year. Students should work on completion of all admission requirements for the intensive year during this Bridge period. The QUEST Coordinator is available to advise students who need special help in fulfilling requirements. There will be Bridge Semester meetings in which QUEST program students may elect to participate. Students can explore with their major area advisors the possibility of taking independent study to carry out projects relating their major disciplines to early childhood or elementary education.

Intensive Year (28 credits)

During the Intensive Year, students will be in the public schools from 8:30 A.M. until 3:00 P.M. for three days a week and from 8:30 A.M. until 12:30 P.M. on a fourth day. On each day, they will have one 2-hour didactic class and a half-hour lunch. The rest of the time will be spent observing, assisting, and teaching in classrooms, supervised by the cooperating teacher and the members of the QUEST faculty team. In addition, on the fourth afternoon students will have a two-hour class at the College. Altogether, students will spend 14 hours per week in public school classrooms, and another 8 hours in course sessions, most of which will take place in the public schools.

Students enrolled in the on-site professional experience courses will observe the public school calendar. Their placement will begin on the first day of the public school semester. Further, students who begin the Intensive Year in the fall must continue the placement throughout the month of January; students who begin in the spring must continue through the month of June.

The Intensive Year includes two semesters for a total of 28 credits. Students with GPAs below 3.0 may not register for any additional courses at the College during this year. Students with GPAs of at least 3.0 will be permitted to register for one liberal arts course during each semester of the QUEST Intensive Year, provided they need to do so to complete their major area studies. Some students may need to take more than four years to complete the degree.

2:00 - 5:00 QST A405 Technology and Education (Meets at Hunter College)
The QUEST program in early childhood and elementary education described above has replaced all pre-existing programs in early childhood and elementary education. These programs, either the day or evening session Program in Elementary and Early Childhood Education Program or the TTT-Training Tomorrow's Teachers Program, are currently being phased out. Students who entered Hunter College prior to the Fall, 1989 semester may be completing the courses in either of these previous programs. For course requirements and descriptions, please see the 1988-89 undergraduate catalogue.

For advisement and course approval, please see the coordinators of those two programs as follows:

Program in Elementary and Early Childhood Education Coordinator Carmen Mercado, West Building room 1000, phone 772-4623

TTT-Training Tomorrow's Teachers
Coordinator George Gonzalez, West Building room 1000, phone 772-4638

CERTIFYING PROGRAMS IN ACADEMIC SUBJECTS, GRADES 7-12 and SPECIAL SUBJECTS, GRADES K-12

Hunter College offers the following programs leading to Provisional Certification in academic subjects, grades 7-12 in the following: Biology, Chemistry, Chinese, Earth Science, English, French, German, Greek, Hebrew, Italian, Mathematics, Physics, Russian, Social Studies and Spanish. Provisional Certification is also offered in the following special subjects, grades K-12: Art, Health Education, Music and Physical Education. Advise in education course selection for these programs is available in the West Building room 1000; telephone 772-4623.

Students who wish to earn New York State Provisional Certification to teach one of these subjects are required to take the sequence of education courses listed below in addition to the courses required by the relevant major department.

Admission to the sequence of education courses requires that the student complete at least 45 college credits with a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Sem I  EDFDN 261 and EDFDN 272 (courses may be taken one at a time)
Sem II  EDFDN 362 and EDUC 360-381*
Sem III  EDUC 350 or EDUC 355 and EDUC 460-483
        EDUC 400.54

The following may be taken any time after Sem I: EDUC 352 (art education majors only), EDUC 353 (music education majors only).

* EDFDN 360-381 are not offered every semester. Students should plan programs in advance.

Major Department Requirements for Secondary Education Certification

Candidates for Provisional Certification to teach a subject on the secondary level must complete subject-matter requirements of the New York State Education Department for teaching that subject. Note that subject-matter requirements for certification may exceed Hunter's major-minor requirements. Students must see major departments for advisement on subject-matter requirements.

All applicants for secondary school student teaching must obtain permission from both the major department and the Division of Programs in Education.

This section either gives the specific course and credit requirements for teaching one of the secondary-school subjects Hunter College offers or tells the reader where to find them. For subjects not listed below consult the relevant department listing in this catalogue.

Art  See the Department of Art section of this catalogue.

Dance  Twenty-four credits in dance are required for students preparing to teach. Twelve credits in art, music, theatre, health and physical education, or other approved areas may be used to satisfy the allied minor. New York State does not offer certification in this area, but students may be licensed to teach in New York City schools. Education courses are electives.

English  Candidates need a minimum of 36 credits, including:

1. ENGL 201 (Intermediate Expository Writing) or ENGL 218 (Advanced Expository Writing) 3 cr.
2. ENGL 352, 353, 354 (Shakespeare) 3 cr.
3. One additional 300-level course in British literature 3 cr.
4. ENGL 393 (Western Literary Backgrounds in British and American Lit) 3 cr. (HUM 380 with the approval of the undergraduate advisor.)
5. Two 300-level courses in American literature 6 cr.
6. ENGL 301 (Theory and Practice of Exposition) 3 cr.
7. ENGL 331 (Structure of Modern English) 3 cr.
8. One course in spoken language (group discussion, argument and persuasion, creative dramatics, acting, etc.) 3 cr.
9. One course in the study of the language (sociolinguistics, history of the English language, language and culture, semantics, language of critical thinking, etc.) 3 cr.
10. Three additional courses (300- or 400-level), selected with the approval of the undergraduate advisor, from the following departments: English, Communications, Theatre & Film, Anthropology (linguistics), Classics, Comparative Literature, Black and Puerto Rican Studies (literature courses), foreign languages (advanced literature courses or literature in translation) 9 cr.

Foreign Languages  Candidates need a minimum of 24 credits in a foreign language. They may choose courses in the literature and in the grammar and composition of the language, but they must also be sure to have sufficient courses in oral and written composition so that the department can submit on their behalf a written statement that they have "a practical command of the language as an instrument of oral and written communication."

Preparation for certification in the following languages is available at Hunter College: Chinese, French, German, Greek, Hebrew, Italian, Latin, Russian, and Spanish. Consult the appropriate department for major requirements.

Health Education  See the Department of Health and Physical Education section of this catalogue.

Mathematics  Candidates need a minimum of 24 credits in mathematics. For certification purposes they may use the courses which fulfill department requirements. The state requires that the 24 credits include a full year of differential and integral calculus.

Music  See the Department of Music section of this catalogue.

Physical Education  Students preparing to teach are advised to elect the major in physical education leading to the BS degree. For further details, consult the Department of Health and Physical Education section of this catalogue.
Science  Students may earn provisional certification in one of these titles:
- Teacher of Biology and General Science
- Teacher of Physics and General Science
- Teacher of Chemistry and General Science
- Teacher of Earth Science and General Science.

All candidates must have a year of biology, a year of chemistry, a year of physics, and a year of earth science. Hunter students may postpone the year of earth science (generally geology or astronomy) until after graduation unless they are seeking certification in earth science. All science courses must be laboratory courses.

In addition, all candidates must complete 6 credits in mathematics and at least an additional year of the science in which certification is sought. It is expected that students will be majors in the science for which certification is sought.

Biology majors must take an introduction to genetics course and at least one year of mathematics. Other science majors should complete courses in differential and integral calculus.

For further information consult the major science department.

Social Studies  Candidates need a minimum of 36 credits in the social sciences distributed in 6 fields, as follows:
Field 1  US history (6 cr)
Field 2  European history (6 cr)
Fields 3, 4, 5, and 6  Six cr in each of 4 fields, selected from the following 8 fields for a total of 24 cr—cultural anthropology (6 cr)*; economics (6 cr); geography (6 cr); political science (6 cr); sociology (6 cr); history other than US and Western Europe (6 cr)

Note: Courses in physical anthropology will not apply toward certification for social studies teaching as part of the social science requirement. Three credits of cultural anthropology and 3 credits of sociology will be accepted as one field.

Social science courses offered in the Department of Black & Puerto Rican Studies may be applied to meet social science requirements. Health and Physical Education

The department offers major programs of study in health education, physical education, and human movement studies. Each of these programs can lead to careers in teaching, community settings, research, and graduate study. In addition, there is a general education program of activity courses open to all students. These activity courses satisfy the distribution requirement and enhance individual development of motor skill, physical fitness, and activity appreciation.

Distribution Requirement All students are required to take one course in activity to fulfill the one-credit requirement. The requirement should be fulfilled by the time the student has completed 75 credits toward graduation. Students taking additional courses may use the credits as electives. Students with advanced standing in physical education should see the department chair for evaluation of courses as soon as they are admitted to the College. For a list of activity courses that will fulfill the College-wide distribution requirement in physical education, students should refer to the section "General Physical Education" on pages 82-83.

Major Students who wish to major in physical education or health education will find the specific requirements listed under each degree. Students should report immediately to the department for an advisor.

Minor Students who wish to minor in physical education should meet with a departmental advisor to arrange an appropriate course of study.

Preparation for Teaching The Department of Health and Physical Education offers opportunities for men and women to prepare for a career in teaching.

Electives All courses in the department are open to qualified students who wish to take them as electives.

Honors and Individual Studies Qualified students who wish to conduct research under faculty guidance may be admitted to HED 490/PEDCO 490 or HED 490/PEDCO 490.
Field Experience  Students who have completed a minimum of 9 credits in core courses may be admitted to HED 470/PEDCO 470 fieldwork. This course offers the opportunity for supervised fieldwork and can be taken more than once.

Energy Policy Studies

Director Dolores Greenberg Coordinating Committee Erickson (Political Science), Greenberg (History), Johnston (Urban Affairs), Landesman (Philosophy), Niman (Curriculum and Teaching), Peppenbeck (Sociology), Goldsmith (Geology and Geography), Randall (Economics), Shain (Biological Sciences).
Advisor Dolores Greenberg

Energy Policy Studies is designed as an interdisciplinary program that advances a student's understanding of the issues that link science, technology, and society. Concentrating on the critical role of energy as a physical and social force, students examine what energy is, how it has been used in different societies, and why it has historically been crucial for human welfare and social change.

The program's core courses, taught by faculty from all divisions of the College, focus on the interaction between energy issues and ethics and values, economic organization, political institutions, and the social process. The policy-studies emphasis of the program provides students with the concepts and analytic tools for understanding institutional conflicts and for assessing public policy formation and decisions.

Students trained in this program develop broad perspectives on how transitions to new technologies are absorbed in changing cultural contexts. They also acquire the techniques of policy analysis. This background enhances graduate options in master's and doctoral degree programs in energy-related areas. It also prepares students for expanding employment opportunities in a wide range of fields, including accounting and auditing, engineering, health care, consumer affairs, architecture, environmental protection and design, community organization, urban planning, communications and media, law, and business.
Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. The DR code applies for all EPS courses. To determine access codes for other courses listed here consult the relevant departmental listings.

Collateral Major  Students who choose the 18-credit collateral major, which leads toward a BA degree, must complete 2 core courses (EPS 101, 201) and the research seminar (EPS 481). They also select either 9 credits from the recommended electives or 6 elective credits plus an internship. (With the collateral major, students are still required to take a traditional major, but they can use their Energy Policy Studies credits to replace a minor concentration.)

Minor  The 12-credit minor consists of 2 core courses (EPS 101, 201) and either 6 credits from the recommended electives or 3 elective credits plus an internship.

Internships  Students can receive from 1 to 6 credits for internships in government agencies, consumer and activist groups, business and industry, and media organizations involved in energy issues (e.g., Council on the Environment of NYC, Energy Task Force, NY State Assembly, Sierra Club, International Earthcare Center, NY State Department of Energy, Brooklyn Union Gas).

The English Department offers students a variety of courses in literature and a series of workshops in writing fiction, poetry, and essays. Taught from a number of points of view—historical, philosophical, ethical, psychological, sociological—they deepen students' insight into the nature and value of human experience. The department, in which writing and self-expression are essential, encourages students to develop a range of literary forms, periods, and genres. Students who major in English may concentrate on British literature, American literature, writing, or a combined major/minor in productive writing. Qualified students may enroll in Honors Program seminars and tutorials. The English Department participates in Hunter's interdisciplinary programs in Hunter's College, English Language Program, English Literature Program, Women's Studies, and Religion.

The English major provides a foundation for careers in writing, teaching, journalism, law, or business that depend on the ability to read analytically and write effectively.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory or most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX and DW apply to all English courses from ENGL 120 to ENGL 498. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement ENGL 220 is a prerequisite to all other English Department courses in literature; it fulfills Part I of the literature requirement in Category IV. ENGL 250, 252, 253, or 254 fulfill Part 2 of the literature requirement in Category IV. Students who have fulfilled Part 1 of Category IV with BLP 235, 236, or 237 may use ENGL 220 to fulfill Part 2. With the permission of the department, English qualified students may use a 300-level course in literature to satisfy Parts 1 and 2 of the distribution requirement in literature.

Major The English Department offers 4 areas of concentration within the major: 2 in literature, one in writing, and a major/minor for students prepared to teach in secondary schools. Only 24 credits in 300- or 400-level courses are required for each concentration, but we strongly recommend 27-30 credits. Students who plan to major or minor in English should take ENGL 252, 253, or 254 before taking 300-level courses. Up to 6 credits in the major sequence may be taken for CR/NCR with the written permission of the departmental advisor.

Students considering graduate study in British or American literature should have a reading knowledge of at least one foreign language (preferably 2 for the PhD). French, German, and Latin are languages usually recommended or required by graduate schools.

Students majoring in English are urged to take courses in such related fields as art, Black and Puerto Rican Studies, classics, communications, comparative literature, foreign languages, history, music, philosophy, religion, theatre and film, and women's studies.

I. Concentration in British Literature

This program gives a thorough grounding in British literature and allows considerable choice among specific courses. Students may include courses in comparative literature, writing, or other areas of special interest. The 24 credits required for this concentration include:

1. ENGL 393 (Western Literary Backgrounds of British and American Lit.) 3 cr. (HUM 380, The Western Tradition, may be substituted for ENGL 393 with the approval of the undergraduate advisor.)
2. ENGL 335 (Chaucer) 3 cr.
3. ENGL 352, 353, or 354 (Shakespeare) 3 cr.
4. Two courses in British literature before 1800 (exclusive of Shakespeare) 6 cr.
5. Three additional 300- or 400-level courses, at least one of which is in American literature. One of the other 2 courses may be in the history and structure of the English language or in writing or in comparative literature. 9 cr.

II. Concentration in American Literature

The courses in American literature reflect the diversity of American culture. Students also study major British authors who have influenced American literature.

The required courses include:

1. ENGL 393 (Western Literary Backgrounds of British and American Lit.) 3 cr. (HUM 380, The Western Tradition, may be substituted for ENGL 393 with the approval of the undergraduate advisor.)
2. ENGL 352, 353, or 354 (Shakespeare) 3 cr.
3. ENGL 335 or 361 (Chaucer or Milton) 3 cr.
4. Four courses in American literature. At least 2 courses must be in writers before 1900. 12 cr.
5. One additional course in British literature. 3 cr.

III. Concentration in Writing

Students in this concentration study British and American literature but also develop their own capacity to create original works. They have the opportunity to write fiction, poetry, essays, and drama. The courses in writing are conducted as small seminars and individual tutorials. This program culminates in an individual writing project.

1. Literature (12 cr)
   A. ENGL 393 (Western Literary Backgrounds of British and American Lit.) 3 cr. (HUM 380, The Western Tradition, may be substituted for ENGL 393 with the approval of the undergraduate advisor.)
   B. ENGL 352, 353, or 354 (Shakespeare) 3 cr.
   C. Two additional 300- or 400-level courses in British or American Literature (except ENGL 389). 6 cr. Students are strongly urged to select one literature course in the genre in which they are specializing.

2. Writing (12 cr)
   Four courses chosen from 300-level writing workshops (such as ENGL 301, 308, and 309, essay writing; ENGL 311, 313, 314, and 316, fiction and poetry; THEA 379, playwriting; and FILM 370, film writing). Qualified students may, with permission of the undergraduate advisor, use ENGL 485, the tutorial writing project, as one of the 4 writing courses.

IV. Major/Minor in English and English Language Arts

This special major/minor prepares students to teach English in secondary schools. Together with the requirements of the Division of Programs in Education, this program meets certification and licensing requirements for New York State and New York City public schools. Students take courses in literature, writing, and language study as preparation for teaching in secondary schools, which are increasingly concerned to develop fluent speakers, readers, and writers of English.

The required courses are:
1. ENGL 201 (Intermediate Expository Writing) or ENGL 218 (Advanced Expository Writing) 3 cr.
2. ENGL 352, 353, 354 (Shakespeare) 3 cr.
3. One additional 300-level course in British literature 3 cr.
4. ENGL 393 (Western Literary Backgrounds in British and American Literature) 3 cr. (or HUM 380 with the approval of the undergraduate advisor.)
5. Two 300-level courses in American literature 6 cr.
6. ENGL 301 (Theory and Practice of Exposition) 3 cr.
7. ENGL 331 (Structure of Modern English) 3 cr.
8. One course in spoken language (group discussion, argument and persuasion, creative dramas, acting, etc.) 3 cr.
9. One course in the study of the language (sociolinguistics, history of the English language, language and culture, semantics, language of critical thinking, etc.) 3 cr.
10. Three additional courses (300- or 400-level), selected with the approval of the undergraduate advisor, from the following departments: English, Communications, Theatre & Film, Anthropology (linguistics), Classics, Comparative Literature, Black and Puerto Rican Studies (literature courses), foreign languages (advanced literature courses or literature in translation) 9 cr.

Departmental Honors Two related requirements must be met by a student in order to qualify for departmental honors: the Honors Seminar (ENGL 494) and the Honors Essay. The honors essay will normally be written in relation to the Honors Seminar and under the supervision of the professor teaching that seminar. A student who completes these requirements successfully and achieves a GPA in major of at least 3.5 and a cumulative GPA of at least 2.8 at the time of graduation will be awarded department honors.

Note: The Honors Seminar requirement (ENGL 494) is in addition to the specified courses in the student’s particular major concentration. Students interested in departmental honors should see the undergraduate advisor.

Minor Twelve credits are required for the minor. The area is not restricted, but students should consult the undergraduate advisor about the choice of an appropriate minor. Minor courses may not be used to fulfill the distribution requirement. Students must have at least one 300-level course and no more than 2 100-level courses for the minor.

Four-year BA/MA Program in English For a limited number of outstanding students, the department offers a 4-year BA/MA program in English. The program may be completed in 125–128 credits of college work (95–98 undergraduate, 30 graduate). Interested and qualified students should consult an advisor at the earliest possible date.

Graduate Study Qualified students in their junior and senior years may be admitted to graduate courses with the approval of the graduate advisor.

Preparation for Teaching In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of English provides opportunities for students to prepare for a career at the elementary and secondary levels. See the Major/Minor in English and English Language Arts—section IV above.

English Language Arts

Program Office  West Building room 1019, phone 772-4693

Chair  David Cooper
Committee  DeSalvo (English), Cooper (Curriculum & Teaching), Minkoff (English), Aprahamen (Communications), Steinberg (Theatre)

English Language Arts is not a department, but an interdisciplinary program leading to the bachelor of arts degree. It is open to all students, but it may be particularly suitable for prospective elementary school teachers.

The required and recommended courses in this program have been selected for their relevance to the elementary school curriculum and for the breadth they offer to elementary school teachers who may find a traditional major too specialized for their needs.

Careers other than teaching for which a language arts background is desirable include those which call for facility with spoken and/or written language, such as public relations, advertising, and the communications media. Students interested in the growing field of linguistics will also find English Language Arts an appropriate undergraduate major, particularly if they are interested in the application of linguistics to such educational concerns as second-language learning, dialect variations, and beginning reading instruction.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Check department listings for courses that make up the English Language Arts major. For an explanation of the codes see pages 25-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  Students are advised to take basic courses in English, communications, and theatre and film, particularly those that are prerequisites for advanced courses in the English Language Arts major. No courses offered toward fulfillment of the major may also be offered toward the distribution requirement. No more than 6 credits of the minor may also be offered toward the distribution requirement.

The department offers courses in geology, human geography, physical geography, and geographic techniques and methods. Students may specialize in either geology or geography. These majors provide preparation for both graduate study and immediate employment. Courses in all of these fields are valuable parts of a general liberal education, developing an awareness of earth phenomena and the role these play in the lives of people. Many of these courses are concerned with the environmental problems that are of so much concern today, and either major with a suitable minor can provide a well-rounded program of environmental studies.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX and DP apply to all courses in the Department of Geology and Geography; in addition, code DW applies to all 300- and 400-level courses in the department. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  GEOL 101 and 102 and PGEOG 130 may be used to fulfill the science and mathematical sciences (Category I) requirement. GEOL 101, 221, 225 may be used to fulfill the social sciences requirement (Category VI), as may GEG 251 or 260 (but not both). Courses used to satisfy the requirements for a major cannot be used to satisfy the distribution requirement. No more than 6 credits of the minor may be offered toward the distribution requirement.

PROGRAM IN GEOLOGY

Students who expect to do graduate work in geology are strongly advised to take chemistry, physics, and calculus; and we suggest, but do not require, that those who plan to continue the study of geology on the doctoral level elect French, German, or Russian to meet the foreign language portion of the distribution requirement.

Geogy Major (30.5 cr)  The geography major consists of 30.5 credits as follows: GEOL 101, 102, 242, 246, 252, 262, 251, 252, 351, and 352. Students should take at least 3 different 300/400 level courses. Prerequisite or corequisite: one year of high school or college chemistry.

Minors  Geography majors may minor in anthropology, art, biology, chemistry, computer science, education, geography, mathematics, physics, or statistics. No more than 6 of the 12 credits needed for a minor may be applied to the distribution requirement. For information on approved courses in the minor, students should consult a departmental advisor.

Honors Work and Individual Study  To be graduated with departmental honors, a major in the geology program must be admitted to GEOL 490 and have a 3.0 cumulative GPA and a 3.5 GPA in the major. GEOL 391, 392, and 393 also offer students the opportunity of undertaking individual research in geology.

PROGRAM IN GEOGRAPHY

Students who expect to do graduate work in geography are advised to take statistics and/or computer science; and we suggest, but do not require, that those planning to continue to the doctoral level elect the language of the area of regional specialization.

Geography Major (30.5 cr)  The geography major consists of a minimum of 30.5 credits, as follows: 18.5 credits in GEOG 101, GEOG 221, GEOG 251, PGEOG 130 and GEOL 101; a minimum of 6 credits selected from 200-level courses with a PGEOG, GTECH, or GEOG prefix; and a minimum of 6 credits selected from 300-level courses with a PGEOG, GTECH, or GEOG prefix, except GEOG 391, GEOG 392, and GEOG 393.

Minors  Geography majors may minor in a wide variety of fields but must secure permission from their major advisor. No more than 6 of the 12 credits needed for a minor may be applied to the distribution requirement. For information concerning approved courses in the minor, students should consult a departmental advisor.

Honors Work and Individual Study  To be graduated with departmental honors, a major in the geography program must be admitted to GEOG 490 and have a 3.0 cumulative GPA and a 3.5 GPA in the major. GEOG 391, 392, and 393 also offer students the opportunity of undertaking individual research in geography.

Latin American and Caribbean Studies Program  The department participates in the interdepartmental program in Latin American and Caribbean Studies. For information concerning the geography components of the program (GEOG 270, 271) consult Professor White.

Urban Studies  Students who have selected the major-minor concentration in urban studies or the major in urban studies may select work in geography to fulfill the 6-hour social science or related-field requirement in the major or the major/minor program. Course selections should be made after consultation with the advisor in the Department of Urban Affairs. Recommended courses include GEOG 210, 211, 221, 227, 341, GTECH 215, GTECH 360.

GENERAL INFORMATION FOR BOTH PROGRAMS

Electives  A number of courses in the department have no prerequisite. These are open to all interested students. All others are open to all students who meet the prerequisites.

Fieldwork  Several courses offer students an opportunity to study geology and geography in the field: GEOG 210, GEOG 216, and GTECH 350 offered either before or after summer session; and GEOG 211 and GEOG 216, offered on weekends (consult Schedule of Classes). In addition to the regular field courses, special-topical field courses are offered periodically, and fieldwork is conducted in connection with a number of the other courses.

Graduate Study  Graduate-level courses may be taken for credit toward the bachelor’s degree by highly qualified seniors. Written permission must be obtained from the department chair.

Inservice Program  This program (GEOG 498, GEOG 499) provides opportunities for qualified majors in both geology and geography to work in positions of responsibility in professional institutions while earning from 1 to 4 academic credits. See a departmental advisor for details.
PREPARATION FOR TEACHING

In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the department provides opportunities for students to prepare for teaching earth science, general science, and social studies in secondary and elementary schools. Students who want to meet the certification requirements for teaching in the public secondary and elementary schools in the State of New York should consult the Education section of this catalogue.

Teaching Earth Science and General Science in Secondary Schools

To qualify for the professional or substitute certification for teaching earth science and general science in the State of New York, students are advised to include in their undergraduate program the following courses or their equivalent: a geology major; the prerequisites for calculus; CHEM 111, 112, 113, 103 and 105; PHYS 110 or 111 and 120 or 121; ASTRO 100; and BIOL 100, 102. PGEOG 130 is desirable. EDUC 345 is required.

To qualify for the permanent certificate for teaching science and general science at the secondary level in the State of New York, students need, in addition to their 4-year undergraduate preparation, a 5th year of study consisting of 30 semester hours of approved graduate courses.

Additional information concerning preparation for the teaching of earth science and general science can be obtained from the coordinator of the sciences (Teacher Education Program).

Teaching Social Studies in Secondary Schools

Geography majors planning to teach social studies should consult with the coordinator of the social sciences (Teacher Education Program).

The Department of German offers courses in the language, literature, and culture of German-speaking countries.

Courses in the German language are offered at the elementary (100), intermediate (200), and advanced (300) level. Courses in German literature and culture, taught in German, are offered at the 300–400 level. The entire language and literature curriculum is designed to guide beginners in the language through well-defined levels of proficiency in speaking, reading, writing, and comprehension to the point of college-level literacy in German. The proficiency-testing system used in the department makes it possible to place students who have prior knowledge of the German language in the sequence at the level most appropriate to their needs.

The goals of the elementary and intermediate courses which fulfill the foreign language requirement are:
1. To give all students a real ability to function in everyday situations in the German language.
2. To create a solid linguistic base for the further study of German at the advanced level.

The goals of the advanced language, literature, and culture courses are:
1. To impart knowledge and understanding of German literature and civilization, past and present.

Community health educators assist individuals and communities to choose more healthful behaviors and lifestyles and to work for healthier environments. They are employed by health centers, government agencies, hospitals, community organizations and workplace health programs.

Community health educators learn how to assess health needs, attitudes, knowledge and beliefs and how to mobilize communities around health issues. Problems commonly addressed by health educators include teenage pregnancy, AIDS prevention, heart disease, aging, cancer and child health.

The program emphasizes urban health concerns and prepares students to work in New York City and other metropolitan regions. Internships provide students with an opportunity to practice skills prior to graduation.

MEDICAL LABORATORY SCIENCES – BS

Program Director Regina Linder, Brookdale Center room W729 phone 481-4442, 5114

Professor Eversole

Associate Professors Linder, Naughton

Assistant Professor Johnston

Advisor Dean Johnston, Brookdale Center room W730, phone 481-4356

Knowledge of the concepts and practice of laboratory science is essential for those pursuing careers in research or clinical science. Laboratories in medical centers, clinics, and pharmaceutical companies employ the latest technology to provide data to physicians and research scientists for the diagnosis, treatment, study, and prevention of disease. Diagnosis and evaluation of patients admitted to a hospital or clinic often depends upon the results of a series of laboratory tests. In addition, individuals who are trained in laboratory science are important members of research teams in academic, clinical, and industrial settings.

Medical Laboratory Sciences is an academic program which addresses both the theoretical and technical aspects of the medical laboratory. The curriculum is designed to prepare students for careers as medical laboratory technologists or research assistants, and excellent employment opportunities currently exist in these fields. Graduates of the program who go on to complete the required number of clinical hours meet the specifications of the New York City Department of Health certificate for medical technologists. The program provides students with the academic background for admission to professional schools (medical/dental) and graduate programs. MLS therefore provides the technical training necessary for a career in medical technology, as well as the appropriate foundation for further academic pursuits.

Admission Requirements Completion of 60 credits before entrance: GPA of 2.5; the following course work with a GPA of 2.5: 1 year general chemistry with lab, 1 year biology with lab. Students enter the Medical Laboratory Sciences program in the fall and spring semesters. We advise that Hunter College distribution requirements be met before entering the program.

The study of nutrition is multifaceted and includes the study of foods and the functions of nutrients in the body. Dieticians interpret nutritional science for people's specific dietary needs in health and disease throughout the life cycle. The dietician's training is used in hospital and community settings, as well as in nutrition counseling.

Nutrition professionals research the role of dietary components in medical problems; manage food programs in schools, institutional, or business settings; teach in schools and colleges; and communicate nutrition information to the public through the mass media.

* Total credits in independent study courses and honors may not exceed 6.

The study of food science integrates chemical principles applied to food preservation, reviews advances in food technology, including the development of new foods, as well as examines related aesthetic factors important in food preparation. Employment opportunities exist in research facilities and business firms.

The dietetics option of the Nutrition and Food Science curriculum prepares students to meet the academic requirements set by the American Dietetic Association (ADA). After graduation with the BS degree, students are eligible to become professionally qualified (registered) dietitians, only if they successfully complete either: 1. a Dietetic Internship or 2. an Approved Pre-professional Practice Program and then pass the ADA semiannual Registration Examination.

Option A — Dietetics

1. General dietetics provides the student with a background in both the management and therapeutic aspects of dietetics.
2. Management dietetics appeals to those interested in the administration and business aspects of food services.
3. Clinical dietetics prepares students interested in counseling patients in diet modifications to aid in the prevention and treatment of health problems.
4. Community dietetics emphasizes nutrition education and is designed to prepare health professionals for nutrition positions in a variety of community health agencies.

Option B — Business and Research

1. The business program prepares professionals for nutrition and food-related positions in test kitchens, public relations, and public information departments.
2. A research program is being designed for those who are interested in nutrition or food science research. Food science research provides the knowledge for controlling changes in food during processing, packaging, storage, distribution, preparation, and utilization.

Admission Requirements Completion of 60 credits before entrance; GPA of 2.5; and two of the following three prerequisites: one semester of general chemistry with lab, one semester of organic chemistry with lab, and one semester of biology with lab. Students enter the Nutrition and Food Science program in the fall and spring semesters. We advise that students observe the specific distribution requirements for the program, and take the basic nutrition and food science courses before applying.

For more information on admissions to this program call 481-7563.

PHYSICAL THERAPY—BS

Assistant Professor Krasilovsky

Physical therapists, as essential members of the health team, are primarily concerned with service to the patient. They work to help maintain good health as well as to restore function and prevent disability after a disease or injury. Where permanent disability exists, the goal is to help patients reach their maximum potential so that they can assume their rightful place in society while learning to live within the limits of their capabilities. Treatment may consist of giving strengthening exercises after a fractured leg, instruction for walking and stair-climbing to a person with paralysis following a stroke, or coordination exercises to a child with ataxia. Other methods of treating disorders or alleviating pain include such physical modalities as heat, cold, water, ultrasound, and electricity.

Physical therapists may be employed in hospitals, rehabilitation centers, and schools for disabled children. Some are employed in outpatient clinics, private practice, nursing homes, and sports medicine clinics. They may join the armed services, work in public health agencies, or be self-employed.

The program is accredited by the American Physical Therapy Association. Graduates are prepared for the Licensing Examination in Physical Therapy in New York as well as all other states.

Admission Requirements  Completion of 64 credits before entrance; GPA of 2.8; the following college-level courses with a GPA of 2.8: 2 semesters of biology with lab, 2 semesters of psychology with lab, 2 semesters of chemistry with lab, 2 semesters of physics, 1 semester of college-level mathematics (no more than 1 semester of any of the above may be completed during the summer preceding entrance); documented evidence of exposure to the profession, through either volunteer work or paid employment. A personal interview is required. Applicants should contact the program to arrange for an interview appointment by February 1. The program is full-time and is offered only during the day. Students enter the program in the fall semester only. Hunter College distribution requirements should be met before entering the program.

Hebrew
DIVISION OF CLASSICAL AND ORIENTAL STUDIES

Division Office West Building room 1321, phone 772-5122
Division Head Rivka Friedman
Professor Friedman
Associate Professor Lichtenstein
Advisors (day) Rivka Friedman (evening) Murray H. Lichtenstein

The Hebrew division of the Department of Classical and Oriental Studies offers a comprehensive program covering the main areas of Hebraic and Judaic studies, namely Biblical and post-Biblical studies, Talmudic and medieval literature, Hebrew language and modern Hebrew literature, Jewish philosophy and Kabbalah, Jewish legacy and folklore, contemporary Jewish literature, and Israeli culture. This program is designed to develop language skills, cultivate a critical appreciation of Hebraic and Judaic literature and thought, and promote an understanding of Jewish cultural tradition against the background of world civilization. Specifically, these courses may be applied to satisfy foreign language and literature components of the distribution requirement as well as to fulfill major and minor concentrations.

This curriculum also meets the special needs of students majoring in other disciplines for courses dealing with the Hebraic or Judaic factor in Western civilization. The wide variety of course offerings, covering the entire range of Hebraic and Judaic culture from early Biblical times to modern Israel, should enable students to concentrate their attention on one major period, to aim for an overall proficiency, or to strive for both objectives simultaneously. This course of study should also provide the student with a solid foundation for further professional and graduate study in such disciplines as education, library science, publishing, area studies, specialized communication and community services, government, diplomatic and trade exchanges.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX and DL apply to HEBR 240-295; codes DX and DW apply to HEBR 340, 382-391. For an explanation of the codes, see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement Hebrew language courses may be taken to fulfill the foreign language requirement (Category III). Literature courses in Hebrew as well as in English translation may be taken to fulfill Part 2 of the literature requirement (Category IV). Courses in Hebraic culture conducted in English, HEBR 259, 288, 290, 292, 295, may be taken to fulfill the requirement for humanities and the arts (Category V, Group 3).

Placement and Exemption Students with background in the language should consult the head of the Hebrew division for proper placement or exemption.

Majors The major consists of 24 credits from courses beyond HEBR 101–102. In general, a Hebrew major is required to achieve proficiency in Biblical and/or modern Hebrew literature by successfully completing a minimum of 4 courses at the 300 level in Hebrew. Courses in Hebraic studies conducted in English may be applied toward partial fulfillment of the Hebrew major provided they are part of a coherent program approved by the head of the division.

Qualified students interested in a more intensive program in the field of Hebraic or Judaic studies, particularly those preparing for graduate work in such specialized areas as Semitic languages and civilizations, Jewish history, Biblical studies and archaeology, medieval or modern Hebrew literature, Near Eastern studies, or RELIGIOUS STUDIES, should consult a division advisor regarding additional courses and supportive studies in related fields.

MINORS The minor consists of 12 credits in Hebrew language, literature, or Hebraic studies in English; there is no restriction. Courses used for the distribution requirement may be applied to the major or minor where applicable.

ALLIED MINORS Minors of 12 credits in all departments are accepted but may not include more than 6 credits used to fulfill the distribution requirement.

PREPARATION FOR TEACHING In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Hebrew major may prepare for a career in teaching Hebrew in the junior or senior high schools. The specific requirements for qualification for the New York State certification and/or New York City licensing at this level are described in the Education section of this catalogue. The course EDUC 369 is required for all qualified students.

HONORS Opportunity for honors work is available through HEBR 491.

ELECTIVES All courses offered by the Hebrew division are open to qualified students for elective credit. For placement consult a Hebrew division advisor.

History is the record of all human experience. Its study is a first step in learning about ourselves and our society—about economics and politics, psychology and sociology, mathematics and science, the arts and the humanities.

For students whose undergraduate major is history, career opportunities are numerous and varied. Medical, law, and other professional schools favor such applicants as history majors because of their broad background in liberal arts. Moreover, while teaching has long been a popular goal, positions in government—local, state, and national—in publishing and advertising, in communications, and in business also await those students whose human perspective and intellectual discipline have been developed in the history class. Beyond the purely practical consideration of a profession, the study of history is exciting in its own right. The long record of human experience waits to be relived and reevaluated by students for whom the rewards of learning arise from a heightened awareness of both their distant and recent heritage.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Code DR applies to HIST 141.55 (Introduction to American History); for all other courses, codes DX, DW, DM, and DP apply. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  No more than 6 credits of the minor may also be offered toward the distribution requirement. We suggest, but do not require, that students who are thinking of continuing the study of history on the doctoral level elect French or German to meet the foreign language portion of the distribution requirement.

Major  The history major consists of 24 credits as follows:

a. 6-12 cr in basic courses from among Group 1, of which 3 cr will not be counted toward the major.

b. at least 15 cr from courses numbered 300 or above, including a minimum of 3 cr in a seminar (HIST 382/482), or problems (HIST 383/483, 384/484, or 385/485), or individual tutorial (HIST 493).

c. at least 6 cr in United States history and 6 cr in European history.

d. HIST 291 (Introduction to Historical Study). This course is strongly recommended and should be taken in the sophomore year.

Students may not use courses graded on the basis of Credit/No Credit toward fulfillment of the major.

Minor  The minor consists of 12 credits chosen from one or two fields of study, including interdisciplinary fields such as women's studies, Jewish social studies, energy policy studies, Latin American and Caribbean Studies, and the program in religion.

An elementary education minor of 15 credits is governed by the regulations of the NY State Department of Education. A minor may include 6 credits in any one subject taken to satisfy the distribution requirement, provided that it also includes 6 credits of more advanced work in the same subject.

Choice of particular courses in the minor must be approved by the student's departmental faculty advisor. The department advisor may be consulted regarding approval, for special reasons, of subjects not listed here.

Special areas (such as Latin America, Middle East, Russia) may constitute a minor. Twelve credits could be taken in courses dealing with one particular area in cultural anthropology, economics, geography, literature, and political science. No more than 6 credits will be counted in any single discipline. Courses should be selected with the student's advisor.

Four-year BA/MA Program in History  For a limited number of qualified students, the department offers a 4-year BA/MA program in history. Designed principally for incoming freshmen, the program requires 120-132 credits of college work (100-102 undergraduate, 30 graduate), foreign language reading ability, comprehensive examinations in one field of history, and a master's essay. Two summers are devoted to supervised reading, and graduate work begins in the junior year. Interested students should consult the program's advisor or department chair at the earliest possible date.

Honors Program

Program Office West Building room 1423, phone 772-4127

Council on Honors Beaujour (Russian, chair), Grant (Biology), Griffel (Music), Lavalley (Chemistry, on leave), Novak (Psychology), Potter (English, co-chair), Press (Philosophy), Somerville (Political Science), Stapleford (Art), R. J. White (Classics)

Advisors (day and evening) Elizabeth Beaujour, John Potter, Robert White, Michael Griffel

The Thomas Hunter Honors Program provides exceptional undergraduate students in BA-granting disciplines with an individualized course of study suited to their needs and interests. Students selected for the Thomas Hunter Honors Program must show evidence of high academic potential, interdisciplinary interests, intellectual curiosity, and sufficient emotional and intellectual maturity to plan and carry out a coherent program of study in consultation with the appropriate faculty advisor.

Students may apply for admission to the program on their own, or they may be asked to participate. The Council regularly invites prospective freshmen with superior high school records to an interview. Invitations are also extended to sophomores already enrolled in both the day and evening sessions whose performance indicates intellectual curiosity and exceptional ability.

Many graduates of the Honors Program go on to PhD programs in the various arts and sciences, or to law, medical, and other professional schools. The rest choose careers in a wide variety of professional, artistic, and business fields.

Distribution Requirement Students in the Honors Program are released from strict fulfillment of the distribution requirements, but they are expected to maintain breadth in their programs and to create a significant pattern of courses in several divisions, approved by a Council advisor.

Major Students in the Thomas Hunter Honors Program who wish to design an interdepartmental major for themselves may do so in consultation with the appropriate Council advisor. The final transcript of such students designates the major as "Special Honors Curriculum." Most students in the Honors Program, however, elect to fulfill the requirements for a specific departmental major. These students abide by departmental criteria for the major and are eligible for departmental honors. Their final transcripts record the major as Special Honors Curriculum/Specific Department.

Whatever their major concentration, all students in the program must also successfully complete 3 special interdisciplinary honors colloquia and maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or better until their final certification in the program. Certification usually occurs in the student's upper sophomore or lower junior term, when the council, ruling on each case individually, decides that the student's continuing academic distinction and promise of future productivity warrant permanent membership in the Honors Program.

Honors Program students meet regularly in freshman, sophomore, and upper-level colloquia, led by members of the Council on Honors and by other invited members of the faculty.

Students entering as freshmen must take one colloquium in their first year, one in their sophomore year, and one at their convenience thereafter. Students entering as sophomores must take one in their sophomore year and two thereafter. While the specific content of these courses varies from semester to semester, the underlying principles remain the same.

*Not offered to freshmen.
The first-year colloquium, designed for students beginning the Honors Program, studies major works of literature, history, religion, philosophy, and science in their historical contexts and sequence.

The sophomore colloquium is always taught by one professor, usually a member of the Council on Honors, who attacks a specific problem using the materials and methodologies of 3 or more disciplines. Students may take more than one of these colloquia if they so desire, but at least one must be taken in the sophomore year.

The upper-level honors colloquia are special seminars, usually conducted by 2 professors, devoted to topics lending themselves to broad interdisciplinary investigation.

The colloquia offer breadth of exposure, but even more importantly, they demonstrate how knowledge gained from a variety of disciplines can be related and integrated in an effort to understand complex processes and phenomena. All colloquia involve the writing of at least one major paper, in which students try to apply the methodology of the course to material in an area of their particular interest.

Upon completion of 90 credits, honors students may also be admitted by the Council to Advanced Interdisciplinary Studies, with the opportunity of engaging in advanced independent study under the Council's supervision. A thesis or other appropriate report of the results of the student's research is presented to the Council.

LACS Committee Bonilla (Centro de Estudios Puertorriqueños), DeWind (Anthropology), Ericsson (Political Science), Hammond (Sociology), Lees (Anthropology), Petchesky (Women's Studies), Poppandieck (Sociology), Randall (Economics), Rodriguez (Black and Puerto Rican Studies), Susser (Health Sciences), Turner (History), White (Geography & Geology), Yudice (Romance Languages)

Latin American and Caribbean Studies is an interdisciplinary program that offers students the opportunity to learn about the history, culture, politics, society, and economics of the region and the region's relations with the United States. In the context of a growing and dynamic Caribbean and Latin American population in New York City, the program enables students to seek knowledge and an understanding of the origins of these peoples and their settlement in this country.

The specialization in Latin American and Caribbean Studies as a major leading to a BA degree consists of 36 credits: 24 core credits for the major and 12 credits for the minor. The core courses for the major are drawn from the Divisions of Social Sciences and the Humanities and the Arts. Students select courses for the major and minor components in consultation with the program's director or with a member of the Latin American and Caribbean Studies Committee serving as an advisor.

The interdisciplinary specialization of the major, combined with the minor's emphasis on a traditional discipline, serves the programs' graduates well, whether they choose to seek employment in public or private organizations, to pursue a professional degree, or go on for a graduate degree in the social sciences or humanities.

Internships The program arranges internships for Hunter College students to work with organizations based in New York City that promote Latin American and Caribbean human rights. During internships, students are expected to enroll in human rights-related courses, which can be used to satisfy core course requirements for the major.

Course Access Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. To take LACS 300 and 400 level courses students must pass the DR code and be a sophomore, junior, or senior.

Major The major requires 24 credits of which 21 come from courses focusing on Latin American and Caribbean topics (no more than 6 credits may be drawn from any one participating department or program) and 3 from the program's seminar (LACS 434).

Minor The 12-credit minor, chosen by the student in consultation with the LACS director, is taken in a department that is a participant in the program or in one that is relevant to the student's academic or career goals. The purpose of the minor is to complement the major's broad interdisciplinary area coverage by providing exposure to the focus and tools of a traditional academic discipline.

Language Requirement Latin American and Caribbean Studies majors are required to demonstrate a reading knowledge of Spanish, Portuguese, or French.

COURSE LISTINGS

Note: Students wishing to register for LACS courses must meet course access requirements described above.

Distribution Requirement  The following courses may be used toward the science and mathematics category of the distribution requirement: MATH 100 (or 103), 110, 111, 150, 155, 191, STAT 113 (or 213), 212. At most 6 credits used to satisfy the distribution requirement may be credited toward a minor in the department. We suggest, but do not require, that students who are thinking of continuing the study of mathematics or statistics on the doctoral level elect French, German, or Russian to meet the foreign language portion of the distribution requirement.

Credit and Course Exemption  The department offers credit or course exemption based on standard examinations such as AP and CLEP. Inquiries should be made at the department office.

Mathematics Proficiency*  Upon entering Hunter College, all undergraduates and non-matriculated students must take 2 mathematics proficiency examinations, one mandated by CUNY and the other by Hunter College. Depending on their scores on these examinations, students may be required to pass the appropriate remedial/developmental course(s), MATH 001 and/or PHYS 001, before registering for any other courses in the Department of Mathematical Sciences. Graduate and second-degree students from a 4-year US university may take mathematics courses without proficiency testing.

Calculus Readiness Test*  The Calculus Readiness Test is a special departmental placement examination used to determine whether students are proficient in intermediate algebra and/or trigonometry. It is required of students who want to be exempted from MATH 120 Algebra and/or MATH 121 Trigonometry. Passing the examination allows for entry into MATH 150 Calculus I without first completing MATH 120 and 121. Passing MATH 120 or Part I of the examination is also now required by various other departments for entry into certain of their courses. Requests for information about other departments' regulations should be directed to those departments. The schedule for this examination is available at the Dolciani Mathematics Learning Center and should be checked well in advance of registration.

Accelerated BA/MA Program in Mathematics  The BA/MA program in mathematics offers promising students the opportunity to complete both the bachelor's and master's degree requirements with a minimum of 125 credits. This program enables the department to work closely with a small number of talented, highly motivated students. These students are offered the opportunity to develop a deeper knowledge of mathematics so that they are prepared to enter even the most demanding doctoral programs. Interested students should contact the department for further information regarding eligibility and curriculum requirements.

Honors  A student majoring in mathematics or statistics may become a candidate for departmental honors by successfully completing MATH 490, by presenting a major GPA of at least 3.5, and by achieving a satisfactory rating on a comprehensive examination.

* Revisions in the basic algebra through pre-calculus sequence (MATH 020-MATH 121) are currently underway which may involve modifications in course access codes, mathematics diagnostic/placement testing and course prerequisites. Please consult with the department office for up-to-date information and requirements.
Required courses (in addition to the core): MATH 352, and any one of MATH 312, 340, or 353.

To prepare adequately for graduate study, the student should choose at least 3 additional courses from among MATH 312, 340, 353, 354, 370, 454, 490, STAT 311, 312, 313, C SCI 370, 470, 355, and any 700-level graduate course in the department or at the Graduate Center.

Option 3 For students intending to teach in secondary schools:
Required courses (in addition to the core): MATH 331, STAT 311.

Option 4 For students intending to teach in elementary schools:
Any of the above options is appropriate. An alternative requiring permission of the department advisor is an interdisciplinary major including some science courses as well as approved courses within the department. For such a major, core courses would include at least MATH 211, 250, and 311. Elective courses would ordinarily include MATH 291 and 313.

Minor Except for mathematics majors planning to teach in elementary schools, majors in mathematics ordinarily take as a minor 12 approved credits in one of the following subjects: biological sciences, chemistry, computer science, economics, geology, philosophy, physics, or statistics. However, other minors may also be approved. For students preparing to teach in elementary schools the minor is education as prescribed by the Division of Programs in Education.

Statistics Major
The study of statistics provides the student with analytical tools that may find application in various fields within the sciences and social sciences. Actuarial science is one area open to students in statistics who also have backgrounds in such subjects as computer science, mathematics, and economics. The MA in Applied Mathematics offered by the Department of Mathematical Sciences provides enrichment for undergraduate statistics majors. To enter the major the student must have completed MATH 150 and 155. The statistics major consists of 33 credits as follows: MATH 211, 250, 254 or 354, STAT 212, 213, 214, 311, 312, 313, and any 3-credit C SCI course accepted for credit in the computer science major.

Modifications are permitted with the consent of a statistics advisor. For example, a student may elect to replace STA 212 with a more advanced course. With permission of the major advisor, a student may take graduate courses in the MA in Applied Mathematics program.

Minor Statistics majors take as a minor 12 approved credits in one of the following subjects: biological sciences, chemistry, computer science, economics, geology, mathematics, philosophy, physics, political science, psychology, or sociology. Students may include in their minors up to two 3-, 4-, or 5-credit courses used to meet the distribution requirement in any one subject, provided the rest of the minor is in the same subject. For information concerning approved minor sequences, students should consult the departmental advisor.

Actuarial Sequence Students interested in actuarial work should take MATH 150, 155, 250, STAT 311, and 313. Students are also encouraged to take courses in accounting, economics, and computer science. For information concerning examinations and prizes given to undergraduates by the Society of Actuaries, consult the departmental advisor.
Mathematics and Statistics

Preparation for Teaching There is a large and growing demand for mathematics teachers at the high school level. Students preparing to teach at this level may pursue Option 3, above, and choose an appropriate minor in consultation with the departmental advisor. For these students, the required education courses are taken for elective credit. Students preparing to teach in elementary schools may pursue Option 3 or Option 4, above; the specified minor is education. The Department of Mathematical Sciences offers its students part-time employment as tutors in elementary courses, thereby providing valuable experience for prospective teachers. Students who wish to qualify for teacher certification at the elementary or secondary level in New York City or New York State should consult the Education section of this catalogue and discuss their plans with advisors in education as well as in mathematics.

Advisors (on leave) Ruth DeFord, North Building room 1512 (graduate) George Stauffer, North Building room 1512

The Department of Music offers a wide variety of courses and degree programs tailored to the needs of students with different personal and professional objectives. Course offerings include a large selection of topics for both majors and nonmajors covering many areas of music performance, theory, history, and literature. The BA degree can be completed in the evening as well as the day. In addition, the department sponsors numerous extracurricular events, including concerts, lectures, and master classes.

Private lessons in instruments and voice are provided to all performance majors and many other music majors by a distinguished roster of performance teachers. Financial aid is granted to performance majors and many other music majors who need to study with private teachers not on staff.

Graduates of the department are active in the classical and the popular performance fields as singers, instrumentalists, and conductors. Concentration in music theory and composition can lead to career opportunities in orchestring, choral arranging, commercial arranging, and film scoring, as well as composing music in the contemporary and popular idioms. Concentration in music history paves the way toward career opportunities in college teaching and musical scholarship, including such work as music journalism and criticism; lecturing; writing program and music-liner notes; editing, translating, and cataloging musical materials; and serving as a consultant to concert societies, opera houses, and publishers.

Graduates of the 59-credit BS program are qualified to teach in the public elementary and high schools of New York State.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Code DX applies to MUSHT 101 and 102, and MUSPF 151, 219, and 220; codes DX and DW apply to all MUSHL courses, MUSHT courses excluding 101 and 102, MUSPF 349, 350, 359, and 411, and all MUSIN courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement The requirement for humanities and the arts (Category V, Group 1) may be fulfilled by MUSHL 101, 107, or MUSHT 101, courses not counted toward the major. Music minors may apply one of these courses to fulfill Category V, Group 1 of the distribution requirement. We suggest that students who are planning to continue the study of music on the graduate and doctoral level elect German, French, or Italian to meet the foreign language requirement (Category III).

Major Programs The Department of Music offers 4 major programs to fit individual interests and requirements. In each of these, specific requirements may be waived, with the permission of the undergraduate advisor and the chairperson, for students who have extensive previous musical experience or special career interests. Candidates for the 42-credit and 59-credit majors must demonstrate reasonable mastery of an instrument or voice before graduation.

Piano Proficiency Requirement All music majors (except students in the 24-credit BA program) must demonstrate elementary proficiency at the piano. Students should plan to fulfill this requirement during their first year of study. A passing grade on the piano proficiency examination is a prerequisite for the second year of study in music theory (MUSHT 222 and 232). Students entering Hunter with limited keyboard background may take MUSPF 151-152 Elementary Piano I and II (for elective credit), or may take private lessons in piano at their own expense. The Music Department office has a list of recommended piano teachers.

24-credit Major (BA) This degree is designed for students who want to study music in the context of a general, liberal arts education but do not plan to pursue careers in music. It is often taken by students fulfilling the requirement for certification in early childhood and elementary education. It may also be convenient for students who enter Hunter with a large number of transfer credits in music and want to complete their degree as quickly as possible.
Requirements are:
1. 12 cr in music history: MUSHL 105 plus 3 courses from MUSHL 352 or 353, 354, 355, 357, 358, and 359. (The student cannot count both MUSHL 352 and 353 toward the major.)
2. 8 cr in music theory: MUSTH 120, 190, 121, and 191.
3. 4 cr in electives chosen from music courses above the 100 level.

A minor of 12 credits in any field other than music is required.

42-credit Major (BA) This degree is designed for students planning to pursue professional careers in music. It provides basic training in all areas of music and serves as a foundation for graduate study of any aspect of the field. Requirements are:

No minor is required.

59-credit Major (BS) This degree is designed for students planning to pursue careers as music teachers at the secondary level. It provides automatic provisional certification for early childhood teaching and for teaching in elementary through secondary schools in New York State; students wishing to obtain New York State licensing must pass examinations in addition to fulfilling the degree requirements. Students are officially admitted to this program only after they have completed at least 24 credits of College work, including at least 6 credits in music courses. At that time, they must pass an audition on their preferred instrument or in voice. To enter and remain in this program, they must also maintain a GPA of 3.0 or better in music courses. Requirements are:
1. 12 cr in music history: MUSHL 105 plus 3 courses from: MUSHL 352 or 353, 354, 355, 357, 358, and 359. (The student cannot count both MUSHL 352 and 353 toward the major.)
2. 19 cr in music theory: MUSTH 120, 190, 121, 191, 222, 292, 223, and 293; MUSPF 335 or 337.

5. 6 cr in solo and ensemble performance. Students may choose one of the following areas of concentration:
   b. Vocal performance: MUSPF 369 (2 cr), plus additional cr selected from MUSPF 221, 251, 353, 355, or 369.

An annual jury examination is required. A senior recital, for which no credit is given, is also required.

Accelerated BA/MA Degree The department offers unusually gifted students the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in 4 years with a minimum of 125 credits. Requirements are the same as those for the 42-credit BA, plus 30 credits at the graduate level. Incoming freshmen should consult the undergraduate advisor to set up a curriculum appropriate to their individual backgrounds. In addition, the graduate advisor must be consulted about the MA requirements.

Graduate Study Seniors of high academic standing who are recommended by the department may be permitted to take graduate courses for undergraduate credit. Seniors within 9 credits of graduation may apply to the Admissions Office for permission to take graduate courses creditable toward the MA degree. The department offers an MA in music with opportunity for concentration in music history, ethnomusicology, composition, performance, or teacher education.

The Hunter-Mannes Consortium Hunter College music students are permitted to take elective courses at the Mannes College of Music under a consortium arrangement created to enrich the variety of music courses available to the students of both schools. Students who want to participate in this program must contact the undergraduate advisor for details and approval.

The Hunter–Bellevue School of Nursing is one of the largest and most prestigious nursing schools in the country. Its program of study combines liberal and professional education with a humanistic and comprehensive approach to health care. The School of Nursing offers a program leading to the bachelor of science (nursing) degree. The undergraduate program has two pathways: the Generic Pathway, for those students who do not have an RN license, and the RN Pathway, for those who have completed a nursing program and have or are about to receive a current license to practice professional nursing in New York State. Applications to either program are available from the Hunter College Admissions Office at 695 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10021 or from the CUNY Office of Admissions, 101 W 31st St, New York, NY 10001.

The undergraduate division consists of two parts: lower division (general education) and upper division (professional education). Students are considered for admission to the Generic Pathway Program for the fall semester only, and only after completing lower division courses. RN Pathway students are admitted for spring to take electives in nursing and may begin core courses in the fall. RNs are also admitted in the fall. Although a college GPA of 2.5 is the minimum requirement for consideration of an application, IT DOES NOT GUARANTEE ADMISSION INTO THE SCHOOL OF NURSING. The stronger the group of applicants in any given year, the higher the GPA needed for admission. A minimum grade of "C" must be attained for all required science, mathematics, and nursing courses.

Graduates are awarded a BS (Nursing) degree and are eligible to take the National Council Licensing Examination. (A student who has been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor will have to undergo an investigation by the Office of Professional Discipline, which might result in licensure being withheld.) Hunter–Bellevue graduates are prepared to give first-level professional nursing care in all areas of nursing practice. The program also provides a foundation for graduate study at the master's level, which is also offered at the School of Nursing.

Generic Pathway  This program is designed to be completed in 4 academic years by students who are admitted with no college credit and who attend full-time. How long it takes transfer or second-degree students to complete the program depends on such factors as the number of applicable transfer credits they have and the number of courses they take each semester. Generic Pathway students cannot earn the degree in the evening. Part-time attendance may result in the student losing the pace of the upper-division sequence and having to wait a year for a required course. Detailed fact sheets on the Generic Pathway are available from the Hunter College School of Nursing, 425 East 25th St, New York, NY 10010.

RN Pathway  This program is designed to meet the special needs of the experienced RN student who has already completed a 2- or 3-year nursing program. For details, interested RNs should request an RN Pathway Fact Sheet from the Hunter College School of Nursing, 425 East 25th St, New York, NY 10010.

Distribution Requirements/Nursing Major Sequences  Lower-division and upper-division course requirements are outlined below. Transfer students from other colleges will have their transcripts evaluated upon admission by the Office of the Registrar. Courses for which equivalency is granted need not be repeated. The lower-division sequence can be taken on a full- or part-time basis, but it must be fully completed before a student is admitted.

Philosophy

Department Office West Building room 1413, phone 772-4970

Chair John Lango

Professors Held, Landesman, Sharover, Stambaugh

Associate Professors Freeman, Kirkland, Lango, Press, Ross

Advisor (day/evening) Steven Ross

Philosophy studies the most fundamental questions that human beings ask—about individual and social action, the possibility and limits of knowledge, the truth and justification of beliefs, human nature and freedom, the existence of God, and the operations of nature. Philosophy approaches these questions in a systematic way, and philosophers have worked out more or less comprehensive theories to answer them (or show why they cannot be answered). The courses offered by the Philosophy Department are designed to introduce students to the main problems that philosophers study and to the main ideas of such profound and influential thinkers as Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas, Descartes, Hume, and Kant.

Philosophy is one of the most important subjects a student can study because it develops the ability to reason clearly and critically, to write thoughtfully, to use intelligence and logic to deal with problems that too often are ruled by emotion and prejudice. Philosophy also helps one develop intellectual flexibility and learn to appreciate ideas and beliefs other than those of one's own time, place, class, or group. Since it develops these intellectual abilities and habits, the study of philosophy, either in individual courses or as a major or minor, is excellent preparation for any profession or occupation. Students of philosophy pursue careers in law, business, medicine, government, and the arts. Some go on to study philosophy at the graduate level with the aim either of teaching philosophy or of obtaining an advanced degree to further their career objectives.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DR and DY apply to PHIL 102; codes DX and DW apply to PHIL 101, 104, 106, 108, and 170; and codes DX, DW, and DM apply to all PHIL 104 courses numbered 200 and above. For an explanation of the codes see pages 25-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement PHIL 101, 104, 106, 170, 201, 203, or 204 may be used to fulfill Category V, Group 2 of the requirement for humanities and the arts. Courses offered toward the major may not be applied to the distribution requirement, and no more than 6 credits of an approved minor may be applied toward the distribution requirement.

Major Requirements 24 cr, distributed as follows:

1. 3 cr in logic: either PHIL 170 or 274.
2. 3 cr in ancient and medieval philosophy: any course from PHIL 203, 212, 214, 380, 381.
3. 3 cr in modern and contemporary philosophy: any course from PHIL 204, 215, 217, 218, 384, 386, 387, 388, 389.

6. 3 cr in the intensive study of a major philosopher: any course from PHIL 380, 381, 384, 386, 387, 388, 389. The same course may not be used to satisfy both this requirement and requirement 2 or 3 above.
7. 6 additional cr chosen in consultation with the advisor. Students are encouraged to select courses that acquaint them with philosophical traditions other than the dominant Western ones.

Minor A philosophy major is permitted to minor in all programs that the College offers. Double majors are also permitted.

Major Advisor Students majoring in philosophy are required to meet with the departmental major advisor at least once each year to review their course of study and progress toward the degree. Once each semester the major advisor will convene a meeting with all interested majors, minors, and those considering a major or minor in philosophy to discuss departmental plans, policies, and requirements. One of these meetings will be held during evening session Dean's Hours.

Mentoring Philosophy majors are encouraged to establish a mentor relationship with a faculty member of their choice. This relationship will be distinct from the departmental advising relationship.

First Course in Philosophy The Philosophy Department offers a variety of introductory courses, appropriate for students with different interests and backgrounds. PHIL 101 is a general Introduction to Philosophy. PHIL 104 is an introduction with emphasis on ethics, while PHIL 106 is an introduction with emphasis on political philosophy. PHIL 170 is an introduction to logic and philosophy of science. At a slightly more advanced level, PHIL 201 is an introduction with emphasis on theory of knowledge and metaphysics. PHIL 203 and 204 survey the history of philosophy. Students who are considering a philosophy major should choose PHIL 106, 170, 201, 203, or 204.

Departmental Honors To be eligible for graduation with departmental honors in philosophy, a major must have a 3.5 GPA in philosophy and a 2.7 overall GPA. The student must register for PHIL 494 and write a substantial paper under the direction of a faculty member. This honors essay will be judged both by the faculty member under whose direction the student is working and by the departmental Honors Committee.

Independent Study Students may engage in independent study under the supervision of a member of the Philosophy Department by receiving permission to take PHIL 492.

Physics and Astronomy

Acting Chair  Leon Cohen
Professors  Cohen, Kritz, Lawergren, Marino, Tryon
Associate Professors  Bennick, Bergou, Chen, den Boer, Greenbaum, Varley
Assistant Professor  Hillery
Advisors (day) Robert Marino (majors) Edward Tryon (evening) Martin den Boer (grad) Arnold Kritz (pre-engineering) Bo Lawergren (PHYS 001) Marilyn Rothschild

Physics is the study of the basic interactions which govern the behavior of the universe as we know it. As such, a knowledge of physics is necessary for the proper understanding of any science, and, of course, it is an exciting field of study in its own right.

The department offers comprehensive training in physics that can lead to a teaching position, industrial, institutional, and government work, and graduate study. The major includes lecture courses, laboratory courses, and a chance for qualified students to participate in research with faculty members.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX, DM, and DP apply to all PHYS and ASTRO courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  No more than 8 credits from PHYS 111-121 may be offered toward the distribution requirement. We suggest, but do not require, that students who are thinking of continuing the study of this subject on the doctoral level elect French, German, or Russian to meet the foreign language portion of the distribution requirement.

Graduate Study  The Department of Physics and Astronomy offers a number of advanced courses, listed in the Graduate Catalogue, which give credit toward the degree of master of arts. Qualified undergraduate students may be admitted to these courses with the approval of the department chair.

Accelerated BA/MA Program in Physics  This special program for a limited number of well-qualified students leads to a bachelor of arts and a master of arts degree. Students are offered the opportunity quickly to reach a level where they can stand in competition for admission into any doctoral program in physics. Such opportunity and incentive are of special importance in a field where significant work is done by relatively young people. The program requires 124-126 credits (including the 26 credits required for a physics major BA degree and 30 credits from the graduate curriculum). Because this program requires a large number of physics courses, many of which have other physics courses as prerequisites, students in this program must begin taking physics courses in their first or second semester. Students should consult the department chair, undergraduate advisor, or graduate advisor for details as early as possible.

Physics for Non-physics Majors  A minimum of one year of physics is recommended for all majors in sciences and health sciences. Medical and dental schools also require one year of physics.

Students requiring one year of physics may take either the PHYS 110-120 sequence (4.5 cr each) or the PHYS 111-121 sequence (5.5 cr each). Although both sequences cover the same topics, PHYS 111-121 utilizes elementary calculus and meets for one additional lecture hour each week. It is recommended for science stu-students and those pre-med students who satisfy the pre- or coreq-usite.

PHYS 101 (4 cr) should be taken only by pre-nursing majors and those who want a one-semester terminal course in physics.

Major (26 cr) The major consists of a minimum of 26 credits, including the following:

A. General physics PHYS 111–121 (recommended). No more than 8 cr toward the major can be obtained from these courses.

B. Intermediate laboratory courses PHYS 225, 326, 427. (Students interested in teaching physics at the secondary school level may substitute PHYS 403 for 326 and 427 in their major sequence with departmental approval.)

C. Intermediate lecture courses PHYS 330, 334, 335.

D. MATH 150, 155, 250, and 254 are required, as well as one year of high school or college chemistry.

Additional physics credits should be taken from 200- and 300-level lecture and laboratory courses and are strongly recommended for students planning physics or physics-related graduate studies.
Courses that are not offered in a particular term may be taken as independent study courses on a tutorial basis by arrangement with the individual instructor and with the chair’s permission.

Minor 12 credits in biological sciences, chemistry, computer science, geology, mathematics, or another approved field selected after conference with the major advisor.

Preparation for Teaching In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Physics and Astronomy provides opportunities for students to prepare for careers in teaching at the secondary level. Students who want to qualify for New York City licensing or New York State certification should consult the Education section of this catalogue for the detailed requirements.

Students preparing to teach physics and general science are advised to include the following courses or their equivalents in their undergraduate program: MATH 254; CHEM 102, 103, 104, 105; ASTRO 100; GEOL 101; and BIOL 100. To prepare for teaching at the secondary level, the physics major must also take EDUC 365—Methods of Teaching in Secondary Schools. The complete course description is listed in the Education section of this catalogue.

Honors Work The opportunity for students to do individual research (experimental or theoretical) is offered in courses PHYS 453 and 454.

Pre-Engineering Program
The College offers courses that will prepare the student in the first 2 years of study to pursue a career in engineering. Students planing to go into engineering should consult the pre-engineering advisor during pre-admission conference days and also at least once each semester.

This program is directed toward the degree of bachelor of science in engineering. The courses offered are chosen so that students will have satisfied their first 2 years’ requirement if they transfer to City College for their final 2 years.

Those students planning to go to an engineering school other than City College should see the pre-engineering advisor to work out a program suitable to their needs.

If by the end of the fourth semester students decide not to continue their engineering degree and to remain at Hunter College, they become subject to the same requirements as other Hunter College students. Many of the courses taken in the pre-engineering program may be used to satisfy these requirements.

The following courses comprise the pre-engineering curriculum:

No single statement captures the vital meaning of political science. It deals generally with the various political, social, and cultural arrangements through which people govern their lives. It attempts to interpret the past, explain the present, and often comes to draw images of the future. As a field of study, it reaches to many levels, from the evolution of political philosophy to the problems of development in emerging nations, from the crisis of urban government in America to the organization of states in the international arena. In short, its centers of interest are broad and varied.

Most people think of politics in terms of political parties and voting. Political science is interested in both of these subjects. It is also interested in many other areas as well. In the department you will find courses in how children learn about the political world, the ideas of great thinkers from Plato to Marx, the problems of cities, the role of minority groups, issues of war and peace, the way in which American presidents make crucial decisions, the foreign policy of Russia, China, the United States and many other countries, the development of communism, political economy, and many other subjects. Students can specialize in one or more subfields or sample from a number of them.

A large number of political science majors choose some branch of public service upon completing their bachelor’s degree. Many go into teaching. Others enter the civil service or become city planners. Some enter business. Others go to work in journalism. Still others enter politics or go on to law school or graduate training. Political science, therefore, prepares students for a variety of career opportunities.
Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Code DR is required for enrollment in any POLSC course; code DL applies to all 200-level POLSC courses; and codes DX and DW apply to all 300- and 400-level POLSC courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  POLSC 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116 fulfill the social science (Category VI) distribution requirement. No more than 6 credits in political science may be used to fulfill the distribution requirement.

Major (24 cr) Majors are required to take at least one course in each of the 4 following subfields of the discipline: American government, political theory, comparative politics, and international relations. Majors are advised to take at least 2 introductory courses prior to enrollment in advanced courses. Courses in which the student receives a grade of CR ("Credit") cannot be credited toward the major. No more than 9 credits toward the minimum of 24 credits required for the major may be taken in Contemporary Issues courses.

Minor  12 credits in one or 2 other departments in areas related to the major. Credits satisfying the distribution requirement will not be counted toward the minor. The minor must be approved by the Department of Political Science.

Interdepartmental Fields  Students who want to do work in political science as part of the interdepartmental fields in Russian Area Studies, Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Energy Policy Studies, Women's Studies, and Jewish Social Studies should refer to the appropriate descriptions in this catalogue.

Preparation for Teaching  In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Political Science provides opportunities for students to prepare for a career in teaching at the elementary and secondary levels. Students who wish to qualify for New York City licensing or New York State certification should consult the Education section of this catalogue. It is possible to complete a major in political science and at the same time to satisfy the requirements for New York State secondary certification in social studies. For details, students should consult with the Department of Political Science advisor.

Preparation for Law  A substantial number of majors in political science intend to go on to law school. For information on law school requirements, and on relevant courses in political science as well as in other departments, consult the departmental or College pre-law advisor.

Preparation for Public Service  The department is developing an array of undergraduate courses in public administration and public policy designed to help students acquire skills necessary for effective participation in the public decision-making process and to prepare them for entry-level positions in governmental or political activities. For further information, please contact the department office. POLSC 241 — Managing American Government — and POLSC 348 — Public Administration and Public Policy — are recommended for students interested in this field.

Honors Work  POLSC 492 is part of the requirement for graduation with departmental honors. Students may apply 6 credits of honors work toward the major.

Seminar/Internship Program in New York Government  This university-wide program is designed to bridge the gap between academic study and the practical world of government. Each year approximately 300 students are selected as CUNY interns. Hunter College students participate by enrolling in POLSC 411 and 412. Interns spend 8 to 10 hours a week in agencies, political offices, or community groups working on administrative or research assignments related to urban affairs and services. They attend a weekly classroom seminar at Hunter and monthly meetings of the entire Program at the Graduate School and University Center. Prominent government officials, political leaders, community representatives, and academic experts participate in both the weekly and monthly meetings. For further information, consult the Department of Political Science.

Seminar/Internship in Comparative and International Politics  This program is designed to give students the opportunity to apply what they have learned in the classroom to the practical world of comparative and international politics. The program is also designed to help students make future career choices. Students enrolled in POLSC 413 and 414 are placed in comparative or international political organizations, trade and business institutes, non-governmental organizations, United Nations agencies, and foreign policy institutions. Students spend 8-10 hours a week working on administrative and research activities related to comparative and international politics. In addition, there are weekly classroom seminars in which experts in comparative or international politics discuss topics of current interest. For more information, contact the Department of Political Science.

Preparation for Graduate Study  Students who intend to go on to graduate school should consult their undergraduate advisors. Qualified students in their senior or junior year may be admitted to some graduate courses with the approval of the department chair.

Awards and Prizes  The Political Science Department confers recognition on its outstanding graduates through prizes and awards: The Katherine Duffy Prize and The Edgar Dawson Prize, presented annually to graduating political science majors, and The David E. Haight Memorial Award, a substantial fellowship to enable a graduating political science major to pursue graduate studies in political science.

The Hunter College Psychology Program spans the diverse areas of psychology from clinical, social and developmental to experimental psychology, ethology and biopsychology.

The faculty and facilities of the CUNY Doctoral Program in Biopsychology are an integral part of the Hunter College Psychology Program and offer our undergraduate students opportunities not otherwise available.

Although we are a large department, students have personal contact with faculty through an extensive advisement system, involvement in departmental activities and committees, supervised field placement, and through experience in research laboratories under the guidance of a faculty mentors as part of our independent study and honors programs.

The psychology major, as part of the bachelor's degree program, prepares the student for many possibilities in education, social and welfare services, health services, and industry. The psychology major also fulfills the course requirements of most psychology graduate programs.

A background in psychology combined with special training in other disciplines within the College may be especially useful in preparing for such other careers as nursing, speech pathology, social work, special education, counseling, music therapy, and dance therapy. Our undergraduate and graduate advisors can provide students with additional guidance and information regarding these and other career opportunities.
Course Access Codes

Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX, DW, DM, and DP apply to all PSYCH courses. ENGL 120 is also prerequisite to all 300- and 400-level PSYCH courses. These restrictions may be waived by special permission of the department. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement

We suggest, but do not require, that students who intend to continue the study of psychology on the doctoral level elect French, Spanish, German, or Russian to meet the foreign language portion of the distribution requirement. Of particular relevance to psychology majors are courses in anthropology, biology, chemistry, computer science, mathematics, physics, and sociology.

College regulations state that a course used to satisfy the requirements for a major (e.g. Psych 100) cannot also be used to satisfy the distribution requirement.

Exemptions

A student may be exempt from PSYCH 100 by passing an examination College Level Education Program (CLEP) given at various testing centers. Interested students should contact the Office of Student Services for further details and application forms. A passing grade provides 3 credits.

Psychology Major

The major consists of 26 credits in psychology, including PSYCH 100, one other 100-level course, PSYCH 206 (Statistics), PSYCH 304 or 305 (Experimental Psychology) and 4 elective courses in Psychology. Two of the elective courses must be at least at the 200-level, and 2 of the elective courses must be at least at the 300-level. Most psychology majors intending to attend graduate school take more than the minimum 26 credits in psychology. We recommend that all psychology majors see an undergraduate advisor for assistance in program planning and that the major be declared as soon as possible.

Minor

A minor consists of 12 credits in an area or areas related to the major. Psychology majors may elect their 12 credits from anthropology, biology, chemistry, computer science, physics, physiology, political science, sociology, or statistics. Other minors may be granted after consultation with the faculty advisor. The department does not control the choice of courses for the minor, but advisors may suggest groups of courses especially suited to the students’ interests and career goals.

In the Program in Religion, students examine the nature of religion and the forms its various expressions have taken. Religion is studied as an academic discipline and the program's approach reflects no doctrinal bias. The purposes of the program are to introduce the field of religion in general; to present the thoughts, documents, and history of major religious traditions (both Eastern and Western, ancient and modern, missionary and tribal); and to give students insight into specific religious issues and thinkers.

The Program in Religion consists of a series of core courses taught by specialists in the field, augmented by other religion courses offered by staff in 10 participating departments or divisions: anthropology, Black & Puerto Rican studies, Chinese, classics, English, geography, Hebrew, history, philosophy, and sociology. The program is divided into 5 categories of courses:

I. Introduction to the field of religion (basic introductory courses);
II. Theoretical studies in religion (courses focusing on different methodological approaches to the study of religion);
III. Issues in religion (courses dealing with religious experience, faith, ethics, religion, and the arts);
IV. Religious traditions (courses in major religious traditions);
V. Related courses.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking many introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DX and DW apply to all REL-prefix courses. See department listings from courses with prefixes other than REL. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  The distribution requirement in humanities and the arts (Category V, Group 2) may be fulfilled by REL 110, 111, 204, 205, 207, 251, 252, or 254. No courses offered toward the fulfillment of the major or minor in religion can also be used to fulfill the distribution requirement.

Major (24 cr)  At least 18 credits are to be taken from the following 4 categories: I. introduction to the field of religion; II. theoretical studies in religion; III. issues in religion; and IV. religious traditions. Normally, both introductory courses (REL 110, 111) must be taken and followed by at least one course in theoretical studies, one in religious issues, and one in religious traditions. No more than 2 courses from Category V (related courses) may be applied toward the major.

Upon becoming a major, the student, in consultation with the chair, will select one member of the Program in Religion staff as his or her major advisor. Each religion major is required to consult with this advisor at least twice a year.

Minor  Religion majors may minor in any discipline at Hunter which has a major or in Education.

Sociology

Department Office  West Building room 1622, phone 772-5587

Chair  Pamela Stone

Associate Professors  Green, Koehe, Lazreg, Mueller, Nahiry, Poeppelecker, Stone, Tuckel, Wood

A major in sociology provides the undergraduate with the opportunity to learn a distinct intellectual perspective and a method of inquiry. By continually testing conventional wisdom against evidence, the study of sociology encourages the development of a critical judgment. By routinely considering the matrix of social and cultural facts, it can lead students to an understanding of the conditions under which social facts emerge, and the consequences they have for individuals, groups, societies, and social institutions. It can also help students better understand their own roles in the array of social institutions in which they are enmeshed.

In addition to providing a foundation for the student who desires to pursue advanced study in sociology, a major in sociology can help to prepare students for many careers: social work, the health professions, personnel work, counseling, and other human-services fields, as well as law, civil service and public policy, social research, and other fields in the private sector. Majors are encouraged to develop skills in observation, interviewing, and other data-collection techniques, data processing, statistical and content analysis, and forecasting the future—all marketable skills in many career lines.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Code DR applies to all SOC courses; in addition, code DM applies to SOC 241 and 341 and code DW applies to all 400-level SOC courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  Two courses may be offered to fulfill the distribution requirement. SOC 101 must be taken in addition to one other course from the following 4 courses: SOC 217, 219, 253, 257.

Major  The sociology major consists of 24 credits. Nine of these credits must include SOC 101, 241, and 341. Three credits must be in either SOC 221 or 223. Of the remaining 12 credits, at least 6 must be in courses above the 300 level.
Minor Twelve credits in 1 or 2 departments. For information concerning approved courses, consult the major advisor.

Special Programs

The MARC Program The Departments of Psychology, Anthropology, and Sociology jointly offer a program called MARC (Minority Access to Research Careers). This interdisciplinary research training program for talented minority juniors and seniors is funded by the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration of the National Institute of Mental Health. Participants receive a monthly stipend, tuition and fee remittance, they take a special curriculum, and get individualized research training in a variety of areas under the supervision of a faculty mentor. The program has several levels of participation, and all minority students—especially freshmen and sophomores—intending to pursue a research-related career in the participating disciplines are urged to register with the program. Additional details and descriptive literature are available from the MARC program advisor.

Five-Year BA/MS Program For a limited number of qualified students, the department offers an accelerated 5-year program leading to a BA in sociology and an MS in social research. The program requires a total of 145 credits in college work (100 undergraduate, 45 graduate), one semester of supervised field experience, and a research paper. In order to be admitted to the program, students must complete their basic requirements, pass an honors course (independent study or honors seminar), and meet the requirements of the MS program as outlined in the graduate catalogue. Undergraduate students admitted to the program generally start their graduate work toward the end of their junior year. Interested students should consult the program's advisor at the earliest possible date.

Independent Study Students may pursue independent study through SOC 371 and 372 (Readings in Sociology), or SOC 471 and 472 (Honors Independent Study). These options allow students to initiate and carry out a course of study of their own choosing under the guidance of a faculty sponsor. Students should have a topic and a general plan of study in mind before seeking faculty sponsorship, although advisors are happy to discuss independent study options.

Honors In order to graduate with departmental honors in sociology, students must have a 3.0 GPA overall and a 3.5 GPA in sociology and must complete either an Honors Seminar (SOC 473 or 474) or an Honors Independent Study (SOC 471 or 472). Students whose GPAs are within this range are urged to consult the advisors before planning their senior year programs of study, since honors seminars are generally offered only once per year. In addition, students with overall GPAs of at least 2.8 and GPA's of 3.0 in the sociology major are eligible for membership in AKD, the International Sociology Honor Society. See advisors for more information.

Preparation for Research Careers Students interested in careers in research-related fields such as policy analysis and evaluation, marketing research, advertising, consumer behavior, and public opinion polling, as well as students who are contemplating graduate study in sociology, are encouraged to gain research experience through selected coursework and independent research. Undergraduate students who are admitted to SOC 241 and 341, which are required for the major, students interested in research should consider selecting electives from the following: SOC 259, 311, 313, 363, and 441.

Preparation for Social Work Students interested in careers in social work or other human services are strongly encouraged to take the field placement seminar SOC 331/332, preferably during their junior year. This course provides supervised field experience in a social agency. In addition, students interested in social work should consider selecting electives from the following: SOC 231, 235, 237, and 239.

Preparation for Teaching In cooperation with the Division of Programs in Education, the Department of Sociology provides opportunities for students to prepare for a career in teaching at the secondary and elementary levels. Students who want to qualify for teaching social studies in secondary schools should read the description in this catalog under Education and consult their major advisor.

Urban Studies Students who have selected the major/minor concentration in urban studies may select work in sociology to complete the social science component and minor requirements. Course selection must be made with the approval of the student's advisor in the Department of Urban Affairs.

Graduate Courses Qualified undergraduates seeking more advanced or specialized work may, with the permission of the instructor, be permitted to take graduate courses. Consult the graduate catalogue for course listings.

The disciplines of study in this department are concerned with the nature of the art form of dramatic narrative as it relates to performance on stage and screen. The department's approach to theatre and film is both creative and analytical. Because television is closely related to theatre as well as to film, the department also offers courses in dramatic television.

In each of these areas, the department offers courses in practical, historical, and theoretical studies. In theatre, courses include playwriting, acting, directing, design, production, children's theatre and creative drama. In film, courses include screenwriting, directing, producing, cinematography, editing, and production. Students in both theatre and film may take courses in dramatic television.

The department also examines the theoretical, critical, and historical aspects of theatre and film. Each discipline is studied from an historical perspective as a reflection of society.

A broad education in the disciplines of theatre and film is essential for students hoping to pursue careers in these fields. Students in each of these areas are required to study production techniques as well as the history, theory, and criticism of these art forms. Major sequences are planned with an emphasis on professional standards.
Many students who graduate from the film program move into the profession as filmmakers, writers, videographers, producers, or editors as well as into television. Students who graduate from the theatre program work as actors, stage managers and designers, and later as directors. Some continue their creative work in conservatories. Others continue their studies in graduate programs in history, theory, and criticism leading to an MA and/or a PhD. Graduates who concentrate in developmental drama frequently enter the field as teachers and directors of theatre in education and/or as creative drama specialists.

The department maintains associations with major theatre, film, and television institutions. Many students are placed with these and other professional groups through the Inservice Learning Program of the College.

Students pursuing a major in theatre arts or a major in theatre must fulfill the production work crew requirement as part of their program for graduation. Crew information is available from the department office.

The major sequences of study in the department lead to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Course Access Codes Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. With over 70 percent of the nation's population classified as urban, urban studies offer students the opportunity to investigate intensively the forces shaping the institutions and quality of life in American metropolitan regions. Building on an understanding of relevant economic, social, and political trends, the field of urban studies concentrates on defining and addressing current urban policy and planning issues. To reinforce its strong theoretical foundation, the urban studies curriculum also includes analytical skills and fieldwork experience.

The department offers several options to students interested in examining the implications of urban life within a social science context. The most intensive is, of course, the major. Additional programs include elective courses which may constitute a minor for a non-major, and a program of education for public service which is open to selected students (see special programs, below). Of particular note for non-majors is the specially designed introductory course, Urban Life: The Personal and Observational View.

The urban studies offerings are enriched by their inclusion in the Department of Urban Affairs, which, in addition to the undergraduate program, graduate curricula in urban planning and urban affairs and the Urban Research Center. The sharing of faculty and facilities, the interchange among advanced and beginning students, and the cooperation of other units in the Social Sciences Division create an environment for concentrating the urban-related concerns appropriate to a major college city.

Because it integrates several social science perspectives, the urban studies major is uniquely fitted to train students for careers in either the public or private sector, depending upon the student's selection of electives. Among the types of employment chosen by recent graduates are urban planning, social work, municipal budgeting, public administration, real estate, community organization, law, business, and journalism.

Course Access Codes  Students must fulfill developmental course requirements before taking any introductory and most advanced courses at Hunter College. Codes DR and DL apply to all 100-level URBS courses; codes DX and DY apply to 200-level URBS courses; codes DX, DW, DM, and DP apply to all 300-level URBS courses; codes DX, DM, and DP as well as ENGL 120 apply to all 400-level courses. For an explanation of the codes see pages 26-27 in this catalogue.

Distribution Requirement  Any 2 courses from among URBS 101, 102, and 201 will fulfill 6 cr of the 12-cr distribution requirement in the social sciences (Category VI).

Urban Studies Major and Major-Minor Concentration  The urban studies major (24 credits) and the major-minor concentration (39 credits) provide a strong background in a selected social science or related discipline, a methods component, and a fieldwork experience built around a systematic introduction to contemporary urban life and problems. An integrating seminar during the student's last 2 terms provides an understanding of the application of the various disciplines to policy development and program operations that deal with today's urban conditions.

Preparation for Graduate Training  A substantial number of majors in urban studies pursue professional graduate study in urban planning, law, social work, public administration, architecture, and related fields. Students should discuss their plans with the undergraduate advisor in their junior year in order to plan their programs accordingly.

Special Programs  Urban studies students are eligible to participate in 2 internship programs sponsored by Hunter College: the Program of Urbanization for Public Service and the Seminar/Internship Program in New York City Government.

The Program of Education for Public Service is lodged in the Department of Urban Affairs. It is a selective program open to 24 students chosen in their junior or senior years to become Public Service Scholars. All Hunter students are eligible for this full-time, year-long program which includes an internship placement and 2 weekly seminars. The students chosen to participate receive an annual stipend. For further information, consult the director of the program.

The City University Seminar/Internship Program in New York City Government is a program in which Hunter College students may participate by enrolling in POLSC 411/412. For further information, contact the Department of Political Science.

Women's Studies

Program Office  West Building room 1716, phone 772-5680
Coordinator Rosalind P. Petchesky
Policy Committee Alexander (English), Bain (Black & Puerto Rican Studies), Helly (History), Hune (Educational Foundations), Lazreg (Women's Studies/Sociology), Paludi (Psychology), Petchesky (Women's Studies/Political Science), Somervell (Political Science), Zalk (Educational Foundations), Zentella (Black & Puerto Rican Studies)
Advisors (day and evening) Rosalind Petchesky and staff

Women's Studies reexamines the role of women in contemporary society, in history, and in all cultures. It aims, through a focus on women's experiences, to open fresh perspectives throughout the entire curriculum. Women's Studies seeks to create and share a new knowledge base that will give us a better understanding of all human experience, including the pursuit of learning.

The Women's Studies major is a collateral major—2 majors taken together without a minor. Thus, employment after college can involve one or the other discipline or both at once. Women's Studies graduates may seek employment related to a traditional field such as economics, psychology, sociology, or English. In such areas as health care, counseling, advertising, market research, publishing, teaching, or administrative work, they may combine the information and insights gained from the 2 major interrelated fields. The Women's Studies collateral major is appropriate in pre-law training and is useful, directly and indirectly, in all fields involving an analysis of society and social interaction.

Distribution Requirement No courses with the prefix WOMST are credited toward the College distribution requirement.

Major The Women's Studies program offers an 18-credit collateral major which is taken in addition to a traditional major. No minor is then needed. Students enrolled in the Honors Program may elect to major in the program without an additional major. The 18 required credits are distributed as follows: Introduction to Women's Studies (3 cr), Senior Research Seminar (3 cr), and 12 cr from the Women's Studies program courses (listed as WOMST) and the courses cross-listed with Women's Studies offered by participating departments.
Minor The Women's Studies major requires no minor because, as explained above, the major is double, or collateral. The Women's Studies program is accepted as a minor in all departments within the Divisions of Social Sciences and Humanities and the Arts. In departments in the Division of Mathematics and Sciences, students must check with major advisors.

Inservice Program Students may register for 1–6 cr of inservice. They may work in positions of responsibility in a variety of community service and other organizations that relate to the needs or concerns of women. Consult the coordinator of Women's Studies.

Research Seminar Majors in Women’s Studies are required to take a seminar or do advanced independent study to complete their work in the program. The seminar, determined by the other fields in which the Women's Studies majors concentrate, varies from year to year. Its prerequisites are WOMST 100 and 12 credits of any combination of WOMST-labeled courses and 300-level courses in the student's other major. Consult the Women's Studies coordinator early to plan either a senior research seminar or the independent study that may be substituted for it.

Student Regulations and Rights

STATEMENT ON THE RIGHTS OF STUDENTS

The Hunter College Senate voted endorsement of the following statement on September 24, 1974:

PREAMBLE

"Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. . . . Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom."

Students "have a distinctive role . . . which qualifies them to share in the responsible authority on campus; the exercise of the authority is part of their education. . . . Joint efforts among all groups in the institution—students, faculty, administration, and governing board—is a prerequisite of sound academic government. . . . Joint effort, to be effective, must be rooted in the concept of shared authority. The exercise of shared authority in college and university government, like the protection of (student and faculty) academic freedom, requires tolerance, respect, and a sense of community."

"The responsibility to secure and respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community."

Students' rights are not limited by what is enumerated in this statement. The purpose of the statement is to outline some basic principles and guidelines, many of which are now met. Specific implementation will have to be continuously adjusted as conditions at the college change.

I. Academic and Personal Files

1. Improper disclosure, even within the college, of academic, personal, and disciplinary records is a serious invasion of privacy. To minimize the risk of improper disclosure, academic, personal, and disciplinary records should be kept in separate files.
2. All files may be made available only to specially authorized college staff. Express consent of the student involved is otherwise required.
3. Academic records and transcripts should contain only information about scholastic achievements.
4. No records should be kept which reflect the political and off-campus activities or beliefs of students.
5. Non-current medical and disciplinary records should be periodically destroyed.
6. Students have the right to periodically review their academic, medical and disciplinary records and to appeal for removal of items improperly included. If the appeal fails the student has the right to append a written rebuttal to the record.

II. Classroom, Grades, etc.

1. Students have the right, within the limits of available facilities, to pursue any course of study for which they are eligible according to college standards.
2. In order to permit eligible students unhindered access to courses, the costs of required materials should be kept within reasonable limits.
3. Students have the right to know, at the start of each course of study, the basis to be used by the instructor in determining grades.
4. Students' grades should be based solely on academic criteria, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.
5. Students should have the opportunity to take reasoned exception to facts or points of view offered in any course of study, but they are responsible for meeting the academic standards of any course of study for which they are enrolled.
6. Students should have the protection through formally established procedures against prejudiced or capricious academic standards or evaluations.

III. Participation in Academic Affairs

1. Students have the right, individually and collectively, to express their views on matters of general interest to the student body, including institutional policy, curriculum, and personnel decisions.
2. Students have the right to participate in the formulation and application of institutional policy affecting academic and student affairs.

3. Students should share in the formation of policies regarding degree requirements, courses and curriculum, academic grading systems, standards of academic standing, and calendar arrangements.
4. Students should have the opportunity, individually and collectively, to assess the value of a course and to express their views on the form and conduct of a class which they have taken.
5. The results of an institutional mechanism used for students to assess courses and faculty, such as evaluation questionnaires, should be accessible to all members of the college community, and should be weighed in all decisions affecting faculty status and curriculum.

IV. Extracurricular Activities

1. Students should be free to form and join associations to promote their common interests.
2. Students have the right to express their opinions, individually and collectively, and to support causes in a manner that does not disrupt the orderly operation of the college.

V. Standards of Conduct

1. Students should participate in the formulation of standards of behavior which are considered essential to the educational mission and community responsibilities of the college.
2. The code of conduct, as a set of regulations and procedures, should be clearly stated and published in a handbook or other generally available set of institutional regulations.
3. In all cases, disciplinary procedures should protect the student from capricious and prejudicial application of the rules of conduct. Such procedures should also satisfy the requirements of procedural due process, including written notice with details of charges, sufficient time to prepare a defense, right to assistance in the defense, right to cross-examine witnesses and to present evidence, and the right to appeal the decision.

RESOLVED, That these rules and regulations be incorporated in each college bulletin.

Adopted by the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York on June 23, 1969, and amended on October 27, 1969 and May 22, 1980

3. It shall be the responsibility of the faculty and of the administrative officials of each institution of higher education to make available to each student who is absent from school, because of his religious beliefs, an equivalent opportunity to make up any examination, study or work requirements which he may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days. No fees of any kind shall be charged by the institution for making available to the said student such equivalent opportunity.

Sexual Harassment Policy and Procedures

Sexual harassment is illegal. It is a form of sex discrimination in violation of Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, Title IX of the 1972 Education Amendment, and the official policy of The City University of New York. The City University of New York issued a policy in 1982 that prohibits sexual harassment of faculty, staff, and students:

"It is the policy of The City University of New York to prohibit harassment of employees or students on the basis of sex. This policy is related to and is in conformity with the equal opportunity policy of the University to recruit, employ, retain and promote employees without regard to sex, age, race, color, or creed. Prompt investigation of allegations will be made on a confidential basis to ascertain the veracity of complaints, and appropriate corrective action will be taken.

"It is a violation of policy for any member of the University community to engage in sexual harassment. It is a violation of policy for any member of the University community to take action against an individual for reporting sexual harassment."

Hunter College adheres to CUNY policy and condemns all forms of sexual intimidation and exploitation. For the purposes of this policy, sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other intimidating verbal or written communications or physical conduct of a sexual nature. This behavior constitutes sexual harassment when:

1. submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic standing;

2. submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions affecting that individual;

3. such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or learning environment."

To implement CUNY's policy, Hunter College created a Sexual Harassment Panel to help educate the Hunter community about sexual harassment; to asassist in the investigation of complaints of sexual harassment; and to make recommendations for corrective and disciplinary actions. (The Vice-President for Student Affairs designates the panel to investigate formal complaints by students; the Panel reports the results of its investigations to the Vice-President for Student Affairs and makes recommendations for appropriate corrective action.) All complaints will be promptly investigated on a confidential basis, and anyone who engages in such behavior risks the possibility of disciplinary action. The individual bringing the complaint decides whether and how to pursue a resolution of the problem.

Any student or employee of the College may discuss complaints of sexual harassment with a member of the Sexual Harassment Panel for information on procedures for informal and formal resolutions of the problem. The Panel's office is Room 1209E, phone: 772-4007. Further information on the Panel is available from members of the Panel and in the following places:

Women's Center
Women's Studies Program

The coordinators of the Panel are Professor Richard Barrickman (Department of English, 772-5174) and Professor Michele Paludi (Department of Psychology, 772-5681).

Bylaws of the Board of Trustees

ARTICLE XV – STUDENTS

Section 15.0 PREAMBLE. Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society. Student participation, responsibility, academic freedom, and due process are essential to the operation of the academic enterprise. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth.

Freedom to learn and to explore major social, political, and economic issues are necessary adjuncts to student academic freedom, as is freedom from discrimination based on racial, ethnic, religious, sex, political, and economic differentiations.

Freedom to learn and freedom to teach are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The concomitant of this freedom is responsibility. If the benefits of the academic community are to develop positively in their freedom, if these rights are to be secure, then students should exercise their freedom with responsibility.

Section 15.1 CONDUCT STANDARD DEFINED. Each student enrolled or in attendance in any college, school, or unit under the control of the board and every student organization, association, publication, club, or chapter shall obey the laws of the City, State, and Nation, and the bylaws and resolutions of the board, and the policies, regulations, and orders of the college.

The faculty and student body at each college shall share equally the responsibility and the power to establish subject to the approval of the board more detailed rules of conduct and regulations in conformity with the general requirement of this article.

This regulatory power is limited by the right of students to the freedoms of speech, press, assembly, and petition as applied to others in the academic community and to citizens generally.

Section 15.2 STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS. a. Any group of students may form an organization, association, club, or chapter by filing with the duly elected student government organization of the college or school at which they are enrolled or in attendance and with an officer to be designated by the faculty of the college or school at which they are enrolled or in attendance:

1. the name and purposes of the organization, association, club, or chapter;
2. the names and addresses of its president and secretary or other officers corresponding in function to president and secretary.

However, no group, organization, or student publication with a program against the religion, race, ethnic origin, or identification or sex of a particular group or which makes systematic attacks against the religion, race, ethnic origin or sex of a particular group shall receive support from any funds collected by the college or be permitted to organize or continue at any college or school. No organizations, military or semi-military in character, not connected with established college or school courses, shall be permitted without the authorization of the faculty and the duly elected student government and the board.

b. Extra-curricular activities at each college or school shall be regulated by the duly elected student government organization to insure the effective conduct of such college or school as an institution of higher learning and for the prevention of activities which are hereafter prohibited or which violate the standards of conduct of the character set forth in bylaw 15.1. Such powers shall include:

1. The power to charter or otherwise authorize teams (excluding intercollegiate athletics), publications, organizations, associations, clubs, or chapters, and, when appropriate in the exercise of such regulatory power, the power to refuse, suspend, or revoke any charter or other authorization for cause after hearing on notice.

2. The power to delegate responsibility for the effective implementation of its regulatory functions hereunder to any officer or committee which it may appoint. Any aggrieved student or group whose charter or other authorization has been refused, suspended, or revoked may appeal such adverse action by such officer or committee of student government to the duly elected student government. On appeal an aggrieved student or group shall be entitled to a hearing following the due process procedures as set forth in section 15.3. Following such hearing the duly elected student government shall have the authority to set aside, decrease, or confirm the adverse action.

c. Any person or organization affiliated with the college may file charges with an office of the dean of students* alleging that a student publication has systematically attacked the religion, race, ethnic origin, or sex of a particular group, or has otherwise contravened the laws of the City, State, or Nation, or any bylaw or resolution of the board, or any policy, regulation, or order of the college, within a reasonable period of time after such occurrence. If the dean of students determines, after making such inquiries as he/she may deem appropriate, that the charges are substantial, he/she shall attempt to resolve the dispute, failing which he/she shall promptly submit the charges to the faculty-student disciplinary committee for disposition in accordance with the procedures of section 15.3 thereof.

If the committee sustains the charges or any part thereof against the student publication, the committee shall be empowered to (1) reprimand the publication, or (2) recommend to the appropriate funding bodies the withdrawal of budget funds. The funding body shall have the authority to implement fully, modify, or overrule the recommendations.

d. Each college shall establish a student elections review committee in consultation with the various student governments. The student elections review committee shall approve the election procedures and certify the results of elections for student governments, and student body referenda.

e. Student government elections shall be scheduled and conducted, and newly elected student governments shall take office, in accordance with policies of the board, and implementing regulations.

Section 15.3 STUDENT DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES. a. Any charge, accusation, or allegation which is to be presented against a student, and which if proved, may subject a student to disciplinary action, must be submitted in writing in complete detail to the office of the dean of students promptly by the individual, organization, or department making the charge.

b. Notice of the charge shall be personally delivered or sent by the dean of students to the student at the address appearing on the records of the college, by registered or certified mail and shall contain the following:

1. A complete and itemized statement of the charges being brought against the student including the rule, bylaw, or regulation he is charged with violating, and the possible penalties for such violation.

2. The time, the date (which shall be as soon as practicable), and the place of meeting with a counselor from the office of the dean of students or a qualified faculty member designated by the dean of students.

* Throughout these bylaws in any college or unit where the title "dean of students" does not exist, the same shall refer to the officer performing the functions which would otherwise be performed by a dean of students.
3. The student shall be advised of his/her rights in the proceeding and possible consequences. Specifically the notice shall include:
A. A warning that anything he/she may say at this meeting may be used against him/her at a non-college hearing; therefore, he/she may have legal counsel present to advise him/her.
B. A statement of his/her right to remain silent without assumption of guilt.
C. A statement that the counselor is precluded from justifying in a college hearing regarding information received during the interview.

3. If no agreement is reached, or if the complainant or the student so requests, or if the student fails to appear, a hearing will be scheduled before the faculty-student discipline committee.

4. The student shall be informed in writing by registered or certified mail or by personal service of the hearing with sufficient particularity of the charges and of the time and place of hearing. Notice of at least five school days shall be given to the student in advance of the hearing unless the student consents to an earlier hearing. The notice shall advise the student of his/her right to have legal counsel and witnesses participate at the hearing.

5. The hearing, before the faculty-student discipline committee, the following procedure shall apply:
1. The specific charges shall be read to the student. If the student admits the charges, he/she shall be given an opportunity to explain his/her actions before the committee shall decide on the penalty. If the student denies the charge or is silent, the hearing must continue, the accusing party proceeding first. Both shall dim in introduce evidence and cross-examine witnesses.
2. The college shall make a record of each disciplinary hearing by some means such as a stenographic transcript, a tape recording, or the equivalent.
A disciplined student is entitled upon request to a copy of such a transcript without cost.
3. The student shall have the option to a closed hearing and the right to request an open public hearing. However, a majority of the committee shall have the right to hold a closed hearing when an open public hearing would adversely affect and be disruptive of the committee's normal operations.

f. The student shall be sent a copy of the committee's decision which shall be final as to the student's right of appeal.
g. The faculty-student disciplinary committee shall consist of three faculty and three student members plus a chairperson. The faculty members shall be selected by lot from a panel of six elected annually by the appropriate faculty body from among the persons having faculty rank or faculty status and the students shall be selected by lot from a panel of six elected annually in an election in which all students registered at the college shall be eligible to vote. In the event that the student or faculty panel, or both are not elected, the president shall have the duty to select the panel or panels which have not been elected. No member of the committee shall serve more than two consecutive terms. The chairperson of the committee shall be selected from among the remaining members of the panel and shall have the power to vote in case of a tie. A quorum shall consist of at least two students and two faculty members. Persons who are to be participants in the hearing as witnesses or who have been involved in preferring charges or who may participate in appeal procedures or any other person having a direct interest in the outcome of the hearing shall be disqualified from serving on the hearing panel. A lawyer from the general counsel's office of the board may be present to act as legal advisor to the committee.

Section 15.4 APPEALS. An appeal from the decision of the faculty-student disciplinary committee may be made to the president who may confirm or decrease the penalty but not increase it. His/her decision shall be final except in the case of dismissal or suspension for more than one term. An appeal from a decision of dismissal or suspension for more than one term may be made to the appropriate committee of the board. Any appeal under this section shall be made in writing within fifteen days after the delivery of the decision appealed from. This requirement may be waived in a particular case for good cause by the president or board committee as the case may be. If the president is a party to the dispute, his/her functions with respect to an appeal shall be discharged by an official of the university to be appointed by the chancellor.

Section 15.5 SUSPENSION OR DISMISSAL. The board reserves full power to dismiss or suspend a student, or suspend a student organization for conduct which impedes, obstructs, or interferes with the orderly and continuous administration and operation of any college, school, or unit of the university in the use of its facilities or in the achievement of its purposes as an educational institution.

A president or full dean may in an emergency or extraordinary circumstances, temporarily suspend a student, or temporarily suspend the privileges of a student organization or group for cause, pending an early hearing as provided in bylaw section 15.3 to take place within not more than seven (7) school days. Prior to the commencement of a temporary suspension of a student, the college shall give such student oral or written notice of the charges against him/her and, if he/she denies them, the college shall forthwith give such student an informal oral explanation of the evidence supporting the charges and the student may present informally his/her explanation or theory of the matter. When a student's presence poses a continuing danger to persons or property or an ongoing threat of disrupting the academic process, notice and opportunity for denial and explanation may follow suspension, but shall be given as soon as feasible thereafter.

Section 15.6 THE UNIVERSITY STUDENT SENATE. There shall be a university student senate responsible, subject to the board, for the formulation of university-wide student policy relating to the academic status, role, rights, and freedoms of the student. The authority and duties of the university student senate shall not extend to areas of interest which fall exclusively within the domain of the student governments of the constituent units of the university. Consistent with the authority of the board of trustees in accordance with the education law and the bylaws of the board of trustees, the university student senate shall make its own bylaws providing for the election of its own officers, the establishment of its own rules and procedures, for its internal administration, and for such other matters as are necessary for its existence. The university student senate shall have the full rights and responsibilities accorded student organizations as provided in these bylaws. The delegates and alternate delegates to the university student senate shall be elected by their respective constituencies, or by their student governments from the elected members of the respective student governments.

Section 15.7 COLLEGE GOVERNANCE PLANS. The provisions in a duly adopted college governance plan shall supersede any inconsistent provisions contained in this article.

All revenues generated by student activities funded through student activity fees shall be placed in a college central depository subject to the control of the college association. The application of such revenues to the account of the income generating organization shall require the specific authorization of the college association.

d. The chancellor or his/her designee shall promulgate regulations in a fiscal accountability handbook, to regulate all aspects of the collection, deposit, financial disbursement, accounting procedures, financial payments, documentation, contracts, travel vouchers, investments and surpluses of student activity funds and all other procedural and documentary aspects necessary, as determined by the chancellor or his designee to protect the integrity and accountability of all student activity fee funds.

e. Student government fees shall be allocated by the duly elected student government or each student government where more than one duly elected student government exists, for its own use and for the use of student organizations, as specified in section 15.2 of these bylaws, provided, however, that the allocation is based on a budget approved by the duly elected student government after notice and hearing, subject to the oversight of the college association.

f. Where more than one duly elected student government exists, the college association shall allocate the student government fees to each student government in direct proportion to the amount collected from the members of each student government.

Section 15.16 THE REVIEW AUTHORITY OF COLLEGE PRESIDENTS AND COLLEGE ASSOCIATIONS. a. The president of the college shall have the authority to veto any student activity fee including the student government fee allocation, which is in her opinion requires further clarification, is inappropriate, or contravenes the laws of the state, city, state, or nation or any bylaw or pol-
ARTICLE XVI—STUDENT ACTIVITY FEES AND AUXILIARY ENTERPRISES

Section 16.1 STUDENT ACTIVITY FEE. The student activity fee is the total of the fees for student government and other student activities. Student activity fees, including student government fees collected by a college of the university shall be deposited in a college central depository and, except where earmarked by the board, allocated by a college association budget committee subject to review by the college association as required in these bylaws.

Section 16.2 STUDENT ACTIVITY FEES USE—EXPENDITURE CATEGORIES. Student activity fee funds shall be allocated and expended only for the following purposes:
1. Extracurricular educational programs;
2. Cultural and social activities;
3. Recreational and athletic programs;
4. Student government;
5. Publications and other media;
6. Assistance to registered student organizations;
7. Community service programs;
8. Enhancement of the college and university environment;
9. Transportation, administration and insurance related to the implementation of these activities;
10. Student services to supplement or add to those provided by the university;
11. Stipends to student leaders.

Section 16.3 STUDENT GOVERNMENT FEE. The student government fee is that portion of the student activity fee levied by resolution of the board which has been established for the support of student government activities. The existing student government fees now in effect shall continue until changed. Student government fees shall be allocated by the duly elected student government or each student government where more than one duly elected student government exists, for its own use and for the use of student organizations, as specified in section 15.2 of these bylaws, provided, however, that the allocation is based on a budget approved by the duly elected student government after notice and hearing, subject to the review of the college association. Where more than one duly elected student government exists, the college association shall apportion the student government fees to each student government in direct proportion to the amount collected from members of each student government.

Section 16.4 STUDENT GOVERNMENT ACTIVITY DEFINED. Student government activity is any activity operated by and for the students enrolled at any unit of the university provided, (1) such activity is for the direct benefit of students enrolled at the college, (2) that participation in the activity and the benefit thereof is available to all students enrolled in the unit or student government thereof, and (3) that the activity does not contravene the laws of the city, state, or nation, the published rules, regulations, and orders of the university or the duly established college authorities.

Section 16.5 COLLEGE ASSOCIATION. The college association shall have responsibility for the supervision and review of college student activity fee supported budgets. All budgets of college student activity fees, except where earmarked by the board to be allocated by another body, should be developed and allocated by a college association budget committee and recommended to the college association for review by the college association prior to expenditure. The college association shall review student activity fee, including student government fee allocations and expenditures only for conformance with the expenditure categories defined in section 16.2 of this article and the college association shall disapprove any allocation or expenditure it finds does not so conform.

b. A college association shall be considered approved for purposes of this article if it consists of at least eleven (11) members, its governing documents are approved by the college president and the following requirements are met:
1. The governing board of the college association is composed of at least one more student member than the combined total of faculty and administrative members and its chair is elected by and from the membership.
2. There are an equal number of faculty and administrative members.
3. The administrative members are appointed by the college president.

* Implementation of these bylaws is deferred until the issuance of a decision in the proceeding pending in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, or until such later time as the order of the Supreme Court or a Court of Appellate Jurisdiction shall provide.
other elected students and the student seats are allocated on a basis which will provide representation to each government, where more than one exists, as nearly as practicable, in proportion to the student enrollment by headcount from the respective constituencies.

5. The auxiliary enterprise board structure provides for a budget and contract committee composed of a combined total of faculty and administrative members that is one more than the number of student members. The budget and contract committee shall be empowered to develop all contract and budget allocations subject to the review and approval of the auxiliary enterprise board.

6. The governing documents of the auxiliary enterprise board have been reviewed by the board's general counsel and approved by the board.

Section 16.11 THE REVIEW AUTHORITY OF COLLEGE PRESIDENTS OVER STUDENT ACTIVITY FEE ALLOCATING BODIES AND AUXILIARY ENTERPRISE BOARDS. a. The president of the college shall have the authority to disapprove any student activity fee, including student government fee, or auxiliary enterprise allocation or expenditure, which in his or her opinion contravenes the laws of the city, state, or nation or any bylaw or policy of the university or any policy, regulation, or order of the college. If the college president chooses to disapprove an allocation or expenditure, he or she shall consult with the general counsel and vice chancellor for legal affairs and thereafter communicate his/her decision to the allocating body or auxiliary enterprise board.

b. The president of the college shall have the authority to suspend and send back for further review any student activity fee, including student government fee, allocation or expenditure which in his or her opinion is not within the expenditure categories defined in section 16.2 of this article. The college association shall, within ten (10) days of receiving a proposed allocation or expenditure for further review, study it and make a recommendation to the president with respect to it. The college president shall thereafter consider the recommendation, shall consult with the general counsel and vice chancellor for legal affairs, and thereafter communicate his/her final decision to the allocating body as to whether the allocation or expenditure is disapproved.

c. The chancellor or his designee shall have the same review authority with respect to university student activity fees that the college president has with respect to college student activity fees.

d. All disapprovals exercised under this section shall be filed with the general counsel and vice-chancellor for legal affairs.

e. Recipients of extramural student activity fees shall present an annual report to the chancellor for the appropriate board committee detailing the activities, benefits and finances of the extramural body as they pertain to the colleges where students are paying an extramural fee.

Section 16.12 REFERENDA. A referendum proposing changes in the student activity fee shall be initiated by a petition of at least ten (10) percent of the appropriate student body and voted upon in conjunction with student government elections.

a. Where a referendum seeks to earmark student activity fees for a specific purpose or organization without changing the total student activity fee, the results of the referendum shall be sent to the college association for implementation.

b. Where a referendum seeks to earmark student activity fees for a specific purpose or organization by changing the total student activity fee, the results of such referendum shall be sent to the board by the president of the college together with his/her recommendation.

c. At the initiation of a petition of at least ten (10) percent of the appropriate student body, the college president may schedule a student referendum at a convenient time other than in conjunction with student government elections.

d. Where the referendum seeks to affect the use or amount of student activity fees in the college purposes fund, the results of the referendum shall be sent to the board by the college president together with his/her recommendation.

Section 16.13 DISCLOSURE. a. The college president shall be responsible for the full disclosure to each of the student governments of the college of all financial information with respect to student activities fees.

b. The student governments shall be responsible for the full disclosure to their constituents of all financial information with respect to student government fees.

c. The student activity fee allocating bodies shall be responsible for the full disclosure of all financial information to its membership, to the college and to the student governments with respect to all of its activities.

d. The auxiliary enterprise board shall be responsible for the full disclosure of all financial information to its membership, to the college and to the student governments with respect to auxiliary enterprises.

e. For purposes of the foregoing paragraphs, full disclosure shall mean the presentation each semester of written financial statements which shall include, but need not be limited to, the source of all fee income by constituency, income from other sources creditable to student activity fee accounts, disbursements, transfers, past reserves, surplus accounts, contingency and stabilization funds. Certified independent audits performed by a public auditing firm shall be conducted at least once each year.

Section 16.14. STIPENDS. The payment of stipends to student leaders is permitted only within those time limits and amounts authorized by the board.

HUNTER COLLEGE
CAMPUS SAFETY AND SECURITY
FIRE SAFETY PLAN FOR THE DISABLED (INTERIM PLAN)

This Fire Safety Plan for The Disabled is established to provide for the safety of the disabled members of the Hunter College community and disabled visitors to the College in the event of a fire or other life-threatening emergency. The plan will be implemented in any situation in which there may be a need to relocate disabled persons to a safe location.

The Fire Safety Plan for the Disabled identifies the New York City Fire Department as the agency having the primary responsibility for relocating any disabled person from an endangered floor to a safe location. However, if the Fire Department or other New York City emergency agency response is not exercised in a timely fashion, and the situation requires immediate removal of disabled persons, College Safety and Security Personnel will transport such individual or individuals to a safe location.

The Fire Safety Plan for the Disabled is a part of the Hunter College Fire Safety Plan. All faculty, staff and students are advised to read and be fully familiar with the entire Fire Safety Plan.

Instructions

A. If you see a fire, do the following:
1. Call the Fire Department (911), or
2. Call the security emergency number 772-4444, or
3. Pull the fire alarm
4. Then, follow the procedures below

B. Procedures for the Disabled

1. During an emergency, the entire floor may or may not need to be evacuated. In either case, when you hear the emergency alarm, assemble near any exit door near the elevators.
2. Do not enter the stairwell. Do not use an elevator unless directed by the fire department or Hunter's Emergency Response Team.

Relocation Procedures for the Disabled

If it is necessary to evacuate the entire floor, a member of the Fire Department or Hunter's Emergency Response Team will search the entire floor to locate disabled persons. The emergency personnel will remove you to a safe location by elevator or stairwell. A notice containing these procedures shall be placed on each floor.

Hunter North — Special Instructions

1. In Hunter North, go to the area near the Fire Tower. The entrance to the Fire Tower is located at the north end of the west corridor (the corridor parallel to Park Avenue). A diagram of the fire tower location is provided at the end of this section.
2. Do not enter the Fire Tower stairwell unless the major portion of the college community has completed its descent.

Other Precautions

1. Remain calm. Your safety and the security of others depend on the absence of panic.
2. Before entering any stairwell, touch the door leading into the stairwell. If the door is warm or hot, do not open or enter the stairwell. Proceed to the next stairwell.
3. If you cannot reach a stairwell near an elevator, and you are in an office or classroom and have access to a phone, call Security at 772-4444. Disabled persons and persons who are trapped are the only persons who should call Security during a fire emergency.
4. If you are in an area with a door and cannot reach an exit near the elevators, seal the crack around the door with rags or clothing.
5. Campus Safety and Security has a chart indicating all the special rooms in the library designed for use by the disabled. These rooms will be checked during a fire emergency.

What Emergency Personnel Will Do

1. The Emergency Response Team member who searches the floor will report your location to the Fire Command Station. The Fire Command Station will inform the Fire Department of your location.
2. If you are in need of relocation and the Fire Department is not available to relocate you, a member of Campus Safety and Security Personnel will relocate you to a safe location.
3. If necessary, you will be relocated to a safe floor or taken out of the building.
Training and Orientation

A. Training
Personnel in the College Safety and Security Department are trained in the proper methods for safe lifting and carrying of disabled persons. (See Assembling and Relocation Procedures, below.)

B. Orientation
1. Orientation to the Fire Safety Plan, including the relocation procedures, will be provided for disabled faculty, students and staff yearly under the auspices of the 504 Committee.
2. Orientation for new disabled students will be included in the orientation program for entering freshmen.
3. Instructions regarding the Fire Safety Plan and Relocation Procedures will be included in the regularly conducted fire drills.

Locating Disabled Persons

A. Security maintains class schedules for disabled students and work schedules for disabled faculty and staff. These schedules will be used to assist emergency personnel to locate disabled persons in an emergency.
B. Students are responsible for reporting their class schedules, their work schedules, and schedule changes to the Coordinator for Disabled Student Services (Room E100 - East Building).
C. Disabled faculty and staff are responsible for reporting their work schedules and schedule changes to the Director of Personnel (Room E1502A).

Responsibility for Implementation

The Director of Security is responsible for the implementation of the Fire Safety Plan.

Distribution

The Fire Safety Plan for Disabled Persons will be distributed to all faculty, students and staff who have identified themselves as disabled.

The Fire Safety Plan for the Disabled will be distributed with the Hunter College Fire Safety Plan.

FIRE SAFETY PLAN FOR DISABLED PERSONS

Assembling and Relocation Procedures

When there is a fire alarm in one of the College’s buildings, disabled persons who are unable to walk down steps should assemble at one of the Disabled Persons Fire Emergency Assembly Areas (DPFEAA).

These areas are located on every floor of Hunter's four buildings in the immediate vicinity of each building's elevators. They are near the two stairwells closest to the elevators. The areas are identified by wall signs that identify the area as a Disabled Persons Fire Emergency Assembly Area.

During a fire alarm, fire wardens, fire searchers and security personnel have been directed to communicate the number, the location, and the status of all disabled persons via Fire Warden Phones or through security personnel to Hunter College’s Fire Command Station. The security person at the Fire Command Station will notify members of the New York City Fire Department of the status of all disabled persons in the building as soon as the firefighters arrive on the campus.

No person should ever use an elevator in a fire unless so directed by Fire Department personnel. Using an elevator in a fire is extremely dangerous. The College has been informed by the Fire Department that the use of elevators in a fire has, in many cases, resulted in many unfortunate and unnecessary deaths.

The New York City Fire Department has informed Hunter College that they have the primary responsibility to determine if elevators can be used to transport disabled persons during fire emergencies. Fire Department officials also state that they are responsible for relocating disabled persons to a safe location if such relocation is necessary.

The New York City Fire Department considers transporting disabled persons in an emergency a highly risky procedure. The relocation process may subject disabled persons and other persons to accidents and injuries. However, if it is necessary to relocate disabled persons during an emergency, the Fire Department will handle the relocation of disabled persons, using safe procedures and experienced Fire Department personnel.

If elevators can be used during a fire alarm, the Fire Department considers use of the elevators to be the best method of relocation because it is practical, safe and efficient. This explains the Fire Department’s position of advocating Emergency Assembly Areas for Disabled Persons. (The Fire Department often refers to this type of assembly area as a refuge area.)

When there is a report of a fire alarm in the building (Note: the alarm may be a false alarm or the fire may be in a small section of the building), if disabled persons are not in any danger from the fire or its smoke, the Fire Department does not automatically recommend the relocation of disabled persons. In most cases, the Fire Department would not recommend that such persons be removed from the building. Instead, the Fire Department would recommend that such persons be moved to a safe location within the building.

NOTE: It is extremely important that the Hunter College community understand the procedure of the New York City Fire Department for evacuating a building which is experiencing a fire. Everyone in the building should not automatically be evacuated to the street. Nor should everyone be relocated within the building. This is the policy for ambulatory persons as well as non-ambulatory persons.

If you have any questions regarding the standards used to determine the need for evacuating the buildings, call the Director of Campus Safety and Security, (212) 772-4521.

When Security Personnel Will Relocate Disabled Persons

If, for any reason, a disabled person is in imminent danger because of fire, smoke or other circumstances on campus, and members of the New York City Fire Department are not present to relocate the disabled person, Campus Safety and Security personnel, and other members of the Fire Response Team will assume the responsibility of moving that person to a safe location.

Security personnel operating under the direction of the Fire Command Station, or the Security Supervisor in charge of the emergency, will take command and make immediate arrangements to have the disabled person(s) moved to a safe location. If necessary to carry out this task, the Security Supervisor will ask for assistance from other members of the Fire Response Team as well as from other volunteers.

NOTE: The Security Supervisor in charge of the evacuation process will determine how many persons will be needed to relocate a disabled person. The factors that will be considered when these assignments are made include: • the weight of the disabled person; • the weight of the wheelchair; • the width of the staircase; and • any other factors deemed necessary to successfully carry out these functions without accidents.

When Fire Wardens and Fire Searchers and other members of the Fire Response Team report the status and location of disabled persons who use wheelchairs to the Fire Command Station, they will include the approximate weight of the disabled persons and their wheelchairs. It is requested that Fire Wardens or Fire Searchers remain with disabled persons while they wait at a Disabled Persons Fire Emergency Assembly Area to be relocated.

Procedure For a Disabled Person Who is Blind

If a disabled person who is blind has to be relocated, he or she will be escorted to a safe location by a Security person, a Fire Warden, a Fire Searcher or a member of the Hunter College Fire Response Team if he or she is able to walk down the stairs.

Procedures For a Disabled Person Who is Deaf

A disabled person who is deaf will be contacted by Security personnel, Fire Wardens, or Fire Searchers in their search of all floors. Those disabled persons will be informed of the fire and will be given the same directions as other ambulatory persons—they will be told to leave the floor using the appropriate staircase.

Special Caution on Lifting and Carrying Disabled Persons

Before lifting a disabled person, those doing the lifting will, if possible, ask the disabled person how he or she should be lifted. Disabled persons know better than anyone else how they should be lifted or carried in order to avoid being injured.

The procedures for lifting and carrying disabled persons are derived from instructions prepared under the direction of the Center for Independence of the Disabled New York (CIDNY).

Lifting and Carrying Procedures

For Disabled Persons Who Use Wheelchairs

If you are a disabled person who must be carried to a safe location because you use a wheelchair or are unable to walk downstairs for any reason, and you are endangered by the fire condition, you will be carried to a safe location by Security personnel with the assistance of a member of the Hunter College Fire Response Team.

Whenever possible, a disabled person who uses a wheelchair will be carried downstairs without being removed from his or her wheelchair. In the following procedures, the "Carrier" indicates the person who will assist the disabled person.

Specific Guidelines for Lifting and Carrying Persons in Wheelchairs:

1. Caution: No disabled person is to enter a stairwell or be carried into a stairwell, or down steps, when ambulatory occupants are using that particular stairwell to leave the building. This is a precaution that must be taken to prevent panic and accidents between ambulatory and non-ambulatory persons.

2. The Fire Tower in the North Building has a wide staircase, and, because it is wide, it may be feasible, under some circumstances, to use this staircase to accommodate a disabled person in a wheelchair while ambulatory persons are going down the staircase.

3. The wheelchair wheels will be placed in a locked position before any lifting takes place.

4. If possible, the Carriers will strap the disabled person to the wheelchair. The disabled person should always be facing forward when carried.

5. The Carriers should be located at each side of the wheelchair. The Carriers should also be facing each other and the disabled person in the wheelchair should be between the carriers.

6. The Carriers should grasp each side of the wheelchair at the upper section of the rear frame and the lower section of the front frame. Moving parts or a weak area on the frame should not be used as a handle to lift the wheelchair.

7. The Carriers should bend their knees slightly before lifting a wheelchair and should straighten their knees as they lift it. Carriers should not use their backs for leverage while lifting as they may injure themselves or be the cause of an accident involving the disabled person.
8. The Carriers will coordinate all movements with the Carrier's partner(s). The Carriers should synchronize their one-step-at-a-time movement downstairs. Carriers should not turn their bodies to face forward or cross one leg over the other leg while moving down the staircase.

Lifting and Carrying a Disabled Person
Independent of His/Her Wheelchair

There may be occasions when a disabled person who uses a wheelchair cannot be carried within his or her wheelchair for a variety of reasons. The chair may be too heavy, the staircase may be too narrow, or the Carriers may not be strong enough to carry a person in a chair. If any of these circumstances present themselves, the disabled person will be lifted out of his or her wheelchair and carried in the following manner:

1. The wheels of the wheelchair should be placed in a locked position before lifting the disabled person.
2. The Carriers should be stationed on each side of the wheelchair.
3. If the disabled person is physically able to do so, have that person place his or her arms behind the neck and shoulders of the Carriers before attempting to lift the person.
4. Each Carrier should place one arm around the back of the person to be lifted.

5. Each Carrier should place his or her other arm under the thigh area (close to the knee), of the person to be lifted. Before lifting the person, Carriers should bend their knees. They should not use their backs for leverage. Carriers should not attempt to join hands while lifting or carrying the disabled person.

6. Carriers should descend the stairs using the same method described for carrying a person in a wheelchair (see page 169).

The Hunter College Fire Safety Plan was prepared by Campus Safety and Security with the advice of the New York City Fire Department and other experts. Assistance was also received from the Hunter College 504 Committee.
